

POLAND STAGES HUGE 'WAR REHEARSAL' WITH 50,000 TROOPS AT LITHUANIAN BORDER

Oil Firms Will Fight Seizure in Mexican Courts

INJUNCTION PLAN FOLLOWS ADVICE OF ENVOY DANIELS

Ambassador Confers With Businessmen and British Minister, Calls Expropiation 'Regrettable.'

WORKERS OCCUPY $400,000,000 PLANTS

Army Pledges Cardenas Support; Nation Spontaneously Indorses Move

MEXICO CITY, March 20.—(AP)—American, British and Dutch oil companies announced tonight they will file injunction proceedings against the government's expropriation decree confiscating 400,000,000 worth of foreign-owned oil holdings in Mexico. The court battle will begin as soon as attorneys draw up briefs and decide on what grounds the injunction will be sought. Presumably it will involve the question of constitutionality of the expropriation law.

U. S. Envoy Advises.
(The announcement was made after United States Ambassador Josephus Daniels said that Americans seeking redress must go to the courts. Workers took control of all the companies' offices throughout the country. The newspaper La Prensa said workers "in a burst of enthusiasm" seized several plants in southern Vera Cruz state. Dispatches from Tampico, Puerto Rico, Pozarica and Minatitlan said a mass exodus of British and American oil company employees and their families had begun. They traveled by planes and in third class trains. Some gave their furniture to servants before leaving.

No Intervention.
Daniels said there had been "no proposals" for international arbitration and indicated that the state Department in Washington did not yet consider diplomatic intervention.

"I think that if the companies did accept the court decrees ordering more than $7,000,000 annual wage increases) they would have been taken over," Daniels added.

He said he believed that "the majority of Mexicans will stand by Cardenas (President Lazaro Cardenas) who issued the decree ending over the foreign oil properties."

Daniels called in newspapermen for a day of consultation with American businessmen and the British minister, Owen O'Malley. The latter said he had received specific instructions from the British foreign office, but declined to reveal what they were. Meanwhile, Mexican workers' continued in Page 2, Column 5.

"THE GROOM WAS SHY"

—Alma Sioux Scar-
berry's latest serial,

Starts Today

ON PAGE 14

Mother of President Will Get Medal

NEW YORK, March 20.—(AP) Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, mother of the President, will receive the Albert Einstein medal for humanitarianism at a meeting here April 3.

The announcement, by a committee headed by James W. Gerard, former United States ambassador to Germany, said the award was for Mrs. Roosevelt's work in fostering good will among American people.

SAMUEL B. ADAMS, FORMER JUSTICE OF GEORGIA, DIES

Distinguished Savannah
Citizen, 85, Succumbs
After 65 Years in Law
Practice, Public Service.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 20.—Judge Samuel Barnard Adams, one of Georgia's leading jurists and one of Savannah's most distinguished citizens, died early tonight at the age of 85.

Admitted to the bar at the age of 20, Judge Adams stood foremost in the state in his profession and was known throughout Georgia and the south for his brilliant and unswerving devotion to principle.

His death ended 65 years in the practice of law. He was senior member of the law firm of Adams, Adams, Douglas & Brennen.

Esteem Demonstrated.
Esteem in which Judge Adams was held by the bar was demonstrated in October, 1933, when eminent lawyers from throughout Georgia came to join in paying tribute to him at a dinner given in his honor by the Savannah Bar Association.

His long career of service to his city and state included a period of service on the state supreme court and at the head of the Georgia Bar Association. His influence extended to charitable, educational and political activities.

Judge Adams was the father of Mrs. Cam Dorsey, of Atlanta. Receives LL. D. Degree.
Born in Chatham county September 8, 1853, the son of William B. and Laleah Pratt Adams, he entered the University of Georgia in 1868 when not quite 15 years old. He was graduated with the degree of bachelor of arts in 1872.

Years later, the university conferred a doctor of laws degree upon him. He had graduated there a Phi Beta Kappa, and had served his Alma Mater as a trustee for more than 20 years.

Returning to Savannah in 1872, Continued in Page 6, Column 8.

Roosevelt New Deal Story Will Begin on Wednesday

First Article of the Series To Appear Exclusively in The Constitution; Hoffman Assails the President as Taking Advantage of His Office in Selling the Articles.

First article in the widely heralded series of President Roosevelt's own story of the New Deal will appear exclusively in Georgia in The Constitution Wednesday morning. The announcement that the President was permitting publication of these articles brought criticism from opponents of the administration, including the story below. President Roosevelt has announced that all profits from the writings will be used in the public good. The interest in the articles among the President's friends as well as his opponents makes this series the outstanding newspaper feature of years. Everyone interested in our government and this country cannot afford to miss Roosevelt's own story of his administration to date.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(UP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, who sometimes takes time off from his job as 32d President of the United States to write an article or book, was accused of foisting his literary talents on the public simply by capitalizing on his high office.

Representative Clare E. Hoffman, Republican, Michigan, bitter New Deal critic, in a speech from the house floor, charged that

R. W. EVANS DIES; REALTY EXECUTIVE

Manager Thought Recovering After Operation
Suffers Heart Attack.

Robert Weldon Evans, 50, prominent Atlanta real estate man, died yesterday morning at a private hospital where he was recovering from an appendicitis operation.

Mr. Evans, who for the past 10 years has been salesmanager of J. H. Ewing & Sons, Inc., died following a heart attack. He underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis Tuesday after a sudden attack at his home, 1552 North Decatur road.

Active in business and civic affairs of Atlanta, Mr. Evans had made his home here 25 years. He was a past president of the Atlanta Real Estate Board.

Mr. Evans was born and educated in Gainesville. He married Miss Ida Mae Austin there in 1912.

He soon came to Atlanta to enter business and was a partner in the old firm of Evans & Dodd, active in handling residential property.

He was a member of the board of deacons of the Druid Hills Baptist church, the Druid Hills Golf Club, Greenfield lodge, F. & A. M., and Yaarab Temple and the Shrine patrol.

Mr. Evans leaves his wife; one Continued in Page 2, Column 4.

815 KNOWN DEAD IN BARCELONA RAID

Loyalists' Planes Head Off Resumption of Merciless Attacks on Cities.

BARCELONA, March 20.—(AP)—The known dead from the Insurgents' wholesale air raids on Barcelona reached 815 today as alert government patrol planes headed off resumption of the merciless attacks.

Ruins of bombed building yielded 145 bodies during the day. Previously, 670 dead had been counted from the raids which started Wednesday and kept up for two days and nights.

Rescue workers continued digging day and night for additional bodies. Some estimates placed the dead as high as 1,300. The wounded numbered more than 2,000.

Seaboard Cities Bombed.
Though Barcelona was spared, Insurgent planes bombed the seaboard towns of Tarragona and Reus, about 35 miles down the coast from Barcelona, killing eight persons and wounding 35.

Rescue workers in Barcelona heard faint moans beneath the wreckage of a wrecked building late yesterday. They worked furiously through the night to reach the victim. Today they found him dead.

When the Insurgent bombers failed to appear yesterday Barcelona workers went back to their jobs, but it was estimated 8,000 persons, mostly women and children, still crowded subways and surrounding hills.

In quick succession, two groups of three planes each dumped explosives on Tarragona, a government naval base, and Reus, about four miles inland from the port.

Five Are Killed.
Five were killed and 25 wounded at Tarragona. The other three dead and 10 wounded were counted at Reus. A number of buildings were destroyed in both places.

Twenty-five bombs were dropped last midnight on other small towns near by.

An Insurgent warplane was brought down in flames in an engagement with a government patrol plane off Barcelona.

The patrol ship machine-gunned Continued in Page 3, Column 5.

FOUR MEN, WOMAN ARE HELD AS SPIES BY FRENCH POLICE

Premier Leon Blum Holds
Extraordinary Conference
With Ministers of Defense, Foreign Affairs

CHAUTEMPS ASKS NATIONAL UNION

Yvonne Talbot, 23, Also Known as 'Beautiful Tatiana' Is Under Arrest.

PARIS, March 20.—(AP)—Spy fever struck France today while Premier Leon Blum held an extraordinary Sunday conference with his ministers of defense and foreign affairs.

Four men and a woman known as "Beautiful Tatiana" were arrested on charges of trying to deliver French fortification and mobilization plans for the Italian frontier to a "foreign power."

A German was arrested at La Rochelle and charged with photographing naval works at that port, apparently not in connection with the "Beautiful Tatiana" case.

Blum Holds Conference.
Blum conferred with Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour and Defense Minister Edouard Daladier at his Matignon place office regarding the general European situation.

The new outbreak of spy fever resulted from what police said was the confession of Jean Battide, a 23-year-old French soldier. Battide, they said, admitted offering for sale mobilization plans for the French-Italian border.

This led to the arrest of Marcel Outtry, 25, a member of Battide's regiment who, investigators declared, confessed making copies of the plans while working as secretary for general staff officers.

The police said they found 143 important documents in Outtry's quarters. Piecing together the testimony of the two, police said they were led to arrest a 23-year-old Frenchwoman, Yvonne Talbot, also known as Tatiana Vassiliel—"beautiful Tatiana."

Fourth Man Arrested.
The authorities said she implicated a 30-year-old Persian named Amirian. They declared she had confessed recruiting agents for Amirian whom they described as in the employ of a "foreign power."

The fourth man arrested as a member of the ring, Jean Lombres, 30, was accused of delivering fortification plans to agents of the "foreign" power at Lun.

The German arrested at La Rochelle was identified as Erich Otto Vent, 57.

Suicide Club Members Commit Hara-Kiri as Chief Dies Naturally

TOKYO, March 20.—(AP)—Chuji Egawa, organizer and president of Japan's suicide club, died today of tuberculosis—but even his natural death troubled Tokyo police.

A beautiful young girl and a man immediately committed suicide and three other members of the bizarre "Let's Die League" were missing.

Miss Chise Emai fled from Egawa's bedside as he breathed his last and slashed her wrists and throat with a tin can top. She was taken to a hospital by relatives but died.

Police found Masuo Aoki, in the white ceremonial robe of hara-kiri, tumbled on his face in a nearby warehouse. He had disembow-eled himself in the traditional Samurai "honor death" of hara-kiri.

The league was organized to "reform" the Nichiren Buddhist sect by acts of violence and self-sacrifice. Members were arrested in July, 1933. Police accused them of planning to kill Japanese leaders and all the priests of the head temple of Nichirenism but released them for lack of evidence.

Five of Egawa's followers caused a sensation February 17, 1937, when they attempted to commit hara-kiri in front of public buildings because of alleged grievances against the government.

They accused it of taking away their religious freedom.

Seeking To Solve Problems of U. S. Railroads

Three Interstate Commerce Commission members have been named by President Roosevelt as a committee to work on immediate legislative action in regard to the critical situation facing the railroads of the country. The are shown above. At left is Walter M. W. Splawn; at right, Charles D. Mahaffie, and (seated) Joseph B. Eastman.

F.D.R. RAIL REMEDY OF 1932 STUDIED FOR MOBILIZATION

Officials Renew Interest in President's 23-Word
Road to Economic Safety

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP) A capsule compounded for the railroad ills five and a half years ago, and laid aside, is being looked upon with renewed interest in the capital.

It was wrapped up in 23 words in mid-September of 1932 by Franklin D. Roosevelt in that vast, egg-shaped building that Brigham Young built for his followers on the shore of the Great Salt Lake. Mr. Roosevelt put it like this:

"Avoid financial excesses; adjust plant to traffic; protect the workers; co-ordinate all carrier service; above all, serve the public reasonably, swiftly and well."

He paused for half a second, then added:

"This is the road to economic safety."

Behind him, the giant pipe organ thundered into "Happy Days Are Here Again." The crowd cheered. Mr. Roosevelt beamed. He had outlined seven specific remedies. They deal with receiverships, motor carriers, competition, consolidations, holding companies, federal financial aid, and wage maintenance.

Some of the things he spoke of Continued in Page 2, Column 4.

Program Calls for Two Million Under Arms Four Months After War.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP) Army and navy officers will study plans here next week, the War Department announced today, to put more than 2,000,000 men under arms within four months of a declaration of war.

Fifty regular, national guard and reserve officers—specialists in personnel procurement—will receive training from March 28 to April 9 for any future "M-Day."

M-Day, in military parlance, is mobilization day.

Planned Since War.
The session will be part of an enlistment program in preparation since the World War and has no direct connection with current international tension, officials said.

In the event of war, the army and national guard expect to have approximately 375,000 men ready, the navy a third as many. The army estimates it would require 1,250,000 recruits in four months, and the navy 500,000 in a like period.

The first 300,000, under existing plans, would be sought as volunteers in the first month, before selective draft machinery like that of 1917-18 was put into operation.

Already prepared for quick submission to congress is a draft of a selective service law, officials have disclosed. Regulations have been drafted, and preparations made to print forms in a few days. Mil-
Continued in Page 3, Column 4.

WARSAW POLICE BATTLE RIOTERS URGING INVASION

435 Arrested During Street Fight in Opposition to Peaceful Settlement of Old Controversy

FLEET IS ORDERED TO GET UP STEAM

100,000 Soldiers Remain at Border Still Ready 'To Exert Pressure.'

LONDON, March 21.—(Monday.)—(UP)—The News-Chronicle said today in a Kaunas,
Lithuania, dispatch the Lithuanian government was expected to resign later in the day.

It said that tiny Lithuania was truculent, the population was downcast, troops were sullen and peasants were furiously demonstrating over the capitulation to Poland.

WARSAW, March 20.—(UP)—Polish troops, tanks and fighting planes along the Polish-Lithuanian border today participated in a huge "war rehearsal" which observers feared was a step toward forcing new concessions from the government of Lithuania.

Fifty thousand of the estimated 100,000 Polish soldiers along the border participated in the maneuvers.

In Warsaw, thousands rioted in the streets, clamoring for "Annexation of Lithuania!" and protesting against Saturday's peaceful settlement of Poland's 48-hour ultimatum to Kaunas.

435 Arrested.
Police, forced to call out fire brigades to break up the demonstrators as they marched on the foreign office, arrested 435 persons. Most of them were Radical Nationalists.

The "war rehearsal" along the so-called "dead frontier," that will be reopened as result of Lithuania's surrender to Poland's ultimatum, was staged near Wilno by troops, motorized cavalry, squadrons of tanks and 50 military planes.

100,000 Troops.
Nearly 100,000 troops remained along the border tonight.

Stress was laid upon Poland's motorized units that could reach the Lithuanian capital of Kaunas in two and a half hours.

The Polish fleet was ordered to steam up the Baltic sea for "normal maneuvers" close to the Lithuanian coast.

Both Poles and Lithuanians admitted tonight, after the first burst of excitement of Lithuania's capitulation, that a peaceful settlement was not yet certain.

Polish troops will remain along the border until after the March

Continued in Page 3, Column 6.

WEATHER

Georgia—Generally fair Monday; Tuesday, increasing clouds followed by rain by night or Wednesday, continued warm.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Weather Bureau records of temperature and rainfall for the 24 hours ending 8 p. m., in the principal cotton-growing areas and elsewhere:

Stations—	High	Low	Precipitation
ATLANTA, clear	76	55	.76
Asheville, clear	75	52	.55
Birmingham, clear	76	56	.20
Boston, clear	78	52	.55
Chicago, clear	70	48	.00
Cincinnati, clear	68	54	.05
Cleveland, clear	62	50	.01
Denver, clear	72	38	.00
Detroit, clear	64	52	.04
El Paso, clear	70	40	.00
Galveston, cloudy	72	64	.00
Jacksonville, pt. cldy.	88	68	.00
Kansas City, clear	78	48	.00
Little Rock, clear	74	48	.00
Los Angeles, pt. cldy.	64	40	.00
Memphis, clear	70	54	.00
Meridian, pt. cldy.	82	58	.08
Miami, pt. cldy.	80	74	.00
Mobile, cloudy	78	64	.03
New Orleans, cloudy	82	70	.00
New York, clear	68	50	.00
Pittsburgh, clear	60	56	.00
Richmond, clear	76	56	.02
St. Louis, clear	74	54	.04
San Antonio, clear	82	52	.00
San Francisco, clear	52	48	.33
Savannah, cloudy	88	64	.00
Tampa, cloudy	86	68	.00
Vicksburg, pt. cldy.	80	64	.00
Washington, pt. cldy	74	54	.03

President Roosevelt's Own Story of the New Deal Starts March 23rd

HIS REMARKABLE STORY WILL APPEAR EXCLUSIVELY IN THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION. IT HAS NEVER BEEN PUBLISHED BEFORE IN ANY NEWSPAPER OR MAGAZINE.

Vienna Nazis Get Revenge on Socialists

New Rulers Seize Veterans of the February, 1934, 'War.'

VIENNA, March 20.—(UP)—Austria's new Nazi rulers, having clamped virtually all the leaders of the fallen Schuschnigg government under "protective" arrest, tonight opened a campaign of revenge against Socialists who played leading roles in the bloody Vienna "war" of February, 1934.

Major Alexander Eifler, Socialist chief of staff in the February civil war in which hundreds were killed and entire blocks of dwellings wiped out by artillery fire, was arrested by Nazi storm troops.

Wife Held, Mate Flee. Frau Marie Deutsch-Kramer, about 45, wife of Julius Deutsch who was commander of the Socialist military formations in 1934, also was arrested. Her husband escaped across the frontier after the collapse of the 1934 Socialist general strike.

Eifler was sentenced to 12 years imprisonment by the Austrian government but was released under a political amnesty decree that preceded Adolf Hitler's seizure of Austria a week ago.

Edward Heink, twice minister of commerce in the old Austrian government, was revealed to be under Nazi arrest tonight.

With his arrest all the non-Nazi members of the last cabinet of Kurt Schuschnigg were brought under Nazi "protective" custody with the exception of Guido Zernatto, Schuschnigg's deputy leader of the Fatherland Front who managed to escape across the Czechoslovakian frontier.

Schuschnigg, under guard at his Belvedere palace home, was reported to have been seen yesterday walking in the palace garden with his 12-year-old son and a woman dressed in green, supposedly Countess Fugger von Babenhofen, whose name has been linked romantically with that of the former chancellor.

Former President Wilhelm Miklas, who surrendered his post to Hitler last Sunday, went to mass at 7 a. m. today with an escort of S. S. Storm Troopers who guard him night and day.

His nine children were permitted to join him and his wife at lunch.

STORY BY F. D. R. STARTS WEDNESDAY

Continued From First Page.

vent those who are engaged in the business of reporting and writing from using their information, and sells his manuscript to a syndicate, for it is said, something like $100,000.

"He uses the presence of reporters to window-dress his remarks, then closes their mouths, stills their pens, and he writes and sells his observations," the Michigan congressman said.

"The President barks at the rich," he continued, "but he bites the poor. He speaks against exorbitant and unholly profit, but he has no scruples about taking from his writings a profit which he never earned, which he receives solely because he holds office as chief executive."

Hoffman facetiously suggested that the senate conduct an investigation to determine how much the White House is worth in advertising value, adding:

"Are we shortly to be advised through full-page advertisements of the brand of cigarettes which the President smokes?"

F. D. R. RAIL REMEDY OF 1932 STUDIED

Officials Renew Interest in President's 'Road to Economic' Safety.

Continued From First Page.

called for legislative attention, there could be achieved through administrative policy changes. Some of the things have been done since; others have been crowded back by the onrush of events.

Money has been loaned to the railroads to pay debts and buy equipment. Motor carriers have been brought under government regulation. Numerous studies have been made of railroad problems and a variety of remedies suggested.

A few of the figures assembled for presentation to Mr. Roosevelt convey a spotted picture. Ninety-six railroads are the hands of receivers or trustees now. Fifty-five were in receivership in 1932. More than three times as much truckage is handled by the 96 than by the 55. But, after paying operating expenses, the railroads had $588,000,000 left in 1937. They had just $326,000,000 left in 1932 to write down as their net income.

Two factors, however, have sharply whetted official interest in recent weeks; both car loadings and railroad employment figures have been sliding.

Public Ownership. High upon the list of proposals that are being studied are suggestions for public ownership and operation, for compulsory consolidation, a co-ordinated federal regulation of all transportation agencies, and the granting of subsidies to the railroads. Which one will emerge is a matter of guesswork. The past opinions of Mr. Roosevelt, however, might be taken as a guide. He would prefer any of the three latter ones, or a combination of the three, to public ownership.

In that connection, he has said: "I do not favor any government action which will relieve railway managements from performing their essential public duty."

"I want the railroads to stand on their own feet, ultimately to reduce their debts instead of increasing them and thereby save not only a great national investment but also the safety of employment of nearly two million American railway workers."

Aid to Problems. His co-ordination of transportation, Joseph B. Eastman, reported a year or so ago, after a lengthy study of the whole problem that public ownership and operation could go farther than any other plan toward solving the known railroad problems, but that it would involve serious financial dangers to the country under present conditions.

Oddly enough, the chief difficulties of the railroads are blamed upon competition by the same agency that it once ousted as the chief mode of transportation in the nation.

In the early days of the railroads, the owners of stock in toll roads were vigorous opponents to the construction of rail lines. The Utica & Schenectady was forced to buy up the shares of an established turnpike at an agreed price before it was granted a charter. And for 11 years, that railroad was forbidden to haul any freight other than the baggage of its passengers.

John H. Roberts, 55, widely known Decatur citizen and employee of the Georgia Department of Revenue in the state capitol, died unexpectedly early yesterday at his home after suffering a heart attack last week.

A native of Meadowview, Va., Mr. Roberts came to Decatur 38 years ago. For more than 30 years, he was a salesman for the John Silvey Company in Atlanta.

He had been associated with State Comptroller W. B. Harrison until recently, when he was transferred to the state revenue office. In all, he had served the state for six years.

He was a member of the First Methodist church in Decatur and active in civic work. His home was at 126 Oakland street, Decatur.

Surviving are his wife; three sons, Sam A. and Frank A. Roberts, both of Decatur, and John H. Roberts Jr., of El Paso, Texas; one daughter, Miss Elizabeth Roberts, of Decatur; one sister, Miss Lida Roberts, of Dallas, Texas; five brothers, W. H. and T. E. Roberts, both of Atlanta, and F. K. C. G. and E. H. Roberts, all of Dallas, and one grandson, John H. Roberts III, of El Paso.

Funeral services will be announced by A. S. Turner.

GABLE'S DOUBLE WEDS. HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 20. (P)—Sidney Ziebel, screen double for Clark Gable, and Elaine Frances Meyers, stage actress, were married here today.

Robert W. Evans Dies of Stroke; Prominent Real Estate Executive daughter, Mary Evans; five sisters, Mrs. C. H. Armstrong, Mrs. Glenn Lyle, Mrs. H. G. Carter, all of Atlanta; Mrs. E. D. Barrett, of College Park, and Mrs. Ivan Phelps, of Indianapolis, Ind.; two brothers, Floyd C. Evans, of Atlanta, and Homer S. Evans, of New York city, and an uncle, Sandy Carter, of Gainesville, Ga.

Continued From First Page.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Spring Hill, conducted by Dr. Louis D. Newton and Dr. John B. Peters. Pallbearers will be Morris Ewing, James Hicks, M. E. Coleman, Charles A. Ewing, Sam Johnson, Paul Maxon, Cliff Carson and Thomas Scott.

Members of the Atlanta Real Estate Board, the Yaarab Patrol and the Joseph C. Greenfield lodge will act as an honorary escort. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

Atlanta Boy Has Genuine Singing Mouse

'Kate' Reigns as Favorite Among Pets of David Satterfield, 6.

A genuine, Grade-A, honest-to-goodness singing mouse that actually sings is one of the proudest possessions of David Satterfield, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Satterfield, 2165 Delano Drive, N. E.

A pet fancier for several years, David thought he was doing rather nicely with three cats, a dog or so and a bantam rooster, but the arrival of Kate made his joy just about complete.

Caught in Trap. It all came about this way: A friend of David's father, quite by accident, caught Kate in wire trap several weeks ago. To all outward appearances Kate was just another mouse. But such was not the case. It soon developed that Kate had definite vocal ability and displayed it on all occasions.

Thinking immediately of David and his love of animals, the friend sent Kate over to the Satterfield home where she has since ruled as the reigning favorite of the household.

Warm Covering. Comfortably housed in a small wire cage plentifully supplied with warm wool covering, Kate eats, sleeps and, above all, sings. There can be no doubt about it. Not that Kate has learned to hum any of the more popular melodies of the day. Nor does she attempt any operatic arias. But she does sing.

The noise, if it may be called a noise, is on the order of what one might expect from a well-trained canary. Again it sounds more like a mocking bird. But by no means does it sound like any one would ordinarily expect from a mouse.

Enjoyed by Family.

David thoroughly enjoys it as does the rest of his family. This also includes the three cats which he reports, frequently are found crouched around the cage. There is some doubt, however, whether they are interested in the music or the prospects of a possible meal.

One other point was left to be cleared up. How did the mouse happen to draw "Kate" as a name. David was a little bashful about revealing its origin.

"Could it possibly be that you named the mouse after Kate Smith?" he was asked.

"Yeah," he grinned, and the mystery was solved. Incidentally, this is believed to set a new all-time record in weight contrasts among vocalists.

FIRMS WILL FIGHT SEIZURE IN MEXICO

Continued From First Page.

representatives held control of the vast properties, including the central oil fields, of foreign-owned oil companies seized Saturday after Cardenas' decree, which climaxed a bitter labor feud between Mexican labor unions and the foreign companies.

Labor leaders and government spokesmen were jubilant at the seizure of the oil properties, in spite of the disastrous effects already evident in the plunge of the peso on foreign exchanges. Many Mexicans telegraphed Cardenas, assuring him of their support.

15 Days to File. Concerning appeal to the courts, Daniels said:

"I understand companies have 15 days in which to file under the expropriation law. Their lawyers are consulting as to what is the best course to pursue, and I understand they are going to exhaust all possible legal remedies."

"I heard of no proposals for international arbitration. What should be done after recourse to Mexican law is a matter for the State Department to decide."

Daniels said he was "surprised" at the expropriation decree, adding: "The whole business is very regrettable under every viewpoint."

Labor officials, government groups and army spokesmen telegraphed Cardenas assuring him of "overwhelming support."

The nation arose spontaneously to endorse Cardenas' move, in the face of a threat of financial disaster resulting from the economic dislocation, and the additional threat of a foreign boycott of Mexican oil through refusal to move it in foreign-owned tankers.

Liquor Car Is Caught After 45-Block Chase

A liquor chase that began in Ansley Park at Maddox and Avery drives ended 45 blocks away at the intersection of Highland avenue and Hilliard street, police reported last night. Radio Patrolmen E. E. Hooten and B. H. Samples reported they sighted the liquor car in the early hours yesterday and chased it through a devious route for 45 blocks. The lone occupant jumped from the car as the radio car drew alongside. He escaped. They found 138 gallons of corn whiskey in the car.

David Satterfield, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Satterfield, 2165 Delano drive, N. E., lends an attentive ear as Kate, his singing mouse obliges with an impromptu concert. Kate, at the moment, holds the lead position in David's pet parade.

Reds Jail N. Y. Times Translator, Put Embassy Under Surveillance

MOSCOW, March 20.—(P)—Miss Valentina Snigirevskaya, translator in the Moscow office of the New York Times, today was apparently the newest victim of a roundup of Soviet citizens having contact with foreigners.

As newspapersmen sought unsuccessfully to learn the charges against Miss Snigirevskaya, who was arrested March 8, the United States embassy itself was under the surveillance of secret police.

Plainclothesmen of the secret police, in addition uniformed policemen have been patrolling in front of the embassy for the past few days. They have questioned all Russians leaving the building and some were reported taken into custody.

Miss Snigirevskaya was seized in a night raid on her apartment during the recently ended trial of 21 formerly held Soviet leaders.

She was one of the two translators permitted to serve American and English newspapermen at the trial.

Charges against her could not be learned though Miss Snigirevskaya has been held incommunicado 12 days. Her arrest occurred a few hours after turning over her last courtroom notes to newspapermen in the adjacent press room.

In the absence of any official explanation, some foreigners regarded the arrests as part of a general policy of insulating the Soviet regime from foreign contacts.

Extent of the political purge could be judged by an editorial in the Community party newspaper Pravda which declared 132,000 clerks in Soviet stores had been arrested and tried on charges of embezzlement.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS IN NATION KILL 66

Texas and Michigan Top Toll List With 8 Dead.

By the Associated Press. Automobile traffic accidents brought death to at least 66 persons in the nation during the week end.

Lives lost by states included: Arizona 1, Arkansas 3, California 5, Colorado 1, Connecticut 1, Florida 3, Georgia 1, Idaho 3, Illinois 2, Indiana 2, Iowa 3, Kentucky 2, Maryland 1, Michigan 8, Minnesota 3, Missouri 4, North Carolina 2, Oklahoma 1, Pennsylvania 5, South Carolina 2, Tennessee 2, Texas 8, Wisconsin 3.

Does your laxative make you SICK the STOMACH?

The first thing you want when you're constipated is a good thorough cleaning. That's why you take a laxative. But what if you had to take a rough bitter dose that makes you sick in the stomach?

Taking a laxative can be just as pleasant as eating a piece of delicious chocolate. That's why you take Ex-Lax. Ex-Lax is a gentle, effective laxative. It's safe, it's sure, it's pleasant. It's the only laxative that doesn't make you sick in the stomach.

For over 30 years, Ex-Lax has been America's favorite family laxative. Now it's been Scientifically Improved. It's safe, it's sure, it's pleasant. It's the only laxative that doesn't make you sick in the stomach.

Equally good for children and grownups. 10¢ and 25¢ boxes at your drug store.

EX-LAX THE ORIGINAL CHOCOLATED LAXATIVE

This plan may solve YOUR problem

PROBLEM: You need more life insurance than you feel you can afford at present. But you have reason to expect larger income or less expense in a few years.

SOLUTION: Our lifetime policy with premiums first five years only half the rate thereafter.

PARTICIPATING PREMIUM WAIVER DISABILITY BENEFIT INCLUDED IN POLICIES ISSUED AT THE RATES SHOWN.

This plan will help you to start right now

Consult agent, phone local office or write to the Company

The Prudential Insurance Company of America

EDWARD D. DUFFIELD, President Home Office, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY

Also issued at ages 51 to 60

ANNUAL PREMIUM for $5,000

Age at Issue First 5 Years After 5th Year

20 $45.55 $91.10
21 46.70 93.40
22 47.90 95.80
23 49.05 98.10
24 50.25 100.50
25 51.50 103.00
26 52.75 105.50
27 54.00 108.00
28 55.25 110.50
29 56.50 113.00

30 58.85 117.70
31 60.75 121.50
32 62.75 125.30
33 64.80 129.00
34 67.05 133.10
35 69.40 138.80
36 71.90 143.50
37 74.55 149.10
38 77.35 154.70
39 80.35 160.70

40 85.50 167.00
41 86.95 173.90
42 90.45 180.90
43 94.35 188.70
44 98.55 196.70
45 102.65 205.30
46 107.25 214.50
47 112.05 224.10
48 117.25 234.50
49 122.75 245.50

50 128.00 257.90

MELBA'S FINE FOOD MAKES GOOD HEALTH SPECIAL

All Week—Noon and Night
A Platter of America's Best
Fried Chicken
With Large Southern Corn Fritter
25¢

Fresh Strawberry Shortcake, 5c

EVERY NIGHT
Broiled Western Tenderloin Steak with French Fried Potatoes 25¢

MELBA CAFETERIA
VOLUNTEER BUILDING
CORNER LUCKIE AND FORSYTH STS.

YES--PRICES ARE LOW EVERY DAY IN THE NEW

A&P LOWER PRICE SELF-SERVICE

You don't have to wait until the week-end to do your food shopping now... Our prices are SALE PRICES every day. Listed below are only a few of the values that you will find in these stores... Shop to SAVE this NEW A&P LOWER PRICE WAY TODAY!

FOOD MARKETS

114 CLAIRMONT AVE., DECATUR
851 GORDON ST., S. W.

Corned Beef HASH 2 16-OZ. CANS 25¢
Armour's

Pineapple DEL MONTE NO. 2 CAN 15¢
Sliced or Crushed

Chocolate SYRUP 3 16-OZ. CANS 25¢
Hershey's

Snap Beans LB. 6¢

Potatoes 5 LBS. 9¢

BANANAS GOLDEN RIFE DOZ. 19¢
LARGE SIZE

GRAPEFRUIT FLORIDA 3 FOR 10¢

The above prices effective Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, March 21, 22, 23, only.

Jewel 1-LB. 10¢ 4-LB. 39¢ 8-LB. 78¢
CTN.

Evap. Milk WHITE HOUSE 4 TALL CANS 25¢

Wheaties GOLD MEDAL PKG. 10¢

Rinso 2 MED. PKGS. 15¢ LARGE PKG. 20¢

Paper Napkins 80 PKG. OF 5¢

Corn Flakes SUNNYFIELD 8-OZ. PKG. 5¢

Peaches IONA DESSERT HALVES 2 NO. 2 1/2 CANS 27¢

Peaches DEL MONTE SLICED OR HALVES NO. 2 1/2 CAN 16¢

Crab Meat JAPANESE CAN 25¢

Dried Beef ARMOUR'S SLICED 5-OZ. JAR 19¢

'Junket' Rennet MIX 2 PKGS. 15¢

Apple Jelly WHITE HOUSE 2-LB. GLASS 19¢

P & G Soap 3 GIANT BARS 10¢

Pacific TOILET TISSUE 3 ROLLS 10¢

BEEF LIVER LB. 19¢

BEEF STEW LB. 17¢

SAUSAGE LB. 17¢

Fancy Quality. Center Slices. HAMS LB. 35¢

Meat prices effective Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, March 21, 22, 23, only.

A&P

FOOD STORES

A&P LOWER PRICE FOOD MARKETS

SAUCE 4 NO. 2 CANS 25¢

N. Y. State Cheese LB. 23¢

Pure Lard 5-LB. CTN. 22¢

Wax Paper 40-FOOT ROLL 5¢

Cut Rite Margarine 2 LBS. 35¢

Nucoa 2 LBS. 35¢

Oysters CAN 10¢

Sultana Tuna Fish 2 NO. 1 1/2 CANS 27¢

Evaporated Apples 5-LB. BAG 19¢

Evaporated Peaches 5-LB. BAG 19¢

IONA TOMATO JUICE 2 20-OZ. CANS 15¢

Swift's Jewel Oil 2 PT. CANS 29¢

A&P Matches 6 BOXES 23¢

Scot-Tissue 3 ROLLS 20¢

Aluminum Cleaner Brillo 2 PKGS. 15¢

Nectar or Pekov Tea 1/4-LB. PKG. 15¢

IONA Cocoa 5-LB. CAN 14¢

A&P Fresh Prunes NO. 2 1/2 CAN 13¢

FOR CUTS MOROLINE

Large Jar 50¢
Small Jar 10¢

SHOW WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

WPA MAPS FIGHT ON PLAN TO CURB RELIEF SPENDING

Dispute Expected in Open When President Submits Revised Needs.

(Copyright, 1938, by United Press.) WASHINGTON, March 20.—The Works Progress Administration is gearing for a stubborn battle with congress over the latter's insistence on imposing restrictions on relief spending and the White House may be drawn into the fray, it was learned tonight.

The dispute is expected to come into the open next month when President Roosevelt sends up revised estimates on relief needs for the 1939 fiscal year. He asked congress for $1,000,000,000 in his annual budget message but said the figure might be revised to meet changing conditions.

Approval Denied. A few days ago Aubrey Williams, acting Works Progress Administrator, went before a secret session of a house appropriations subcommittee and flatly demanded that Mr. Roosevelt's request be approved without "crippling" restrictions such as the Woodrum amendment which required that his year's relief outlay be spread over the entire year.

He insisted on complete freedom in spending the appropriation, warning that when WPA is unnumbered by time limits it is impossible to meet seasonal fluctuations in unemployment. He added that if the economic slump continues the amount the President will ask probably will not be sufficient to meet the need.

No "Tied Hands." "We will attempt to meet next year's situation with a billion-dollar appropriation provided we are free to spend the money as the need arises," Williams told the committee. "We cannot foresee just what conditions will be, and we can't afford to have our hands tied."

It is understood that Mr. Roosevelt supports Williams and that he may personally intervene in his behalf when congress begins consideration of the relief request.

An economy bloc, headed by

Amos 'n' Andy Begin 11th Air Year Today

HOLLYWOOD, March 20.—(UP)—Freeman F. Gosden and Charles J. Correll, who gave up crooning for comedy when they decided that Bing Crosby had something they would never have—a voice—start their 11th year on the air tomorrow night as the comedy team of Amos 'n' Andy.

Since 1928, Amos (Gosden) and Andy (Correll) have been getting into and out of dilemmas to the delight of a growing audience, now estimated at 40,000,000 listeners a week. Their salary has grown from nothing to $7,500 for five 15-minute broadcasts.

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum, Democrat, Virginia, forced through the restrictive amendment last year after a prolonged fight. The bloc contended that giving the administration carte blanche spending privileges was a surrender of congressional prerogatives.

WPA officials say that the amendment hamstringing their relief program at a time when they needed additional leeway to meet the seasonal winter burden. The trade slump increased the load and congress later voted an extra $250,000,000 to put an additional 750,000 jobs on the rolls. This brings the total outlay for the fiscal year ending next July 1 to $1,750,000,000.

GUNBLAST KILLS DANCING WOMAN

Sheriff Blames Love Affair in Slaying.

BONIFAY, Fla., March 20.—(AP) A shotgun blast into a roadside dance hall north of here killed 20-year-old Delma Lewis last night as she danced with another girl identified by Sheriff Lon F. Brown as Dorothy Gilmore, 19.

The sheriff said the two girls came from Geneva, Ala. He blamed "a love affair" for the slaying. The slayer has not been apprehended, Sheriff Brown said.

The shotgun charge struck Miss Lewis in the left shoulder. The other girl was injured slightly. Miss Lewis died soon after the shooting. Her body was sent to Hartford, Ala.

'Camay really has helped my skin

Grow Lovelier"

SAYS THIS BEAUTIFUL KENTUCKY BRIDE

LOUISVILLE, KY.

"I think I'm very lucky to have hit upon Camay! It really helped my skin look lovelier; that's why I'm going to keep on using it year after year!"

Sincerely,
GIVEN MARGARET SUTHERLAND
(Mrs. Arthur T. Sutherland)
December 10, 1937

LOVELY BRIDES—brides with Camay complexion—know the importance of clear, smooth skin. Like charming Mrs. Sutherland, so many girls say "nothing but Camay" will do for their complexion care.

No other soap has Camay's rich, velvety lather. Its luxurious beauty bubbles search out all grime and dirt, leave even sensitive skin smooth and refreshed!

HE SOAP OF BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

NUTSHELL KNOWLEDGE

Teachers and students will be interested in the packet of six 24-page bound booklets available from our Service Bureau at Washington. The titles are:

1. Correct English
2. The Constitution of the U. S.
3. Favorite Poems
4. Weather and Climate
5. The Letter Writer's Guide
6. Queer Facts of Science

This packet may be ordered by sending the coupon below with 50 cents in coin or money order.

CLIP COUPON HERE

Frederick M. Kerby, Dept. SG-7,
Atlanta Constitution Service Bureau,
1013 Thirteenth Street, Washington, D. C.

Send me the packet of six booklets for students, for which I inclose fifty cents in coin (carefully wrapped), money order, or postage stamps:

Name _____
St. and No. _____
City _____ State _____

I am a reader of The Atlanta Constitution.

Queen of the Uncle Remus Flower Festival

Constitution Staff Photo—Rosen.

A queen among wistaria blossoms is 10-year-old Beverly Dobbs, Washington Seminary student and daughter of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Dobbs and the late John H. Dobbs. The small girl has been chosen to be queen of the Uncle Remus Flower Festival, to be held in the Wren's Nest during May. The festival celebrates its 29th year this spring under the direction of Mrs. Brevard Montgomery. Mrs. A. McD. Wilson is life president of the Uncle Remus Memorial Association, which sponsors the festival.

Army Says 2,500,000 CCC Boys Could Be Soldiers in One Month

Men With No Experience Require Three Times Period for Trainees.

The army figures a youth with six months' Civilian Conservation Corps training could be turned into a pretty good soldier in a month in event of war and general mobilization.

Major E. O. Sandlin, CCC officer on the staff of Major General George Van Horn Moseley, of the fourth corps area, voicing the view yesterday, said it would take men of no military experience three months to attain the standard a CCC-trained youth could reach in one.

General Moseley added succinctly, "Our army and navy can be no stronger than the manpower from which they are recruited and we should realize that that manpower nationally is in rather pathetic condition at the present time."

"We're doing a lot of talking about the next war," said the general, "something I don't believe will come if we properly manage our international affairs. But, in event of any trouble, why should we talk about placing the responsibility for furnishing the manpower on the CCC?"

"That is a responsibility for every able-bodied man between the ages of 18 and 45. In the present discussion involving large expenditures for material things, has anyone heard any discussion about properly providing the human element which is involved?"

Major Sandlin said that since the beginning of the CCC camps in April, 1933, about 2,500,000 youths have received training in the nation. The training in the CCC is punctiliously non-military.

It is advantages, however, Major Sandlin said, in event of war, the youth should enlist in the army would be that they would be in the position of having been taught to obey orders, how to get along with other men in camp, personal sanitation and how to handle themselves in group activities.

The major said that after April 1 this year there would be enrolled in CCC camps throughout the nation about 250,000 youths, some 41,000 in the Fourth Corps Area with 9,180 more who joined in this area serving in the west.

MILLEN ROTARY CHARTER

MILLEN, Ga., March 20.—(AP)—T. T. Molner, of Cuthbert, governor of the Rotary Clubs of Georgia, will deliver the charter to the Millen Rotary Club March 20.

U. S. CHARTS PLANS FOR MOBILIZATION

Continued From First Page.

tary officers in all states have detailed local plans to co-operate on file here.

300,000 Volunteers. Recruiting 300,000 volunteers without delay is the task to which much official attention has been given recently. In April, 1917, only 86,000 volunteers were enrolled, but the army hopes efforts of local patriotic organizations and other agencies would result in attainment of the larger objective.

The conference will be the third of a series of four scheduled for this fiscal year, and will include officers from 14 eastern states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia.

Two conferences already have been conducted this year and the fourth is scheduled at San Francisco, May 2-15.

HALT OF BOMBING IN SPAIN SOUGHT

U. S. Bishops Urge Catholics To Aid Civilians.

NEW YORK, March 20.—(AP)—Sixty-one bishops of the Methodist and Protestant Episcopal churches in 36 states appealed today to the Catholic hierarchy of the United States to "bring the might of your influence to bear on General Francisco Franco" to halt bombing of civilians in Spain.

Their document, described as unique in American ecclesiastical history, was made public in the form of an open letter addressed to "the Catholic clergy of the United States."

The Right Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church, headed the list of signers.

HAZEL FORBES TO WED HARRY RICHMAN, SINGER

PALM SPRINGS, Cal., March 20.—(AP)—Hazel Forbes, former show girl and tooth paste heiress, said today she was engaged to Harry Richman, singer and trans-Atlantic flyer.

She said they would be married "sometime in April—probably in Chicago."

ENTRY BLANK

The Atlanta Constitution's "Plant-to-Prospcr" Competition.

Mr. Walter S. Brown,
State Director of Extension Service,
Athens, Georgia.

I want to enter the 1938 "Plant-to-Prospcr Competition as a contestant for the $3,500 trophies and certificates of honor offered by The Atlanta Constitution.

My name is _____ (Please print)

My address is _____ (Town)

_____ (County)

Enter me as (check division you wish to enter)

Landowner, operating own farm with no tenants or sharecroppers ☐

Farm operator (for tenants and landowners with one or more tenants) ☐

Tenant-sharecropper (for any tenant and sharecropper where no sub-tenants are employed) ☐

The size of my farm is _____ acres, with _____ acres in cultivation.

This entry blank must be filled in by the head of every farm family and sent to Mr. Walter S. Brown, state director of extension service, ATHENS, Georgia, in order for that family to be eligible for awards for following a program of LIVING-AT-HOME, DIVERSIFIED FARMING, SOIL CONSERVATION and HOME IMPROVEMENT.

Signing of this blank involves no obligation on the part of the farm family. It is necessary, however, that everyone competing for the awards send a blank to Mr. Brown.

815 KNOWN DEAD IN BARCELONA RAID

Loyalists' Planes Head Off Resumption of Merciless Attacks on Cities.

Continued From First Page.

The insurgent craft, which was flying above the clouds at 14,700 feet. It fell 37 miles southeast of Barcelona.

REBELS DRIVE AGAINST NEWLY FORMED LINES

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier), March 20.—(AP) Generalissimo Francisco Franco's armies drove against newly formed defense lines in eastern Spain today while his bombing planes from Mallorca showered government seaboard bases with explosives.

The neck of coastal territory linking Catalonia in northeastern Spain with the rest of government Spain had been narrowed down to about 40 miles by Franco's 12-day-old offensive.

REBELS ARE HALTED SOUTHEAST OF ALCANIZ

MADRID, March 20.—(AP)—Government military authorities today reported that rebel forces finally had halted the insurgent war machine southeast of Alcaniz, on the Aragon front of eastern Spain.

The point is about 45 miles from the Mediterranean, the Insurgents' objective, and is the tip of a wide angled wedge Generalissimo Franco's troops have driven in an effort to sever government Spain.

A military communique said heavy day-long fighting engaged the opposing forces, but that the Insurgents failed to take the village of Torrevelilla, their immediate objective.

"Our troops displayed great bravery," the government dispatch said.

BRITAIN PROTESTS BARCELONA RAIDS

LONDON, March 20.—(AP)—Great Britain today joined France in protesting to Spanish Insurgent authorities against the concentrated Insurgent air raids on Barcelona.

Informed sources said the British protest to Insurgent authorities at Salamanca pointed out the attacks were contrary to the principles of international law.

While Britain was formally expressing her "horror" at the raids, thousands of demonstrators marched through London's twisting streets in an organized protest against the Barcelona attacks.

BRITAIN EXPECTED TO REFUSE CZECH AID

5,000 Demand 'Hitler's Chamberlain Must Go; Ask Help for Reds.

LONDON, March 20.—(UP)—Great Britain's cooperative government will announce publicly this week that it cannot guarantee Czechoslovakia against aggression and will refuse to make any other central European commitments, it was understood tonight.

Five thousand persons, demanding that "Hitler's Chamberlain must go!" protested against Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's foreign policy in Trafalgar Square. They asked for the government's resignation, arms for Loyalist Spain and aid for Czechoslovakia.

Britain will refuse to interfere, however, despite increasing belief that Adolf Hitler will push into Hungary next, encircle Czechoslovakia strategically and force Czech concessions without bloodshed, it was reported reliably.

It was understood the cabinet decided in principle not to commit Britain to Czech defense because it felt the Franco-Russian guarantee is already adequate, that British dominions would resent such a pledge, Britain has no vital interests involved and war should be avoided at this time.

With the European situation temporarily eased by Lithuania's acceptance of Poland's ultimatum for diplomatic relations and all eyes turned to Germany, Britain moved to increase garrisons in the Mediterranean, the Near and Far East and the colonies.

Four hundred policemen were on guard when Laborites and Communists demonstrated. Three Communist speakers addressed the Trafalgar crowd. An additional policeman lined the strand when demonstrators marched along Fleet street and finally dissolved peacefully at Bermondsey.

Davison's Basement

We Invite Your Inspection of Our Shoe Repair

High quality materials and beautiful workmanship combine to give you shoe repair value that just can't be beaten. While-U-Wait Service.

Everyday Low Prices!

HALF SOLES 59c
Any shoe

HEEL LIFTS 19c
For women

We also carry the famous O'SULLIVAN soles and heels.

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
Atlanta—affiliated with MACYS, New York

50,000 Poles in 'War Rehearsal'; Fleet Is Ordered To Get Up Steam

435 Arrested During Street Fight in Warsaw Against Peaceful Settlement of Controversy With Lithuania.

Continued From First Page.

31 deadline fixed for resumption of normal diplomatic relations.

Some responsible Lithuanians said there could be no lasting settlement until Wilno (formerly Vilna)—seized by Poland in 1920—was restored.

The troublesome problems that remained included:

1. Guarantees affecting 200,000 Poles in Lithuania, who allegedly have been subjected to oppression and brutality.
2. The status of Wilno.
3. A Polish outlet to the north-eastern Baltic.

Poland's objections to Lithuania's friendship with Russia.

5. "Normalizing" the frontier.

Postal Relations. The latter point—including restoration of railroad telegraph, telephone and postal services—was expected to be solved with comparative ease. Only five miles of railroad track must be laid to connect Warsaw and Kaunas by the roundabout way of Wilno. Postal relations probably will be restored via Konigsberg.

Polish officials said they still were prepared to "exert pressure"—meaning probably a military invasion—if Lithuania showed any reluctance in putting the negotiations through to a speedy conclusion.

They anticipated no trouble, however, in view of the armed force being retained along the border.

Flush With Success.

These statements led some foreign observers to believe that Poland, flush with the success of her warlike ultimatum, might lay down terms too severe for the Kaunas government to accept.

The rightist newspaper Dziennik Narodowy complained bitterly today that Poland obtained virtually nothing by Lithuania's capitulation and that the Warsaw government should have proceeded to force a Polish-Lithuanian union.

This demand was echoed by the extremists who rioted in the streets tonight, demanding military mobilization and a march on Kaunas. The settlement of the 12-year-old dispute, the demonstrators shouted, was humiliating to Poland rather than to Lithuania.

Most of the demonstrators were angry because the settlement did not definitely admit Poland's sovereignty right to Wilno, which was seized by the Polish freebooter, General Lucien Zeligowski, in 1920.

Overpower Police. The demonstrators, including many war veterans, overpowered police and finally were dispersed after fire brigades were called out and played firehose on them.

The demonstrators attempted to march to the foreign office after a meeting in the courtyard of the National University engineered by the "National Radical Movement," an extreme nationalist group including many students.

The disorders followed anti-Jewish terrorism in Warsaw Saturday night that brought sharp warnings from Foreign Minister Josef Beck and other government officials.

At the meeting in the university courtyard, orators condemned the Polish-Lithuanian settlement in fiery speeches and demands were made for an immediate military march on Kaunas.

Other sections of Poland's population appeared, however, to have entered into a spirit of fraternalism with the Lithuanians as result of Saturday's settlement.

Merely First Step. Government quarters pointed out cautiously tonight that the resumption of diplomatic relations must be considered as merely the first step toward "normalizing" Polish-Lithuanian affairs.

Poland, they said, still is prepared to exert pressure if no quick progress is forthcoming in liquidating the long-standing feud.

Lithuanian political quarters displayed a crestfallen attitude, regarding the capitulation to Poland as a "complete surrender" after 18 years of resistance.

Disappointed by Russia.

Lithuania's gloom was deepened by a realization in Kaunas that the developments of the last three days have completely upset the foreign policies pursued by Lithuania for nearly 20 years.

Soviet Russia, it was reported, did not even answer Lithuania's urgent inquiry as to whether the Russians would support her against a Polish invasion and other Baltic states, including Estonia and Latvia, instead of presenting a common front urged Kaunas to surrender to the Polish ultimatum without conditions.

GERMANY OILING PLEBISCITE MACHINERY

BERLIN, March 20.—(AP)—Calm settled over greater Germany today after a feverish week, which saw Austria become a Nazi province.

German officials were occupied in oiling the machinery for the April 10 plebiscite on Austrian-German union and in aligning Austrian interests with those of the Fatherland.

New Aide Named.

It was announced Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler had appointed Wilhelm Keppler, economic adviser and his go-between with the Austrian government in the critical hours before its capitulation, as state secretary for special assignment in the foreign office. As his first task he will act as special commissioner in Austria, representing Dr. Wilhelm Frick, minister of the interior, and Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goerring in the latter's capacity as director of Germany's four-year plan for self-sufficiency.

3 SUSPECTS HELD ON HOLDUP CHARGE

Police Make Arrests After 'Spotting' by Victim.

Several hours after they had reported a robbery to DeKalb county police Saturday night, Earl Tucker, 18, of Glen Iris drive, and J. M. Boyd, of Murray Hill avenue, "spotted" the men whom they said robbed them, and as a result three men were being held on suspicion last night in the DeKalb county jail.

The three are listed as M. F. Barger, 26, of a Vidado way address; Earl W. Gunn, 26, of a Lanier place address, and James H. Tucker, 24, of a Highland avenue address. They were arrested by state highway patrolmen. Officers said a pistol was taken from the youths in the reported robbery. The two youths said the three men forced their car off the road about nine miles from Atlanta on the new Macon highway for the holdup.

CHURCH LEADER DIES

MINNEAPOLIS, March 20.—(AP) Dr. Bert Edward Smith, 57, from 1920 to 1934 superintendent of the adult department of education of the Methodist Episcopal church, with headquarters in Chicago, died today of complications following an operation.

CZECHS CAN RESIST NAZIS, UNIT AVERS

Private Group Asserts Country Is Leading Little Entente Power.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP) Czechoslovakia can offer "staunch resistance" if Germany attempts invasion, the Foreign Policy Association said today.

A report issued by the private research organization added:

"Czechoslovakia's miniature Maginot line of fortifications and devices blocking every main road leading to Germany, coupled with its efficient armament plants—Skoda, Vltkovic and Brno—and trained fighting forces make the republic the leading military power of the Little Entente."

(The Maginot line is the system of heavy fortifications along the German border in France.)

Shape, Location.

On the other hand, the association said the shape and geographical location of Czechoslovakia made difficult the task of defense.

"The capital, Prague, is less than two hours' distance by plane from the frontier," the report said. "With dissatisfied German, Hungarian and Polish minorities ready to help invading armies, Czechoslovakia is in a vulnerable position since it could be pinched in two at its weakest and narrowest points in Moravia and Slovakia."

Although the nation probably could not stand off an attack single-handed, the association said, "Czechs feel that their fighting forces would be able to hold back a possible German offensive until their allies could come to their aid."

"Czechs Would Fight."

Noting that Austria capitulated to the Nazis without armed conflict, the association said:

"If faced with a similar threat, Czechoslovakia would undoubtedly fight. The Czechs and Slovaks are devoted to maintenance of their hard-won independence at all cost."

"Yet their ability to withstand attack will depend on the help given by France and Britain. Both these powers did nothing to prevent the undo the fait accompli in Austria."

COMMANDER ORDERED TO TECH R.O.T. UNIT

Lieutenant Commander Wyatt Craig, now attached to the U. S. S. Arizona, has been ordered to the naval R. O. T. C. unit at Georgia Tech, the change to take place immediately.

He will replace Lieutenant S. F. Oden, of Blackshear, Ga., who has been assigned to the unit here for two years. Captain R. M. Fawell, in command of the Atlanta unit, said here last night the change was "routine" and that it has not been decided definitely where Lieutenant Oden will be sent.

HARTMANN LUGGAGE
Complete line of Commercial Brief Cases, Zipper Ringbinders and Catalogue Cases.
All leather goods initiated in gold free
THE Luggage Shop
80 N. FORSYTH ST.
Next to RIALTO THEATRE

Davison's Basement
Dust-Proof! Moth-Proof! The New 1938 Styled
Odora Drop-Door Closets 2.98
PRESS THE BUTTON—the door slides down!
SLIDE UP THE LOWER PANEL for STORING BLANKETS, BOXES, SHOES, etc.
The greatest improvement ever offered in any storage closet! First Quality!
ODORA-GLIDE CLOSET, new size—big, roomy, deeper than ever. 60x24x22 inches—for safe storage—1.98
IMPERIAL STORAGE CHEST, equipped with patented ODORA-RETAINER. Size 15x20x30 in. 1.39
ODORA-MATIC CLOSET with the new "feather touch" roll up door. Large size, 60x24x22 in. 3.29
● Phone and Mail Orders Filled.
DAVISON-PAXON CO.
Atlanta—affiliated with MACYS, New York

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL, President and Publisher. H. H. TROTTI, V.-Pres. and Business Manager.

Entered at the Post Office at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone WALnut 6565.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Carrier or Mail	1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.
Daily and Sunday	$1.10	$3.25	$6.50
Daily only	25c	75c	1.50
Single Copies	5c	15c	30c

BY MAIL ONLY

1 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
10c	30c	60c	1.10

Mail rates for R. F. D. and small or non-deliverable towns for 1st, 2d and 3d postal zones only, on application.

KELLY-SMITH COMPANY, national representatives, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 8 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hotelling's News Stand, Broadway and Forty-third Street (Times Building corner). Request a copy of The Constitution to be delivered to your room each day when you register at a New York hotel.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not credited to it, and to syndicate the same in all other newspapers published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., MARCH 21, 1938.

RAILROAD CONSOLIDATIONS

That long discussed proposal to unite the nation's railroads into a limited number of highly efficient operating systems, similar to the old Prince Plan, has at last reached the point where something definite is likely to be attempted. Appointment by the President of a committee of three, all members of the Interstate Commerce Commission, to work up factual information for immediate consideration by congress indicates that he feels the financial plight of the carriers has about reached a crisis.

Many rail executives, however, are inclined to doubt this. Coming so soon after rate increases had been granted, the proposal leaves them with the suspicion the plan had taken root in the minds of certain members of the commission even before the rate increases had been approved.

There is a feeling that a reasonable opportunity should be given to determine the results from the increased rates. A general business recovery has been hoped for at once. This, it is thought, when taken in conjunction with less drastic, and voluntary, measures of reorganization, will bring the railroads back to a prosperous condition.

On the other hand, the dyed-in-the-wool amalgamationists, of whom there has never been a scarcity in or out of congress, long since came to the conclusion that no consolidations dependent on voluntary co-operation of rail executives need be expected. A breakdown of the financial structure they see as the only means whereby this could be accomplished. Such a crisis, they feel, has at last been reached.

But even so, the undertaking, if not restricted in its ramifications, is so stupendous it should not be attempted until all other means of reviving the carriers have failed. The nation's whole economic life has been built around the network of railroads. Adoption of measures of too drastic a nature might be fraught with greater danger than the conditions sought to be remedied.

While it is claimed that more than $600,000,000 can be saved in operating costs alone, by consolidations, these savings would be largely at the expense of employees thrown out of work. It is proposed that the federal government assume the burden of caring for them until such time as they can be re-employed.

In any event, lengthy public hearings may be looked for, both before and after consideration of the plan by congress, followed by long-drawn court proceedings. Thousands of legal ramifications necessarily will have to be ironed out. Corporate units, stockholders, labor unions, only to mention a few, will have their days in court. They are more than likely to be long days.

QUOTAS ON COTTON

Fear of a federal dictatorship over agriculture seems to have been dissipated by the balancing by the farmers of the nation on the question of quotas on cotton. With more than 1,000,000 of the 2,000,000 eligibles voting, the returns indicate majorities ranging from five to one to twelve to one in favor of quotas. The American farmer has spoken through a nationwide poll on what he wants to do with his cotton. It was a typically American method of voicing his desire.

More than 8,500 polling places were set up in 18 states from Virginia to California. One vote was allotted to each farmer, whether he was a one-plow planter or the operator of vast acreages. The issue was whether the cotton crop of the United States should be restricted this year to about 11,000,000 bales, which is about 7,746,000 less than the record production of 1937.

The cotton farmer went to the polls pondering two arguments, one by opponents of the quota that a "federal dictatorship" would be created, and the other, by government officials, that the policy was necessary to keep additional surpluses from depressing prices and would, therefore, maintain a "balanced abundance."

The future of the cotton farmer, for this year at least, is up to himself. He can, by compliance with the provisions of the quota program, assure himself of an income that will represent a fair return on his investment and, at the same time, share in federal subsidies and loans.

Or he can, by "chiseling" through excess sales, tend to drive prices downward and deprive himself of the government aid he so long has contended is necessary to the prosperity of the cotton planter under free-for-all conditions.

It is safe to predict there will be comparatively little of the latter activity. The voting on the quotas is assurance enough that the planter will at least give the plan a fair trial.

THE DERENNE LIBRARY

Purchase of the DeRenne Library of Georgiana by the Board of Regents of the University System preserves for the state a collection of material the intangible and sentimental value of which is measureless. Seldom is it that a like opportunity is presented any state and the wisdom of the decision of the regents is self-evident. The $60,000 paid will be returned many times in the years to come.

Georgia's historical background has been long neglected except by a scattered few. It is a rich history, a saga of fortitude against apparently insurmountable odds. The story has never been fully told, yet in the DeRenne library may be found the material from which the pageant of the years will be unfolded. The library will provide rich research material heretofore available only under difficult conditions. It should also greatly strengthen the graduate school at the university, for not only is the collection the most complete of Georgiana in existence, but it also contains much of importance to the south and to the nation, particularly about the era of the War Between the States.

It is significant that the Board of Regents considered the matter of the purchase of such importance that a full attendance was secured to discuss the question. It was the first such attendance in many months and this alone indicates the careful consideration given the matter. There was a possibility the library would be lost to the state if the regents had not approved the purchase agreement drawn by Chancellor S. V. Sanford. This would have meant an incalculable loss to Georgia, one which the regents happily did not permit.

HALF-TRUTHS WORSE THAN LIES

Southerners too often have been confronted, by Americans of other sections, with printed outpourings of the so-called realistic school of authorship, which limns a picture of degeneracy and human delinquency as representative of the entire south. Particularly has there been reference to Erskine Caldwell with his "Tobacco Road," "God's Little Acre" and his latest effusion, "You Have Seen Their Faces;" to William Faulkner and his "Sanctuary;" to others of like ilk but less circulation.

The picture they present to readers of America and other lands is well known. Referring now, for convenience and conciseness, to "You Have Seen Their Faces," it must be admitted that some things the author says are true, although the truth has been written before of things that need correction. However, the complete picture has not been drawn. To do so would detract from the story Caldwell has to sell. Those conditions he draws accurately are well known, and far more able men have been working for their correction. From the inaccuracies, or distorted presentations, come the impressions which persons in other sections gain through reading the book.

For example, Caldwell states the south is a worn-out agricultural empire. "Cotton," he blandly says, "was king, but it is not king any longer." Yet, farmers of the south have been growing more in quantity and quality each year. Last year the section produced 18,000,000 bales of cotton, the largest crop in history.

Caldwell presents nothing new. He has reworked the old story, embellished it with photographs by Margaret Bourke-White which do not bear out his thesis, and turned it loose again on a defenseless public. The south is again confronted and confounded by half-truths.

To refute such balderdash southerners have but to point to the truth, evident on every side. The south is making greater gains in human rehabilitation, where needed, than any other section. And the south must remember this sensationalist school writes for the marts of the book trade, not as a constructive offering, but for cash. As propaganda against the section it must fall of its own weight.

A broad survey brings to light many out-of-date methods in the nation's schools—like teaching geography from yesterday's atlas.

Anti-New Dealers are quite heartened by the way the TVA row has been going. At no time since its outbreak has it descended to impersonalities.

Vienna invents a new bridge game with five suits, and the first you know Hitler has got over into dummy.

Executive: The subdivision robin who lets a steam shovel do the routine digging.

Swing musicians are taking over old Scottish airs. It can easily lead to some dreadful reprisal like "Tiger Rag" on the bagpipes.

After a German court had let Parson Niemoller down lightly, he was taken into "protective custody," along with Austria.

Editorial of the Day

A NEW WAR DEMON

(From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

One new instrument of war which has not been tested in either of the wars now being fought, but probably will be if there is a war in Europe, is the "flying torpedo." This is suggested by the news that the United States navy is experimenting with a pilotless, radio-controlled plane that could be loaded with explosives and accurately directed toward a military objective. The experiments are being carried out, as secretly as possible, at Mustin Field adjoining the navy yard at Philadelphia, and revived interest in the "flying torpedo" in this country is credited largely to reports of recent European progress in this field.

It may not be true that the Italian air force has developed a fleet of robot-controlled planes, each of which carries a naval torpedo "which could be delivered against the side of a battleship under the radio direction of its 'master mind' cruising in another airplane at a safe distance from the surface vessel's antiaircraft guns." What might be possible in theory might be impossible under the conditions of war and the plane carrying the "master mind" might quickly be brought down or driven away by enemy aircraft, even if it could not be hit by antiaircraft guns.

Another danger threatens large population centers. It would be much easier to direct a pilotless plane to a large city by radio than it would be to hit a battleship. It would be more difficult for defense planes to prevent the aerial torpedo from hitting the larger target. It might do immensely greater damage than was done by the "Big Bertha" that fired projectiles at Paris.

THE CAPITAL PARADE

By JOSEPH ALSOP AND ROBERT KINTNER.

LILIENTHAL AND WILLKIE WASHINGTON, March 20.—The new relations between the government and private business are strangely and wonderfully dramatized in the important Lilienthal-Willkie negotiations in the Tennessee valley.

Mr. David E. Lilienthal's demand, that the Commonwealth & Southern Company simply give the TVA its valley properties at a rock-bottom price, suggests that the government is getting to be a tougher trader every day. But the really astonishing thing about the negotiations is the true nature of the counter-offer by Mr. Wendell L. Willkie. It has been either unknown or unperceived to date that Mr. Willkie wants the TVA to set up a government-owned utilities holding company.

On behalf of Commonwealth & Southern, Mr. Willkie has proposed that the TVA establish an independent, non-profit corporation, with a large capital subscribed from public funds. He has proposed further that the new corporation managed by the TVA should purchase the common stock of the Tennessee Electric Power Company and the Tennessee valley properties of the Alabama and Mississippi Power Companies. Thus the TVA would gain control of all power plants in its area.

REMARKABLE OFFER On its face, this offer may not look so remarkable. Yet it is. All that is suggested is that the new corporation should purchase the Tennessee Electric Power Company stock and the other two companies' properties. Nothing is said of the Tennessee Electric Power Company preferred shares and bonds, of which there are large numbers outstanding.

Thus the net of Mr. Willkie's proposal is that the government should go into the power business, precisely in the manner of a private company, with private bondholders and preferred stockholders interested in the government power enterprises just as they are now interested in Mr. Willkie's enterprises. The government could, of course, buy out all the Tennessee Electric Power Company's privately owned senior securities, but this is not suggested, and, because of expense, seems unlikely to occur.

THE OUTLOOK FOR SUCCESS

Considering the fact that they have been energetically blackguarding one another for the last two years, Mr. Lilienthal and Mr. Willkie have talked turkey in a surprisingly friendly and sensible fashion. Mr. Lilienthal, although he has clung to his original contention that the TVA should not accommodate the Commonwealth & Southern, has listened with some receptiveness to Mr. Willkie's argument for his proposal.

Mr. Willkie's argument is simply that the Tennessee Electric Power Company does business in 70 counties, and 400 separate communities, with 3,599 rural power lines. According to Mr. Willkie, agreeing on a detailed valuation for such an immense and complicated property is a task which might take years.

Mr. Lilienthal is underlaid by the specter raised by Mr. Willkie. His desire is to have no truck with stocks, but to buy all the operating properties at their "legitimate investment value," less depreciation. Mr. Willkie contends that the Commonwealth & Southern should be paid for the properties as going concerns, with the Brandeis valuation theory of "prudent investment," less depreciation, applied in any valuation.

There is still, in fact, a very wide chasm between Mr. Willkie and Mr. Lilienthal, however friendly their talks have been. TVA experts frankly regard the Willkie proposal as a way of making the TVA assume responsibility for any wind and water with which Commonwealth & Southern may have inflated its properties' worth. Mr. Willkie obstinately continues to try to preserve his company's money.

Nevertheless, the outlook for success in the negotiations seems good. There is a smell of peace in the air, and no doubt both Mr. Willkie and Mr. Lilienthal will be willing to climb down a little.

SENATE ON AUCTION BLOCK

The senate of the United States is a purchasable institution. This interesting truism was demonstrated once more on Friday, when the solons voted, 43 to 39, to keep the so-called Wheeler amendment out of the President's beloved executive reorganization bill.

As drawn by the crafty Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, the amendment would have taken back all the great powers granted the President in the bill. Many senators, of course, really believed in the bill, and there were plenty among the 43 anti-amendmentites who did not have to be bought. But the majority that defeated the amendment was bought. There can be no doubt about that.

It was bought by the administration, with the bribes which politicians find most savory and tempting. Some years ago, a senate official got into trouble with a magazine article, opining that he got more than one or two of the solons accepted cash bribes from private parties. In these pure days, it is possible that none of them do, but the nature of bribery is very variable.

In imperial Russia, in the late eighteenth century, imported French furniture most often tempted public officials. On Capitol Hill today, the P's of politics, pap, patronage and projects, have the largest purchasing power.

SURE OF GROUND, BUT

The day before the Wheeler amendment came up on the floor, the opposition had a clear majority of at least three votes for it. The opposition leaders, Senators Wheeler, Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia; Peter G. Gerry, of Rhode Island, and other former anti-court plan men, had conducted a careful poll and they were sure of their ground.

As it happens, however, the reorganization bill is very dear to the President's heart. In the two and a half days of debate, a fantastic auction was in continuous progress. From the White House itself, James Roosevelt telephoned the doubtful, promising all things. Postmaster General James A. Farley was on the wire all day, and, at the administration's request, no fewer than eight state governors and many chairmen of state Democratic committees called their senators to cajole or threaten them. Patronage was prodigally promised the doubters, and, through the WPA, which swung into the pressure battle, projects were liberally used. In the end, enough senators were converted to give the administration its majority.

(Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

SILHOUETTES

By RALPH T. JONES.

Sing to me, darling,
I'm feeling blue,
Sing me a ballad
Of love always true.

Of a cotton field cabin
In old Alabama—
Then I'll be thankful
I'm what—where—I am.

It's True,
I knew Him.

In order to understand the little story to follow, you must remember that, at the time of its occurrence, prize fights and the ring were considered by many people to be the most immoral institutions.

Most states forbade the staging of a championship fight anywhere within their borders and, when the heavyweight champion of the day defended his title against a challenger, it usually was in some unannounced, secret spot. Either the sheriff of the locality was kept in ignorance of the place and time of the fight, or he had been bought off.

This incident of which I write happened at least half a century ago. The reporter who is the central figure of the story, I came to know well in after years. I don't want you to think I'm old enough to remember the story myself.

This man was an authority on the ring. He knew all the prominent fighters, managers and hangers-on of the game in his day. And he had a great pride in that knowledge and his judgment. He believed he could predict the outcome of a coming fight more accurately than any other man.

An Out-of-Town Assignment.

There was a heavyweight championship fight planned. It was to take place near a small, obscure town. The reporter was assigned by his paper to cover it. So he took the train.

On the way to the place he got drunk and became confused over his train connections. Took the wrong train and, on the night of the fight, found himself in a city of a hundred or more miles away from where he should have been.

Telephone and telegraph were not as efficient in those days as they are now. He couldn't contact the place of the fight.

So he called on his old self-confidence—he called it conceit if you will—and decided he was smart enough to know how the fight would come out, what round would see a knockout, and so forth.

With the Aid Of a Pal.

He faked the story. Wrote a description that he felt sure was close enough in facts to the real thing to pass muster. Wired to his pal back in the office at home and told the situation. Then wired his story. There was no other report on the fight in the office to check the facts—so the pal just changed the date to the correct town and let it go.

The funny thing about the story is that the reporter's self-confidence was justified. His story was so close to the final outcome of the fight that no one would have guessed it was faked. But for one thing—

Unknown to the reporter or his pal, the fight was postponed for 24 hours.

So that paper published a full description of the battle before it took place, on the morning prior to the night of the real fight.

That story is a newspaper classic, for any man's record.

Twenty-Five Years Ago Today.

From The Constitution of Friday, March 21, 1913:

"The first real exhibition games of the season will be played at Ponce de Leon park this afternoon between the Boston Nationals and the Atlanta Crackers. The contest will start at 3 o'clock."

And Fifty Years Ago.

From The Constitution of Wednesday, March 21, 1868:

"Some time ago a number of bodies were removed from an old cemetery near the water works. Complaints now come from that region to the effect that the empty graves have never yet been filled up and their yawning mouths present an anything but cheerful appearance to passers-by."

World's Window

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

France Reacts.

NEW YORK—The immense danger of Germany and Italy installing themselves on France's southern border, in the Spanish peninsula, grew suddenly so patent that Leon Blum finally gathered up enough courage to silence the French reaction and French fascism and send some reinforcements to the Loyalist government. Naturally, the opposition screams out its protests, but Blum has acted on the advice of the French general staff, which has for long looked with anxiety on the transformation of Spain into an armed camp in the hands of France's foe, Hitler, who says in his book, "Mein Kampf," that Bible of Nazism, that France is the nation which must be crushed and humiliated and exterminated if the Reich is to attain its place in the sun.

However, the aid in Spain might well come too late. It looks as if the Italian army is driving the Spanish troops back to the sea in such a rapid smashing attack that there is not much chance of making a last stand. On the other hand, 70,000 French soldiers are massed at the border, ready for all eventualities. Will they march in?

If they do, the Italian army of 150,000 is as good as in the bag. To equalize the striking capacity somewhat, Mussolini would have to put in half a million more men to hold 70,000 Frenchmen at bay. In fact, if the French would send in the custom officers at the border, it would suffice to put an end to the Italian conquest of Spain. Germany would still think twice before tackling the Maginot line. The French border is not the Austrian.

Britain Is Decisive Power.

Neither France, nor Germany nor Italy, have the decisive word in the Spanish conflict. The decisive word is in the hands of Britain. If Britain tells France tomorrow: "We undertake to guarantee your border, the French troops now stationed on the Pyrenees will be withdrawn and Italy can go ahead and take whatever she likes."

Mines Are

British-Owned.

Moreover, British big business is vitally interested in Spain. Many of the most important mines now in German and Italian hands, or, rather, exporting their products to Germany and Italy, are British-owned. Those mines are working overtime since Franco seized them, for Germany is laying in huge stocks of antimony and lead and lignite and iron ore. If the Loyalists were victorious those mines would be nationalized, for the nationalization of the mines was the first item on the program of the Spanish government, composed of liberals, democrats, and Catholics, that came to power in February, 1936.

The Loyalists might not want the output of their mines to go to reinforce the German armament campaign. Therewith British investments in the Spanish mines would suffer. Hence, from the British government's point of view it is better that General Franco should be victorious. The whole thing in Spain has been an economic struggle from beginning to end. The slogans raised to rouse the fighters were just camouflage.

GOOD MORNING

By LOUIE D. NEWTON

SAGE OF LIBERTY HALL.

Alexander H. Stephens, affectionately known as the Sage of Liberty Hall, has been honored by his beloved state in the naming of his home, Liberty Hall, and the spacious grounds at Crawfordville, as one of Georgia's state parks. It will be known as the Alexander H. Stephens Memorial State park. The Department of Natural Resources, division of state parks, has issued a very attractive and valuable brochure on the Alexander H. Stephens Memorial State park, and Dr. M. D. Collins is distributing this brochure to the schools of the state for permanent filing in their libraries. I am grateful to have a copy of this valuable brochure.

Stephens was born in a log cabin two miles from the park site, February 11, 1812. Left motherless at birth, and an orphan at 14, he struggled for an education with a success which has long been cited by educators as one of the romances of education in Georgia. At 21, weighing less than 90 pounds, he was graduated from the University of Georgia, unable to pay for his diploma, though the head of his class. After a few months as a school teacher, he studied law in the sheriff's office of Taliaferro county, standing the state bar examination with honors under William H. Crawford.

He was a member of the Georgia house of representatives from 1836 to 1840, the Georgia state senate in 1843, the United States house of representatives, 1843 to 1859. He was vice president of the Confederacy, 1861 to 1865. He was United States senator-elect in 1866, and member of the house of representatives of the United States from 1873 to 1882. He was governor of Georgia at the time of his death, March 18, 1883. Space forbids reference to his illustrious career in all the public offices above mentioned.

His most commanding book is "A Constitutional View of the War Between the States," a book every school boy and girl should read. He sat by Abraham Lincoln in congress. He was admired by Webster and Clay. He was urged to run for the presidency, but declined. As either lawyer, author or statesman, his fame would have endured; but, in Georgia, Stephens is most revered as "one who loved his fellowmen." His home, Liberty Hall, stands in the park named for him at Crawfordville—the shrine of Georgia history. On his monument we read:

"I am afraid of nothing on earth, or above the earth, or under the earth, except to do wrong. The path of duty I shall ever endeavor to travel, fearing no evil and dreading no consequences."

The Pet Tiger Must Be Caged

When It Begins to Devour the Neighbors

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

From a ridiculed and little-noticed beginning a few years ago, the automobile business has grown into a giant that dominates America.

The automobile, more than any other factor, determines our way of life. It provides more jobs than any other agency. It uses most of the world's rubber and most of America's petroleum. It is the biggest user of steel and glass. It consumes great quantities of cotton and hardwood. Every state in the Union contributes something for its manufacture. And in every city and hamlet and crossroads, there are people who get a living by selling it or serving it.

Stop the manufacture of cars tomorrow and millions would be ruined and jobless. It would be a national calamity.

For good or ill, we are chained to this giant and dare not break loose if we could. There is no going back and no way of escape.

Yet something must be done, for the plaything that became a useful servant and a blessing has now become a devouring monster more dreadful than war itself.

One economist, using statistics as tools, can prove that the automobile, by using such vast quantities of material and employing so many people, makes the nation prosperous.

Another, using the same statistics, can prove it a menace to our security.

The World War left the world bankrupt because it consumed all available capital and all the goods that men could produce. It gave employment to everybody, but the product of their labor was wasted.

The automobile, says the second economist, does precisely what war did. It absorbs the product of millions and wastes it. Moreover, it absorbs the surplus earnings of nearly all producers, for every person who can be paying for a car instead of saving his surplus and making it available for investment.

But whether the automobile is an economic asset or liability, it is a scourge more terrible than an army with bayoneted rifles. No saving of time, no convenience, no pleasure is worth the sacrifice of 37,000 lives, or the greater price of 50,000 permanent cripples included in the annual harvest of speed.

It is criminal insanity to allow such slaughter. We must find a way to control the Frankenstein we have made.

(Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution.)

REPRESENTING GEORGIA

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—After a week of spirited debate on the floor, preceded by five weeks of almost continuous hearings before the naval affairs committee, of which he is chairman, Representative Carl Vinson, of Georgia, has set the stage for the passage by the House Monday of the new Vinson naval bill—one of the most important pieces of national defense legislation enacted in the history of the country.

It is a striking tribute to the Georgia member's floor leadership and his comprehensive knowledge of parliamentary procedure that the huge bill, authorizing more than a billion dollars of new naval construction and regarded as one of the most controversial measures of its kind considered by congress in years, has been whipped into final shape with the addition of no more than four minor amendments and all of these accepted by Chairman Vinson himself.

Changes Beaten. Seldom has a piece of legislation of that magnitude passed the gantlet of the house without being riddled with amendments offered from the floor. They were offered by the score against the present bill, ranging in effectiveness all the way to complete nullification of the bill. But one by one they were beaten down, due primarily to the Vinson leadership and his ceaseless vigil on the floor. Only four got through; these by his acquiescence.

As the parliamentary situation stands today, the previous question has been moved and the bill will come up for a final vote the first thing Monday. No further amendments will be in order. Enough votes are assured for its overwhelming passage, which means that the record of only four amendments over the original committee draft will stand.

Georgians who watched the controversial week-long debate from the gallery took a rightful pride in the manner in which the Milledgeville congressman handled himself. Seated at the table of the majority leader, which is usually reserved for committee chairmen having legislation before the house, he remained on the floor constantly, successfully warding off each attack on the bill.

Praise for the manner the Georgia member piloted the bill through was generous from both Republican and Democratic sides of the chamber.

Perfect Defense For Measure Representative Sam Rayburn, of Texas, the Democratic majority leader, had

SENATE MAY VOTE ON COMPTROLLER RETENTION TODAY

House Action Expected on Billion-Dollar Expansion of Navy.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(P)—The senate may vote tomorrow afternoon on the question of giving the country's No. 1 auditor his walking papers.

Senator Byrd, Democrat, Virginia, and a powerful bloc are bent on seeing that the official comptroller general of the United States—stays on the job of scanning the government's books and saying "no," occasionally, to spending projects.

To that end, Byrd wants to amend the administration's government reorganization bill, which would abolish the general accounting office headed by the comptroller general and distribute some of its powers to a new auditor general and the director of the budget.

Illegal Spending Guard. Byrd contends the administration bill would weaken the safeguards against illegal spending, while Senator Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, floor manager of the measure, denies it.

Depending on the point of view, the comptroller general has been pictured variously as the "watchdog of the Treasury" and a "terrier snapping at the heels" of faithful public servants.

Recently Richard N. Elliott, the acting comptroller general, accused the Treasury of failing to operate in accounting matters. Whereupon Secretary Morgenthau said Elliott was "arbitrary and capricious."

25 Amendments. Even after tomorrow's vote, the senate struggle over the reorganization bill will be far from ended. Senator Clark, Democrat, Missouri, has about 25 amendments to offer.

In the house tomorrow, a vote is expected on the administration's $1,000,000,000 bill to expand the navy. Virtually every observ-

Atlanta Men Form New Garden Club

A garden club without petticoats is in the making here, headed by the state director of public health.

Dr. T. F. Abercrombie, who knows a petunia when he sees one and who confesses he likes to putter about with a trowel and a pair of shears, has been elected president of the new Men's Garden Club of Atlanta.

Not everybody can join the club. You must, says Dr. Abercrombie, be a "practical" amateur gardener—which means you must be the kind of man who welcomes an invitation to trim the rose bushes, plant geraniums and water the lawn.

The aims of the petticoatless garden club, as set forth in its constitution, are the promotion of aesthetic appreciation of gardens and cultivation of higher ideals among garden devotees; promotion of higher garden standards; development of the love for growing plants in the hearts of children, and promotion of interest in private and community gardens and parks.

Dr. Abercrombie expects the bill to pass by an emphatic majority.

Other coming events: The senate will hear witnesses representing the United States Chamber of Commerce tomorrow on the question of tax relief for business.

TVA Situation. Demands for an investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority are expected to continue in congress, whether or not President Roosevelt decides to remove TVA Chairman Arthur E. Morgan.

The congressional argument over the reorganization bill was carried on over the Mutual Broadcasting System tonight by Senator Minton, Democrat, Indiana, and Representative Wadsworth, Republican, New York.

Minton defended the accounting and auditing system which the legislation would substitute. "It is the same system that all big business corporations employ," he said.

Wadsworth, urging that the comptroller general be retained, said his office had saved "millions and millions of the taxpayers' money."

UTILITIES HEARINGS SLATED TOMORROW

Rate Cases, Carrier Pleas Top Slate for Public Service Group.

By the Associated Press. Two rate cases and three passenger and express certificate applications by bus companies are scheduled to come before the Georgia public service commission tomorrow.

The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company will answer an application by subscribers in Ben Hill county for an investigation of line mileage rates, while all class "A" and "B" carriers have been summoned by the commission to show cause why uniform, reduced rates on intrastate fertilizer shipments should not be established.

Petitions pending before the board include:

Application by Georgia Stages, Inc., of Albany, for a class "A" certificate to transport passengers, mail, and express between Atlanta and Warm Springs, via Hapeville, Morrow, Jonesboro, and Fayetteville.

Application by the same company for a similar certificate to transport passengers, mail, and express between Pelham and Beachton, via Cairo.

Application by the Georgia Safety Lines, of Atlanta, for a class "A" certificate to transport passengers and express between Atlanta and Talbotton via Fayetteville, Senoia, Woodbury, and Manchester.

Application by A. V. Van B. Calkoen, of Griffin, for a class "B" certificate to transport property between intrastate points.

Application by the Georgia and Florida Railroad for authority to close agencies at Bemiss and Charlottesville.

Application by the Railway Express Agency for authority to close its office at Abba.

Similar application by the Southeastern Express Company to close its agency at Midland.

The public service commission is scheduled to hear petitions April 14 from all railroads operating in Georgia for intrastate rate increases commensurate with those granted recently by the interstate commerce commission.

2 DOOMED TO DIE BAPTIZED AT JAIL

Fellow Prisoners Watch Seder Kidnapers.

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., March 20.—(P)—Two of three doomed kidnapers were baptized today in the fountain at the state penitentiary while fellow prisoners peered curiously from barred windows into the brick-paved courtyard.

Arnett A. Booth, 46, and John Travis, 25, were immersed for sacrament by the Rev. F. W. Sigler, Protestant prison chaplain.

Booth, Travis and Orville Adkins, 25, all of Huntington, will be hanged tomorrow night for the fatal abduction last November of Dr. James I. Seder, 79-year-old retired Huntington dry leader and former missionary.

Prizes, Theater Tickets Offered In Constitution-Loew's Contest

JEANETTE MACDONALD AND NELSON EDDY.

By LILLIE MAY ROBINSON, Contest Editor.

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy are coming to Loew's Grand Friday in a romance of '49, with stream-lined melody of '38. That's "The Girl of the Golden West."

The Constitution and Loew's Grand offer for good memories of pictures and songs, cash prizes in the amounts of $15, $10, $5, $3 and

$2, and in addition, 15 pairs of guest tickets to see "The Girl of the Golden West."

This is the second of five daily contest installments. Fill in the coupon below and hold until you have all five. Then get your answers to the desk of "The Girl of the Golden West" contest editor by 10 o'clock Friday morning. If you would compete for one of the prizes.

HOW TO ENTER THE CONTEST

1. From what moving picture co-starring Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald, was this scene taken?

2. What popular song hit was most important in the picture?

Why? (State in not more than 15 words)

3. Name one other number which was outstanding

BISHOP M'DOWELL DIES IN ALABAMA

Episcopal Church Leader in Mobile Hospital Since Last Saturday.

MOBILE, Ala., March 20.—(P)—The Right Rev. William G. McDowell, of Birmingham, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Alabama, died here today following a week's illness.

The churchman died at 5:45 p. m. Mrs. McDowell was at the bedside. The bishop had been in a hospital here since last Saturday when he was stricken during his annual visit to Mobile churches. His personal physician came here from Birmingham to attend him.

Bishop McDowell was born at Lexington, Va., August 2, 1882. He was educated at Washington & Lee University and the Virginia Theological Seminary. He married Mary Meade Phelps, of Greenville county, Virginia.

He served as rector of Meherrin parish of Emanuel church at Staunton, Va., before coming to Alabama as student pastor at Auburn. In 1922 he became bishop coadjutor of Alabama and in 1928 was elevated to bishop. He was a trustee of the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn.

20,000 FLORIDANS SEE U. S. AIRCRAFT

Seversky Beams Over Bug-Like 'Pea Shooters.'

TAMPA, Fla., March 20.—(P)—A crowd which army officers estimated at 20,000 persons, jammed around the concentration of flying equipment of the second wing, GHQ air forces, stationed here for spring training today, which kept officers and ground crew on the run as guides, hosts and masters of ceremonies.

In Tampa there were 40 planes of all sizes and descriptions, including one "flying fortress" and 18 new "pea shooters" over which Major Alexander de Seversky, their designer, proudly beamed. Seversky flew here in one of the bug-like contraptions yesterday in an three and one-half hours from Washington.

ENGLAND-NEW ZEALAND FLIGHT RECORD IS SET

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, March 20.—(P)—British Flying Officer A. E. Clouston and Victor Ricketts today established a flight record of four days, eight hours and seven minutes from England to New Zealand.

Clouston and Ricketts, newspapermen and amateur flier, lowered by more than half the old mark of 10 days, 21 hours established in 1936 by Miss Jean Batten, New Zealand flyer.

Children To Receive Flag Style Book

The State Department of Education wants the children of Georgia to know how to treat the flags of the United States and the state of Georgia.

It has prepared a 41-page booklet on flag etiquette for distribution this week in public schools. The national flag conference's official code is quoted. Short articles are included describing the flags and telling the origin of the national anthem. Proper uses of shields, bunting and other decorations are set out.

'BRITISH JUSTICE' ASKED FOR SCOTT

Divorced Wife of Lawyer Charged With Air Kidnap Plot Seeks Trial.

NASSAU, Bahamas, March 20.—(P)—Mrs. Harry Clark Boden called today for "British justice" in the case of her divorced husband, Forrester Scott, awaiting resumption tomorrow of his hearing on charges growing out of an alleged attempt to abduct their two daughters by airplane.

"We have always heard about British justice and we are going before a British court for the first time in our lives and we expect to get British justice," the granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Alexis I. du Pont, of Delaware, said in an interview.

Scott, Philadelphia lawyer and big-game hunter, and Stanley Boynton, his aviator friend, have been held in a cell since their arrest last Wednesday but have been permitted to stroll daily in the tropical gardens surrounding the prison.

LAKE SHIP BURNS; DAMAGE IS $500,000

Steamer Plied Between Buffalo and Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, March 20.—(P)—Fire reduced the City of Buffalo, Great Lakes passenger ship owned by the Cleveland & Transit Company, to charred timbers and twisted steel as the veteran boat lay at her docks today.

Captain Ralph Spurrier, of the C. & T. line, estimated damage at $500,000.

For 30 years the ship had plied between Cleveland and Buffalo.

20 SEAMEN RESCUED; CAPTAIN GOES DOWN

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands, March 20.—(P)—Twenty seamen, the crew of the German steamer Claus Boege, which sang in the North sea yesterday after an explosion, were landed here today by the Swedish steamer Sverre Nergaard.

The men whose captain went down with the ship refused to talk about the explosion and went immediately to a German sailors' home where they bolted the door against all callers.

MONEY-BACK GLAND TONIC

Restores Vigorous Health

Glendage is guaranteed to restore your pep, vigor, vitality or we refund every cent. That's how sure we are that we have the best gland remedy known. Thousands of users have proved this to our full satisfaction. Now WITHOUT RISK, you can prove it to yours.

Glendage is the last word in modern science. In convenient tablet form, Glendage contains extracts from the glands of healthy animals and acts as a gland stimulant. The effect is astonishing—almost magical. You feel and look years younger. You return to the full vigor of manhood or womanhood. Your interest in life returns! Vigorous health is necessary for success in all activity today!

Do not confuse Glendage with other so-called gland remedies. It is entirely unlike others — IS A REAL GLAND PRODUCT and carries an UNLIMITED GUARANTEE OF SATISFACTION OR MONEY BACK. You owe it to yourself and family to try this new day gland remedy 30-day treatment, $3, at Jacobs Pharmacy.—(adv.)

MRS. EDMONDSON DIES AFTER ILLNESS

Funeral Services To Be Held Tomorrow for Methodist Church Worker.

Mrs. Ida Bacon Edmondson, 67, widow of Asbury Edmondson, died yesterday at her home, 408 Whiteford avenue, N. E., after an extended illness. She suffered a stroke eight weeks ago.

Widely known in Methodist circles, she was a member of the Epworth Methodist church and a life membership certificate of the Women's Missionary Society was presented to her recently as evidence of 30 years of steady attendance.

Born on a farm in Forsyth county, Mrs. Edmondson was the daughter of the late Dr. Edmund Bacon and the granddaughter of the late Dr. Albert Munroe Ellis, both pioneer settlers in the county. Her mother, Mrs. Laura Ellis Bacon, still is living.

Mrs. Edmondson came to Atlanta 30 years ago. Her husband was engaged in the grocery business.

Surviving, besides her mother, are three sons, Rupert C. Edmondson, Roife Edmondson and Rex Edmondson, all of Atlanta; a daughter, Miss Geneva Edmondson, of Atlanta; three sisters, Mrs. T. W. Passaluniga, of Chicago; Mrs. H. B. Brewer, of Gainesville, Ga., and Mrs. E. C. Stothart, of Jackson, Tenn.; five brothers, Dr. W. T. Bacon, of Booneville, Ark.; George A. Bacon, of Orlando, Fla.; A. H. Bacon, of Birmingham, Ala.; Edmund Bacon, of Doerun, Ga., and Frank A. Bacon, of Crowley, La., and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Epworth Methodist church, with the Rev. Wallace Rogers officiating. Burial will be in West View cemetery under the direction of Harry G. Poole.

2 SISTER NURSES ATTACKED, BEATEN

Brutally Injured During Wild Flower Hunt.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 20.—(P)—Attacked and beaten insensibly, two trained nurses, sisters, were found critically injured on the outskirts of Montgomery today.

Surprised as they looked for wild flowers 50 yards from widely-traveled Vaughn road last yesterday, the sisters lay brutally injured and bleeding throughout the night in a driving rain and thunderstorm.

OGLETHORPE POSITION IS MARKED IN FLORIDA

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 20.—(P)—A monument marking the main battery position of General James Oglethorpe in his unsuccessful siege of St. Augustine in 1740 was dedicated here today.

The coquina shaft, on Anastasia island, was erected by the St. Augustine Historical Society and Institute of Science.

'White Collar' Families Fail On 'Rainy Day'

NEW YORK, March 20.—(P)—How does the typical American family spend its money?

One dollar out of three, said a survey published today, goes for food.

One dollar out of ten goes for clothing.

One dollar out of twenty—for amusement and recreation.

The average American working class or white collar family does not put aside a cent for a rainy day.

Approximately 75 cents out of every dollar spent by American families goes for the three great necessities — food, clothing and shelter.

SOCIALIST RAPS SECRETARY HULL

Thomas Asserts Official's Statement Shows Drift Toward War.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(P)—Norman Thomas, Socialist party chairman, said today that Secretary of State Hull's recent statement of foreign policy furnished "another indication of the administration's drift toward war."

In an open letter to Hull he set forth these questions:

"How can you explain in terms of justice or reason the rigorous enforcement of what you call neutrality against Loyalist Spain, but no enforcement at all of neutrality against the dictators who have wantonly attacked her?"

"Do you mean to tell the American people that it is essential to our dignity, our trade, or the fundamental principles which must be the foundation of international order" to keep our gunboats on the Yangtze where they never should have been, and to invite a repetition of Panay incidents?"

"We do not understand the vehemence of your condemnation of the principle of a referendum before foreign war. Did not your party in 1924 at a convention at which you were an important delegate accept this principle?"

MRS. TRAMMELL BURIED AT AURARIA

Mother of Constitution Employee Was Widow of Pioneer Gold Miner.

AURARIA, March 20.—Mrs. Susan Frances Trammell, mother of J. B. Trammell, for 23 years a member of The Constitution composing room staff, died at her home here last night after more than two weeks' illness.

Mrs. Trammell, the widow of J. M. Trammell, pioneer north Georgia gold miner, who died in 1930, would have celebrated her 79th birthday next Saturday. She had lived more than 65 years in Lumpkin county, where she and her husband observed their 57th wedding anniversary shortly before his death. She was a member of Auraria Baptist church more than a half century.

Surviving Mrs. Trammell, besides the son in Atlanta, are three other sons, Jeff, Elisha and William Trammell, all of Auraria; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Chambers, of East Point, and Mrs. Rosebud Barker, of Auraria; two brothers, J. B. Cannon, of Greenwood, Cal., and J. J. Cannon, of Pendergrass, Ga., and many grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were held at the home this afternoon. Burial was in the Auraria Baptist churchyard.

Bridge-Playing Pastor Points Out Moral Issue

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(P)—Dr. John W. Rustin, pastor of Mount Vernon Methodist Episcopal Church, South, startled some members of his congregation today by announcing that he played bridge.

"You don't have to hide out in the bushes to find out about it, either," he said.

"There is no harm in playing bridge per se. The Moral issue comes when a woman spends all afternoon playing bridge and then rushes home and feeds her husband on canned soup."

Dr. C. A. Constantine DENTIST

NEW LOCATION

58 Peachtree, 2nd Floor, at Auburn Ave.

AUTO LOANS

4% PAID IN SAVINGS

Simple as A-B-C

(A) Free Parking in Forestry Building Garage while you step over to see us in the Volunteer Building.

(B) We appraise your car privately in garage.

(C) In a very few minutes you have the CASH, we pay your parking check and you drive on your way.

PEOPLE'S BANK

LOCALLY OWNED AND OPERATED

WALNUT 9786

Second Floor Volunteer Bldg

AS LITTLE AS $4.17 PER MONTH REPAYS EACH $100

From $20 to $5000 on Automobiles, Your Note, endorsements, P.S. Furniture and other Collateral—Terms extended as long as time

About Cigarette QUALITY—

If you want quality that other cigarettes cannot afford—try Tareytons. You'll get finer, milder tobaccos plus the nicety of the Tareyton Cork Tip.

HERBERT TAREYTON CIGARETTES

"There's something about them you'll like"

Everybody . . . Mother, Dad, Brother, Sister, the guest in your home . . . appreciates the convenience of hot water faucets that never run cold.

You can have an abundance of hot water always on tap, if you heat it the efficient modern way, automatically with Gas. For your automatic gas water heater replaces hot water as fast as you use it . . . and stores it for instant use when needed again.

Why not make this modern gas service your next home improvement? You'll be surprised how little it costs. Take advantage of our special trade-in allowance for your old water heater and let us install an automatic gas water heater today.

For a limited time
$10% OFF FOR YOUR OLD WATER HEATER

Make automatic Gas hot water service
YOUR NEXT HOME IMPROVEMENT

ATLANTA GAS LIGHT COMPANY.

By W. H. Winter President

George Muste Clothing Co.
Established 1879

DEDICATED To FINE LIVING...

this exclusive Atlanta store enters its sixtieth year of serving the South with a deep appreciation of your patronage and with an everlasting pledge of high quality in distinctive apparel.

MUSTE
THE STYLE CENTER OF THE SOUTH

JAPANESE PLANES BOMB SUCHOW-FU, CAPITAL OF HANKOW

Chinese Military Academy at Sin-Tze Destroyed by Nipponese.

SHANGHAI, Monday, March 21.—(UP)—Japanese airplanes today rained bombs on Suchow-fu, key city to the northeastern defenses of China's provisional capital in Hankow, in preparation for an infantry drive on the railway center.

Capture of the city within 72 hours was expected, a Japanese army spokesman said.

"Our vanguard was within 30 miles of Suchow-fu today," he added. "Our artillery was intensively shelling 10,000 Chinese entrenched at the intersection of the Grand canal and the Tsin-pu railway."

Occupation of Suchow-fu, about 100 miles north of Nanking, where the east-west Lung-hai railway crosses the north-south Tsin-pu line, would endanger the whole Chinese defense line south of the Yellow river.

Positions Bombed.

The line follows the Lung-hai westward from Suchow-fu through Kweichow, Kaifeng, Chengchow and Tungkuang to Sian-fu, capital of Shensi province. It is held by about 100,000 first-class Chinese troops plus 200,000 partly trained provincial militiamen.

"Our planes have bombed all the Chinese positions in the Suchow-fu area intensively since Friday," the Japanese army spokesman here said.

"Other squadrons again bombed Lini (in south Shantung province) and forced the Chinese divisions in that area to retreat toward Suchow-fu."

"To the southward our naval planes completed the destruction of the Chinese military academy at Sin-tze, on the northwest shore of Lake Poyang."

Extensive Victories.

Meantime, the Chinese war office in Hankow claimed extensive victories in southern Shansi province north of Tungkuang. The cities of Feng-ling-tu, Jui-cheng and Ping-lu have been recaptured and Japanese batteries on the north bank of the Yellow river, which had been bombarding the Lung-hai line near Tungkuang, were silenced.

At Tsingtao the British-owned Tsingtao Times charged that the pro-Japanese municipal government was seizing its carrier boys and preventing delivery of the newspaper to subscribers. The newspaper accused the Japanese of coercion because of its independent editorial policy.

FUNERAL RITES TODAY FOR J. W. BLAKEMORE

Funeral services for James W. Blakemore 54, who died late Saturday of heart disease while in a barber chair at 507 Ponce de Leon avenue, N. E., will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel of Atwry & Lowndes. The Rev. A. C. Peacock will officiate.

Mr. Blakemore, who lived at 518 St. Charles avenue, N. E., was a salesman for the American Automobile Association at the time of his death. Burial will be in Macon, Ga.

Now Home-Made Merry-Go-Round Is the Joy of Mother

Children Grow Up and Father's Handiwork Becomes a Clothesline.

The merry-go-round in the rear of 835 Lake avenue which once was the joy of all the children in the neighborhood has been broken down into—of all things—a clothesline.

It was made some years ago by George Bielen, a metal worker in the Georgia Railroad roundhouse, to give his two children, Georgia Rose and Wanda, all the comforts of an amusement park without leaving the back yard. And it worked.

Not only the Bielens but their friends and neighbors for blocks around joined in the fun and for months and months a good time was had by all.

Then the Bielen children began growing up and the merry-go-round was used less and less. Soon it was almost entirely deserted. And that is where Mrs. Bielen stepped into the picture.

It seemed a shame to waste such a perfectly good contraption which still was in perfect working order. Then came the inspiration. Why not detach all the swings and use the framework for drying clothes?

This plan also worked. Mrs. Bielen found she could take a basket of damp clothes, stand in one spot and, without moving, hang the whole business by gently tugging to shift the position of the rim. And as far as she knows there's not another clothesline like it in existence.

For that matter, it probably was one of the few homemade merry-go-rounds in existence. And that is where Mr. Bielen steps in. A native of Russia, he first began playing with metals in a blacksmith's shop at the age of 13. Four years later he moved to this country and kept at his trade. Soon there were few things he couldn't do with a hammer, an anvil and a forge.

About 16 years ago he settled in Atlanta and at the present time enjoys the reputation of being just about the best blacksmith in the roundhouse. In addition to the merry-go-round, several lamps, andirons, other odd pieces inside the house also attest his skill.

Richard McDonald, left, and his little cousin, Georgia Rose Bielen, protest in vain as Mrs. Bielen transforms their perfectly good merry-go-round into a clothesline. It was made by Mrs. Bielen's husband, George Bielen, an expert blacksmith, and is located in the rear of their home at 835 Lake avenue. The dog is enjoying his mistress' lollypop and doesn't much care. This is a Constitution photo tip.

New Use Found For Mill Shavings

WASHINGTON, March 20.—There is a market at last for shavings that accumulate around every planer mill, and which usually are free to anyone who will haul them away, according to H. O. Jackson, Washington lumberman.

For several months, Jackson has shipped about two carloads daily, which brought a $500 monthly income, after paying freight charges.

Shipped shavings are being used by manufacturers of brick. During the baking process, particles of shavings, mixed with clay, burn out, leaving a porous block of uniform burning, half as heavy as the all-clay product, and more durable. New bricks are 9 by 4 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches, somewhat larger than the standard size.

Hearst Names Executive Group To Administer Vast Businesses

Committee Described as Part of Publisher's Plan To Perpetuate Enterprises Because "He Is Conscious of Uncertainties of Life."

NEW YORK, March 20.—(AP)—T. J. White, chairman of the executive committee of American Newspapers, Inc., announced tonight that William Randolph Hearst has placed "the burdens of business management and business policy" of his vast organization with an executive committee.

The 75-year-old publisher will continue "as active as ever in editorial matters and in advice on general policy," White said.

He described formation of the committee as part of Hearst's plan for perpetuation of his publishing enterprises because "he is conscious of the uncertainties of life."

White said the committee was directing its primary attention to the publication of newspapers and magazines and would follow "a policy of gradual liquidation as to some of the collateral and unrelated investments" in the organization.

He cited the announcement March 2 of plans to dispose of the bulk of Hearst's $15,000,000 art collection, and disclosed that an organization had also been set up to handle the publisher's extensive real estate holdings.

White's Statement.

"Mr. Hearst, who in his business career has created an institution now employing more than 27,000 people and consisting of 23 newspapers, the American Weekly, and nine magazines in this country, together with three in England, has made provision designed for the perpetuation of this great publishing enterprise."

"Last summer Mr. Hearst decided to place on a more permanent basis a comprehensive plan of management for all of his varied enterprises—newspapers, magazines, art objects, mines, ranches, and real estate."

"Mr. Hearst is 75 years of age. While he is in splendid health and vigor and comes of a long-lived family, he is conscious of the uncertainties of life."

"He therefore decided to place the burdens of business management and business policy on the shoulders of a group of the principal executives who have been associated with him for many years while he will continue as active as ever in editorial matters and in advice on general policy."

"The directors of American Newspapers, Inc., the parent company, last October created an executive committee consisting of T. J. White, H. M. Bittner, general manager of all Hearst newspapers; R. E. Berlin, publisher of all Hearst magazines; J. V. Connolly, executive head of features, wire service and radio; Martin F. Hubert, in charge of real estate; F. E. Hagelberg, general auditor in charge of finances; and W. R. Hearst Jr., publisher of the New York Journal and American and representative of the Hearst family.

Voting Trustee.

"To effectuate these purposes," Mr. Hearst asked his friend of many years standing, the Hon. Clarence J. Shearn, a former justice of the appellate division of the supreme court of the state of New York, to become the voting trustee of his stock in American Newspapers, Inc., the parent and controlling company, under a 10-year voting trust.

"Mr. Hearst and his family continue to retain the beneficial interest in this stock. Judge Shearn has accepted this appointment."

"The board, as a matter of general policy, is directing its primary attention to publication of the newspapers and magazines as the most important activities of the entire enterprise. A policy of gradual liquidation as to some of the collateral and unrelated investments will be followed. Mr. Hearst is in full accord with the handling of his estate."

"A recent announcement was made of the plans to dispose of a portion of the art and antique collection. An organization has also been set up to handle the extensive real estate holdings."

WILKINS RETURNS FROM FLIERS' HUNT

Noted Explorer Heads Home After Dangerous Venture.

NEW YORK, March 20.—(AP)—The bearded explorer, Sir Hubert Wilkins, was headed home tonight after one of the longest, most dangerous, and at the same time most disappointing ventures in his career—the vain Arctic search for six Russian trans-Polar fliers missing since last August 13.

Members of the Explorers' Club, which assisted the Soviet government in directing the rescue hunt, estimated Wilkins flew more than 20,000 miles all north of the Arctic circle, seeking some trace of Sigismund Levaneffsky and his five comrades.

Vilhjalmur Stefansson, president of the club, said the hunt from Canadian and Alaskan bases was abandoned yesterday because experts believed the drifting fliers, if still alive, had drifted across the Arctic ocean toward the Norway or Russian mainland on ice floes.

TWO SUSPECTS HELD IN RIDE-ROB HOLDUP

Third Sought in Robbery of Ben Hill Man on Piedmont Avenue.

Two negroes were in the city jail last night on "suspicion of robbery" while city police sought a third in connection with a ride-rob hold-up of a Ben Hill man early yesterday.

J. M. Patterson, of Ben Hill, said three negroes forced him into a car in front of the state market on Piedmont avenue and put him under several blocks away after relieving him of $16. On strength of his description, police arrested a negro listed as Charlie Adams, 24, of a Decatur street address. Freeman Magby, 23, companion of Adams, also was arrested on suspicion.

Two other negroes were being sought in connection with a hold-up of a 15-year-old boy, Clay Cain, of 1224 West View drive. Cain said two men stopped him at Altoona street and Sells avenue, took $5, his shoes, shirt and coat, and then disappeared after letting the air from his bicycle tires.

Two white youths who became enraged when Walter Berry, of 699 Payne avenue, had only 50 cents, beat him severely early yesterday, he told police last night. They stopped him at North avenue and Marietta street, demanded money and then beat him when he said he had only half a dollar.

J. W. THOMPSON JR. DIES IN 25TH YEAR

Army Lieutenant's Body To Be Taken to Clinton, S. C.

Lieutenant James William Thompson Jr., 24, died at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the post hospital, Fort McPherson, after a short illness. He was a native of Camden, S. C.

The officer, who was graduated in June, 1937, from Presbyterian College, Clinton, S. C., became ill March 3. Physicians were unable to determine the exact nature of his illness and an autopsy may be held this morning, post officers said last night.

Lieutenant Thompson was assigned to Fort McPherson July 18, 1937, on active duty with the 22d infantry. He had been a reserve officer and was assigned for one year.

The body will be taken today to Camden for funeral services and burial. Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Thompson Sr.; two sisters, Mrs. Lawrence Jones and a Mrs. Cautrell, and two brothers, Robert and Edward Thompson, all of Camden.

STANFORD PHYSICIST DIES.

PALO ALTO, Cal., March 20.—(AP)—Professor Perley Ason Ross, 54, Stanford University physicist, died today of a heart attack. He made numerous contributions to X-ray research.

A more thrilling you

Smooth, lovely skin with no blemishes, pimples, blackheads, enlarged pores. Use BOTH Cuticura Soap and Ointment regularly.

CUTICURA SOAP and OINTMENT

GAINESVILLE READY TO WELCOME F. D. R.

Plans to Accommodate Largest Crowds in City's History Completed.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., March 20. A new Gainesville built from the shambles left by a howling black cyclone which swept the city two years ago today completed plans to show its rehabilitation to President Roosevelt Wednesday.

The President, whose last view of the little city was of the tornado-swept wreckage, will traverse the same streets he saw in April, 1936. Instead of the remnants of shattered buildings, he will see new ones. His ride will be a "triumphal parade" to a dedication of a civic center in his honor.

Plans to accommodate the largest crowd in Gainesville's history have been completed here. Edgar Dunlap, chairman of the committee on arrangements, will outline plans for the day's program at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night in a 15-minute address over radio station WSB in Atlanta.

Citizens of Georgia have been urged to join in Gainesville's commemoration of the President's visit and aid following the tornado by Governor Rivers. The state's chief executive has proclaimed Wednesday a public holiday and a day of thanksgiving.

A crowd of more than 50,000 persons is expected to join in the program dedicating the new Civic Center as Roosevelt Square in honor of the President.

Two years ago a dazed populace stood in a drizzling rain late at night and heard President Roosevelt's words of sympathy and encouragement. "I'll do my part in helping you rebuild," he told them then.

And Wednesday, citizens of Gainesville are going to display how, with the aid of federal funds available, they have done their part in rebuilding the shattered city where more than 200 persons were killed in the windstorm.

As a tribute of appreciation for the interest he took in leading a hand to the tornado-stricken Gainesville citizens will unveil a monument of Georgia marble bearing a bronze plaque showing a picture of President Roosevelt.

President Roosevelt is expected to arrive here at 11 o'clock (eastern standard time) Wednesday morning for a stay of an hour and 45 minutes.

He is to speak from 11:55 o'clock until 12:15 o'clock (eastern standard time). He will go on from Gainesville to his Pine Mountain home at Warm Springs for a brief vacation.

Every whistle, bell and siren in Gainesville will sound off as the President steps from his train. A 21-gun salute will be fired by the artillery unit, and the sixth cavalry, United States band, will play "Hail the Chief."

Ceremonies will begin with a parade of 40 automobiles through the downtown area.

Governor Rivers, Congressman B. Frank Welch, Senators Walter F. George, Richard B. Russell Jr. and others will participate in the dedicatory exercises.

Officials of the celebration committee announced yesterday that there would be on duty for the occasion from the sixth United States cavalry at Fort Oglethorpe, 800 deputies and a hundred police from surrounding communities, 300 National Guardsmen and 100 special highway patrolmen.

FREIGHTER HALTED IN 2D OCEAN TRIAL

Engine Trouble Stops 'Azalea City' at Sea.

BOSTON, March 20.—(AP)—A second attempt by the freighter Azalea City to cross the Atlantic on a delayed voyage to Liverpool, ended today when engine trouble developed a short time after she set sail.

The ship, disabled a month ago in stormy seas when she lost her propeller, had undergone repairs in drydock here before leaving last night. She carried 11 passengers, several of whom were on the previous trip.

JEFFERSON B. COKER, RETIRED FARMER, DIES

Jefferson B. Coker, 75-year-old retired farmer, died early yesterday at his home, 330 Colonial drive, Brookhaven, after a long illness.

A native of Cobb county, he came to Brookhaven several years ago. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. M. N. Owens and Mrs. J. F. Henry, both of Brookhaven, and Mrs. W. A. Evans, of Atlanta; two sons, A. C. and G. W. Coker, of Brookhaven, and W. L. Coker, of Kennesaw, Ga.; one sister, Mrs. T. R. Smith, of Montgomery, Ala.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock this morning in the Brookhaven Methodist church, with the Rev. J. E. Cobb and the Rev. E. P. Kendall officiating. Burial will be in the yard of Sandy Springs Baptist church in Cobb county, under the direction of H. M. Patterson & Son.

EX-GEORGIAN FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN CAR

LAFAYETTE, Ga., March 20.—(AP)—Sheriff Shelby said tonight a man identified as Casey F. Fox, 47, of Miami, Fla., formerly of Lafayette, had been found shot to death in an automobile.

Fox was shot through the head. The automobile, according to the sheriff, was parked in a lane which leads from the main highway between Chattahoochee and Atlanta, and Fox's father's home. The father, J. D. Fox, said that as far as he knew, his son had no enemies.

BERENGARIA WITHDRAWN.

LONDON, March 20.—(AP)—The 52,000-ton British passenger liner Berengaria, which suffered three mysterious fires in the last five weeks, was withdrawn from the trans-Atlantic service today by the Cunard-White Star Line.

Recalled to Washington

CAPTAIN JOHN H. TOWERS.

PROMOTION BY U. S. GIVEN JOHN TOWERS

Georgian To Be Assistant Chief of Navy Bureau of Aeronautics.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP) A Georgian with a distinguished career in naval aviation will return to Washington soon for duty as assistant chief of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics.

He is Captain John H. Towers, who in June will exchange his present assignment as commanding officer of the aircraft carrier Saratoga with Captain Albert C. Read, now assistant chief of aeronautics.

Born in Rome.

Captain Towers, who now maintains his home here, was born January 30, 1885, in Rome, Ga., the son of William M. and Mary Norton Towers. Prior to entering the Naval Academy in 1902, he attended the Georgia School of Technology.

On graduation from the academy in 1908, he was assigned to the U. S. S. Kentucky, and on that vessel he made the "round-the-world cruise in 1907-09. He was assigned to the U. S. S. Michigan in 1910 and was ordered to aviation duty in June, 1911.

His career, associates said, is of unusual interest in that it has more or less paralleled the development of the navy since his entrance into the academy.

Summer on Windjammer.

As a midshipman he spent the summer of 1903 aboard the windjammer U. S. S. Hartford, where he was indoctrinated in the ways of wooden ships. Thus his career commenced with the going out of sailing vessels and coincided with the first attempts of the navy to take to the air. He was one of the first three naval officers assigned to aviation duty.

After the World War he applied for and was given duty in connection with a proposed trans-Atlantic flight. He organized and commanded a unit of flying boats known as the "NC" type which in May, 1919, made the first trans-Atlantic flight in the history of the world.

Amusement Calendar Picture and Stage Shows.

CAPITOL—"Love, Honor and Behave," with Wayne Morris, Priscilla Lane, Boris Karloff, Eddie Craven, etc. at 11:30, 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30, 9:30. "Springtime Serenade," on the stage, at 1:30, 4:15, 6:45, and 9:15. Newsreel and short subjects.

Downtown Theaters.

FOX—"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," at 1:24, 3:28, 5:32, 7:36, and 9:00. Newsreel and short subjects.

LOEW'S GRAND—"Merrily We Live," with Constance Bennett, Brian Aherne, Alan Mowbray, etc. at 11:00, 1:05, 3:10, 5:15, 7:20, and 9:25. Newsreel and short subjects.

GEORGIA—"The Invisible Menace," with Boris Karloff, Eddie Craven, Marion Wilson, etc. Newsreel and short subjects.

PARAMOUNT—"Gold Is Where You Find It," with George Brent, Olivia De Havilland, Claude Rains, etc. at 11:10, 1:14, 3:18, 5:22, 7:26, and 9:30. Newsreel and short subjects.

RIALTO—"Penitentiary," with Walter Connolly, Jean Parker, John Howard, etc. at 11:20, 1:20, 3:24, 5:28, 7:42, and 9:46. Newsreel and short subjects.

CAMEO—"Young Dynamite," with George Brent, Olivia De Havilland, Claude Rains, etc. at 11:10, 1:14, 3:18, 5:22, 7:26, and 9:30. Newsreel and short subjects.

CENTER—"Double or Nothing," with Bing Crosby.

Night Spots

ATLANTA BILTMORE—Jimmie Richards and his orchestra playing nightly from 7 p. m. until 1 a. m.

ANSLEY HOTEL—Jack Miles' orchestra playing nightly from 6:30 p. m. until 1 a. m.

Neighborhood Theaters.

ALPHA—"Glory Trail," with Tom Keene.

AMERICAN—"Hopalong Rides Again," with Bill Boyd.

BANKHEAD—"Double or Nothing," with Bing Crosby.

BUCKHEAD—"You're a Sweetheart," with Alice Faye.

CASCADE—"You're a Sweetheart," with Alice Faye.

COLLEGE PARK—"Nothing Sacred," with Carole Lombard.

DE KALB—"Second Honeymoon," with Tyrone Power.

EMPIRE—"The Awful Truth," with Irene Dunne.

FAIRVIEW—"The Awful Truth," with Irene Dunne.

FAIRVIEW—"Mountain Justice," with George Brent, Atlanta Minstrels, on the stage.

HILAN—"Double or Nothing," with Bing Crosby.

KIRKWOOD—"Double or Nothing," with Bing Crosby.

LIBERTY—"Michael O'Halloran," with Katharine Hepburn, etc.

PALACE—"The Awful Truth," with Irene Dunne.

POINCE DE LEON—"Stage Door," with Katharine Hepburn, etc.

TENTH STREET—"True Confession," with Gene Raymond.

WEST END—"The Hurricane," with Dorothy Lamour.

Colored Theaters.

ASHBY—"Dead End," with Humphrey Bogart.

EL—"Dividers," with Wallace Berry.

HARLEM—"Maytime," with Nelson Eddy.

LENOX—"Harlem After Midnight," with all-colored cast.

LINGOLLA—"Double Wedding," with Joan Crawford.

RITZ—"Alcatraz Island," with John Royall.

ROYAL—"Wells Fargo," with Bob Burns.

JUDGE S. B. ADAMS DIES IN SAVANNAH

Succumbs at 85 After Brilliant Law Career of 65 Years.

Continued From First Page.

He read law with his brother, the late Judge A. Pratt Adams, and was admitted to the bar in 1873.

Although Judge Adams never sought public office, he took an active interest in public affairs. In 1903, at the request of Governor Candler, he accepted an interim appointment as justice of the state supreme court. He served about two months until his successor could be elected. He was known always as a staunch Democrat.

He was president of the Georgia Bar Association in 1907.

Actively interested in local affairs, he was city attorney of Savannah several years. He was chairman of the Chatham county board of education from 1907 until his resignation in 1917. He became a member of the board in 1901.

For more than a third of a century he devoted much interest to charitable organizations. He was president of the Savannah Post Society, which operates the women's Bethel, for 36 years, retiring in 1933.

Active in Church.

He was a member of Wesley Monumental Methodist church. He was a veteran member of the Oglethorpe Lodge No. 1 of Odd Fellows and Forest City Lodge No. 1 of the Knights of Pythias. His business affiliations included membership on the board of directors of the Citizens & Southern National Bank, the Bibb Manufacturing Company and the Southwestern railroad.

On December 19, 1877, he married Miss Anne Wynn, of Savannah, who survives him. Other survivors include one son, Pratt Adams, of Savannah; two daughters, Mrs. Dorsey, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Walter Douglas, of Savannah; three sisters, Mrs. Frank Strachan, Miss Florence Adams and Mrs. Charles Fulton, and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements have been completed.

'EDUCATOR' ARRESTED IN ROOSEVELT THREAT

NEW YORK, March 20.—(AP) Lester David O'Dell, 35, styled "educator," was held $5,000 bail today on charges sending annoying and threatening letters to President Roosevelt.

Secret service operatives arrested O'Dell following a series of letters to the White House accusing President Roosevelt of using federal agents to "murder" him.

The defendant, a spectacle-smooth-spoken individual, described by Magistrate Irving B. Cooper as "cunning and violent to the extreme."

D. R. READY TO ASK CHAIRMAN MORGAN TO QUIT TVA POST

Head of Valley Authority
Given Until 1:30 Today
To Prove Charges.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was believed ready tonight to demand resignation of Chairman Arthur Morgan, of the Tennessee Valley Authority, tomorrow if he continues his refusal to submit proof of his charges of malfeasance and lack of faith against his two co-directors.

Angered by Morgan's defiance of his personal fact-finding inquiry, the chief executive has given the silver-haired chairman until 1:30 p. m. (12:30 p. m. Atlantic time) tomorrow to answer "yes" or "no" whether he will prove his statements against David E. Lilienthal and Harcourt A. Morgan.

Mr. Roosevelt told the chairman today at his second conference with the feuding directors, that did not brook his resistance to questioning and that he was guilty of contumacy. Earlier, he had told a trio that they must prove their charges and counter-charges or resign.

No Indication.

There was no indication tonight that Morgan will change his stand. He insists that only a congressional inquiry can get to the real facts of the case. The White House conference does not constitute an investigation.

Belief that Mr. Roosevelt will quickly end the feud is lightened by the fact that he leaves Tuesday for a 10-day vacation at Warm Springs, Ga., and probably will not want to risk admitting the fight to continue, especially in view of urgent congressional demands for an inquiry.

Friends of Chairman Morgan say he will not submit his resignation, even if asked, on the ground that TVA is a congressional creation and that only Congress can remove directors. The president, however, is represented as feeling that since the officials are appointed by him, he has the power to discharge them if they are guilty of wrongdoing.

Similar Situation.

A somewhat similar situation arose in 1933. President Roosevelt demanded the resignation of late William E. Humphrey, Republican member of the Federal Trade Commission, who refused to leave on the grounds that he would be ousted only for specified reasons because of the quasi-judicial character of the agency. Humphrey appealed to the supreme court after he was discharged. The highest tribunal held that President had erred and ordered Humphrey reinstated with back pay.

RELIEF COSTS IN U. S. MOUNT IN JANUARY

Increase of $15,500,000 Over December Is Shown in Survey.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—Public relief costs for the nation in January continued an upward trend which started three months earlier, the Social Security Board reported today.

The January total for federal, state and local governments was $7,000,000, an increase of $15,500,000 over December. The total included the cost of work relief, wage assistance, the CCC, relief payments by the Farm Security Administration, and general relief grants.

America's outlay for personal care—haircuts, hairdressing, cosmetics, soap and toothpaste—is remarkably constant, said the survey, "for all groups and all parts of the country."

The Smiths, the Joneses, the Millers and the Astorblits each spent about $1 out of 50 for this purpose.

For wage-earning families, the heaviest outlay was for haircuts, an expenditure for health was light.

OFFICIALS TO SCAN EUROPE'S PROBLEM

Scandinavian Foreign Ministers
To Meet April 5.

OSLO, Norway, March 20.—(AP)—Scandinavian foreign ministers will meet in Oslo April 5 and 6 to review Europe's troubled relations as they affect the northern nations.

Though an official announcement of the meeting did not indicate what specific problems would be considered, it was believed the issue of Nations' policies would be reviewed.

Observers discounted any possibility of an attempt to form a Scandinavian military alliance since previous Swedish suggestions along that line were turned down definitely by Denmark's premier Thovold Stauning.

ANNETT DENOUNCES LOBBY COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—Frank Gannett, of Rochester, N. Y., chairman of the National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Liberties, charged today that Senate lobby committee was attempting to destroy constitutional liberties.

"Unless it be stopped, and stopped immediately, the American people, the American office, the American citizen will have no protection from the Russian spy, office or citizen when Stalputis his OGPU to work," said Rochester publisher in a statement.

It's 'Great' To Be One of Four Generations

Constitution Staff Photo—Reton.

Great-grandmother holds great-granddaughter. That was the setup yesterday as three-month-old Marilyn Pettit kicked in the lap of Mrs. Nannie Mumford, 1031 McLynn avenue. The baby's mother (left) is Mrs. James Pettit, of Cartersville, Ga., and the grandmother in the picture is Mrs. J. H. McCormack (right), also of Cartersville.

Flour and Ghost Detail of Police Both Undisturbed in Bed Mystery

CHICAGO, March 20.—(AP)—The mysterious visitor John Huber says has been filching garments and disturbing the covers of his bed has apparently departed from Huber's home near suburban Blue Island.

At any rate he reported today that flour he sprinkled around his bed last night in an attempt to get a line on the mystery remained undisturbed, and all was peace in the Huber home.

Huber used the flour at the suggestion of Deputy Sheriff John Carey and Bernard Smuczyski, assigned by the county highway police as a "ghost detail" to help him find out why it was that every time his bed was made up, someone or something would disappear the covers as soon as the room was left vacant. After a couple of days of this sort of thing his daughters, Dorothy, 19, and Loretta, 27, packed up and left.

There was mention of ghosts, and Huber recalled that when workmen dug his basement 10 years ago they uncovered the skeletons of five Indians. He gave them away and thought no more of the skeletons until the blankets began to act so queerly.

Mrs. Huber's father, 85-year-old Gilbert Rutz, wasn't satisfied with the Indian story. Only one ghost, he said, could have been interested in his fur cap which was found yesterday in the hen coop after being missing for three days.

"Maybe," he said, "it was Daniel Boone."

METHODISTS PLAN 'ANTI-UNITY' MEET

Bishop Collins Denny To Speak Tomorrow Night in Wesley Church.

Extensive plans are being made for a meeting of "anti-unification" Methodists to be held at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the Wesley Methodist church, at which Bishop Collins Denny, of Richmond, Va., will be principal speaker.

Dr. James W. Lipscomb, president of the Laymen's Organization for the Preservation of the Southern Methodist Church, announced yesterday that an amplifying system is being installed at the church "so that everyone may hear the bishop's talk." Dr. Lipscomb said also that the "widest possible publicity is being given the meeting."

The bishop, scheduled to speak at the Park Street Methodist church in Atlanta yesterday morning, sent a telegram to friends here that he was suffering with a bad cold. However, he has not postponed his trip and friends said he will no doubt be here in time for the meeting tomorrow night.

In a recent speech at Augusta, Ga., Bishop Denny declared: "When the church wakes up, there is going to be the biggest earthquake that has occurred in the south since reconstruction." He has made several recent speeches in other southern cities in opposition to the proposed unification proposal.

The proposal, designed to unite the three principal branches of Methodism in the United States, will be decided in Birmingham when members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, vote on the question at the general conference, which opens April 28. The Methodist Episcopal Church, North, and the Methodist Protestant church already have voted for the merger and only a favorable vote from the southern church remains to complete the unification.

FORMER PREMIER DIES.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 20.—(AP)—Alexander Malinoff, former premier, died today while being applauded by crowds during a spirited election campaign address.

Whittling on Cap Puts Farmer in Bed

Carl Perrol, 25-year-old Conyers farmer, whittled on a dynamite cap he picked up near his home Saturday. Last night he was in Grady hospital.

Perrol said he "didn't know the thing would go off." But it finally did and took part of his thumb and forefinger with it. Grady physicians described his condition as "fair."

CONFESSED SLAYER OF 5 ELECTROCUTED

Former Patrolman, 74, Assisted to Chair, Dies Sobbing.

BELLEVILLE, Pa., March 21. (Monday) — (AP) — Aged Martin Sullivan, confessed slayer of five persons in a tour of "revenge" at Duquesne, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh, died at 12:35 a. m. (11:35 p. m., Sunday, Atlanta time), today in Pennsylvania's electric chair in Rockview penitentiary.

The 74-year-old former patrolman, according to prison records, was the oldest person ever to be electrocuted in Pennsylvania.

Sullivan died sobbing. He was assisted to the chair by two prison guards, repeating after the Rev. A. M. Habroski, a Catholic litany. He made no statement before he died.

The pudgy former patrolman led a jury over the path he took in killing five neighbors December 17, 1936, who, he said, caused his arrest on a charge of molesting a young girl.

AUTOMOBILE LOANS
PEOPLES
Loan and Savings Co.
36 PEACHTREE
ARCADE

AAA To Begin Aerial Mapping Of Farms in South This Summer

Pilots To Photograph 108,854 Square Miles of Land for Checking in Georgia, Florida and Tennessee;
Contracts Announced.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—Aerial mapping will begin over farming areas of the east and southeast this summer in a new aerial mapping program announced today by the Agriculture Adjustment Administration.

The pilots and photographers will photograph 108,854 square miles of land to check performance under the agriculture conservation program.

Contracts for the aerial mapping, announced by the administration, include:

Tennessee—9,409 miles, Aero Service Corporation, Philadelphia, $34,484, and 3,688 miles, Fairchild Aerial Surveys, Inc., New York, $18,448.

Georgia—4,110 miles, Edgar Tobin Aerial Surveys, San Antonio, Texas, $19,933, and 4,592 miles, Clyde H. Butler, Cleveland, Ohio, $18,359.

Florida and Georgia—2,327 miles, Kargl Aerial Surveys, San Antonio, Texas, $9,005.

Florida and Georgia—2,449 miles, Kargl Aerial Surveys, $9,119.

MRS. ROBERT FROST, WIFE OF POET, DIES

GAINESVILLE, Fla., March 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Robert Frost, of Amherst, Mass., wife of the noted poet, died here today.

Announcement of her death was made by Professor C. P. Lyons, of the University of Florida faculty. The Frosts are wintering in Gainesville.

Dr. John Henry Thomas said death was caused by "acute coronary occlusion." Mrs. Frost suffered a severe heart attack yesterday.

REPUTED 'DEATH TRAP' RAPPED IN RESOLUTION

MACON, Ga., March 20.—(AP)—The Baruch Class of the Vineville Baptist church today adopted a resolution asking city and county officers urge immediate action toward "correcting" road conditions at Seven Bridges where several fatal accidents have occurred.

The stretch of road, branded a "death trap" in the resolution, is about five miles below Macon on the Perry highway.

7 PERSONS HURT IN AIRPLANE CRASH

Ship Brushes Tree Tops on Its Take-off at Dublin,
Plunges Into Field.

DUBLIN, Ga., March 20.—(AP)—A large passenger plane crashed into a field near the Dublin airport this afternoon, wrecking the machine and injuring its seven occupants.

Pilot Frank Rogers, of North Augusta, S. C., suffered a broken leg, severe cuts and bruises, and was carried to a local hospital for treatment. His condition was not considered critical.

Three passengers, Mrs. J. D. Sheppard, Hal Sheppard and Mrs. L. B. Russell, received cuts and bruises but were not considered in serious condition.

Three others, Broughton Dixon, Ernest McGowan and Felton McGowan, escaped with minor bruises.

DIES OF AUTO INJURIES.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 20.—(AP)—Joan Williams, 15-year-old schoolgirl, died today of injuries suffered Tuesday when she fell from the running board of a moving automobile.

CONFIDENCE

Sixty-eight years of service to the people of Atlanta has earned us our most precious asset . . . the confidence of the people we serve. Take no chances with your priceless eyesight. Place the care of your vision in the hands of trained and competent optometrists, be sure they have the finest in refracting equipment to help them serve you. Come to Hawkes with CONFIDENCE.

Licensee: Soft-Lite Lenses

A. K. HAWKES CO.

Opticians—Established 1870

Atlanta

83 Whitehall, S. W.

"I'll tell you
the difference
I have found in cigarettes!"

SAYS
WILBUR SHAW

record-smashing auto racing driver to BEN E. WILBUR, radio announcer

"You're known as a great Camel smoker, Mr. Shaw.
Are they really so different from other cigarettes?"

"Yes, Ben, I think that Camels are a lot different. That's why they're the racing drivers' favorite cigarette. You see, a cigarette has to have something out of the ordinary to score such a hit with fellows like us. As I always say, there are so many things that mean a great deal in smoking. One big angle that carries weight with me is that Camels agree with me! I've smoked a good many thousands of Camels in the past 10 years, so I know that from experience."

"ON THE AIR" after his victory in the 500-mile Indianapolis race, Wilbur Shaw said: "This is the happiest day of my life—outside my wedding day." Then he reached for a Camel.

like a Camel first thing after a race," he says, and goes on to point out another difference he finds between Camels and other cigarettes. "I get a grand 'lift' with a Camel."

"Camel is the cigarette that agrees with me—the cigarette that lets me enjoy smoking to the full!"

PEOPLE DO APPRECIATE THE COSTLIER TOBACCOS
IN CAMELS

THEY ARE THE LARGEST-SELLING
CIGARETTE IN AMERICA

COMING NEXT MONDAY
E-D-D-I-E C-A-N-T-O-R-I-I

America's great fun-maker and personality brought to you by Camel cigarettes. Every Monday at 7:30 p.m. E.S.T., 6:30 p.m. C.S.T., 8:30 p.m. M.S.T., and 7:30 p.m. P.S.T., over Columbia Network.

And—Next Tuesday (March 29)
BENNY GOODMAN

THE "KING OF SWING"
Hear the great Goodman Swing Band "go to town." Every Tuesday at this new time—9:30 p.m. E.S.T., 8:30 p.m. C.S.T., 7:30 p.m. M.S.T., and 6:30 p.m. P.S.T., over Columbia Network.

HERE'S WILBUR SHAW "noodling" out a tough problem in automotive design. He gets in a good bit of Camel smoking, doing it. "Camel's the mild cigarette," he says, "extra gentle to my throat."

SHAW AND "COTTON" HENNING, agree on how important healthy nerves are. And Shaw says: "Think what might happen if my nerves weren't o-kay. The fact that Camels don't get on my nerves scores a big hit with me."

"IT'S YOUR MOVE, Cathleen," says Wilbur to Mrs. Shaw, his checkers partner. His own move is to light up a Camel—"for digestion's sake." "You know, a meal doesn't seem complete to me without a few Camels to help my digestion along," he says.

"I'VE BEEN planting tobacco for 20 years," says Harry C.
King, a successful grower.
"Camel bought the choice lots of my last tobacco crop—paid more for my best leaf tobacco. So I know they use finer, more expensive tobaccos in Camel cigarettes. That's one mighty good reason why my cigarette is Camel."

THOMAS MID-DLTON and his twin brother
James have been growing tobacco for 14 years. "The Camel people bought up my best tobacco last year," Tom Middleton says. "They have for 12 years. When anyone talks about finer, more expensive tobaccos, that means Camels to me.
I smoke 'em—my brother smokes
'em—and so do most of us around here who grow and know tobacco."

"DOWN AT the tobacco warehouse they told me they'd never seen finer tobacco than my last crop," says J. E.
Jenkins, veteran
tobacco grower.
"Camel bought all the top grades.
It just shows that the Camel people make sure to get the choice lots of tobacco. I prefer Camels every time."

HENDERSON CARROLL has been growing tobacco for 18 years.
"Formyownsmoking," he says, "I like Camels. I know the Camel buyers purchased just about every top-grade lot of tobacco at the sales I went to last year. My own crop was a dandy.
And, as usual, Camel got the best of it."

Copyright, 1938, R. J. Barnette Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina

ONE SMOKER
TELLS ANOTHER

"Camels agree with me"

Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS —Turkish and Domestic

Wednesday

March 23rd

A RED LETTER DAY

In Georgia!

President Roosevelt Comes to Georgia...

The President will be honor guest and principal speaker at the mammoth Roosevelt Square dedication and rehabilitation celebration in Gainesville on this day. . . . Every Georgian, who can, will be there to see and hear him.

President Roosevelt Tells His Story to Georgia...

Beginning on the same morning of his visit to Georgia, Wednesday, March 23rd, the President's Own Story of the New Deal will be given to Georgia exclusively through The Atlanta Constitution. . . . His story, from his own pen, in his own clear easy-to-understand language, is a complete and unbiased account of his Administration from the day of his inauguration right up to the present time.

Don't Miss This Story

Never Before In Any Other Newspaper Or Magazine *Exclusive With The Constitution
In The State of Georgia*

Peaches and Cream

BUT A BORN BUSINESS-MAN

She's an old-school Southerner... Rich's customer. Sweet as deep woods honeysuckle ... romantic as magnolias in the moonlight ... gracious and charming and utterly feminine ... She's peaches and cream Southern style ... BUT ...

She's a born business-man! She's an artful creature who can spot a bargain twenty miles off ... her genius for finance would amaze a Wall Street broker ... Value is her special forte and merchandising knowledge is hers by second nature. That's why you'll find her shopping at Rich's all year round ... a favorite customer ... and the smartest business-man who ever walks into Rich's!

Atlanta Born • Atlanta Owned • Atlanta Managed

RICH'S

"Bridge Lite" by Harold Sharpsteen, New Daily Feature

MY DAY

By Eleanor Roosevelt

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Friday.—Yesterday afternoon I visited a mammoth cutting room where, with the exception of one locality, the WPA cuts out all the garments for the whole of southern California. This means a tremendous business organization and the people in the cutting rooms work as they would in a very large factory. They also have a big sewing room in the same building. The bookkeeping is extremely interesting, every garment is followed through from its beginning until it is packed and shipped out.

From there we went to a household training project. The practice house is well equipped and the women have every opportunity to gain experience for good domestic service. It has been difficult to persuade women to take the course, because many of them are unwilling to accept the conditions of domestic service as they have known them. The project gives the employer, as well as the employees, a little book on the standards for both. I think this book will be helpful in other places.

The Camp Fire Girls presented me with a very lovely basket of flowers just before my evening lecture. I was fascinated by their Indian costumes.

This morning, at 9:30, Mr. J. F. T. O'Connor, Mr. Joseph Schenck, of the Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corporation, and Mr. Herman Lissauer, head of the research department of Warner Brothers, took us out to Hollywood. This was my first experience, as well as Mrs. Scheider's, and we had a very interesting time. To our surprise, flags were flying as we drove up. It seemed to me a flag was somewhere in sight at each place.

Our first visit was to Shirley Temple, whom I have had the pleasure of meeting before and who is, without exception, one of the most charming children I know. She is simple and unaffected and accepts the inevitable photographers as naturally as if this was the way every little girl lived her life.

She asked at once about "Sissy" and "Buzzie" and I went back to her auto-trailer to receive some police badges for them. Then she showed me where she took her lessons. I marvel at her mother's achievement in keeping her well and unspoiled. Shirley told me she was coming to Washington to see the President soon and I hope she will not delay her visit too long.

We visited many other sets and met many other people. Finally, after a visit to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, where Mr. Mayer was extremely cordial and kind, we went to the Warner Brothers studios. I was interested in seeing a street in New York city, a street in Paris and a number of buildings which, to be sure, were only fronts, but very excellent ones. It gave me the feeling of driving through various countries at different periods in history in a remarkably short time. We ended up by a visit to Warner Brothers' research department and I wanted to sit down and delve into their books.

(Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution.)

TODAY'S CHARM TIP

This week is Charm Tip Week for the 16-18-year-old, a perfect charm-training period. First, think of yourself now as an adult whose duty it is to serve, not as a child entitled to be served.

Barbara Bell Styles

A NEW VERSION OF THE CLASSIC SHIRTWAIST FROCK.

This is a particularly good example of the tailored shirtwaist frock that so many women have found indispensable for home, office and general sports wear. But, on all down the front, and convenient little pockets, give femininity to its strictly tailored lines. Gathers just below the shoulder yoke create a becoming fullness over the bust. This design is almost as easy to make as it is to wear, thanks to the complete and detailed sew chart that accompanies your pattern, so that even beginners will have no difficulty following every step.

For immediate wear, pattern No. 1492-B will be pretty made up in flat crepe or a gay print. Polka dots would be smart. Later, make it up in linen or gingham.

The spring and summer Barbara Bell fashion pattern book offers other practical shirtwaist models. Barbara Bell pattern No. 1492-B is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. With long sleeves, size 16 (34) requires 5 1/4 yards of 35-inch material; with short, 4 1/2 yards.

Price of pattern 15 cents. Do not send stamps.

Send 15 cents for the Barbara Bell spring and summer fashion pattern book. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming clothes, selecting designs from the Barbara Bell well-planned, easy-to-make patterns.

Mail orders to Barbara Bell Pattern Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

PREPARE NOW FOR SPRING AND SUMMER
Stimming or Gaining, $20.00 up.
1 Mo. Course
PERSONAL SUPERVISION
ROSENDAHL'S
Chas. of Can. Bt. WA. 5342

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield in care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield:

You tell me if I am a sucker. My girl and I have been dating pretty regularly for 15 months when all of a sudden she meets another guy that's irresistible. So she tells me that I am the nicest friend she ever had, have been swell to her and wouldn't take a million for me but she's going to date the other guy. She admits that her parents don't like him and do like me, which leads me to believe she's using me to keep down talk in the family, thereby making a monkey of me. I wonder if I shouldn't wash my hands of the whole affair. S.S.

Answer: Staying in the race doesn't make a sucker out of you, buddy, even though your girl is infatuated with the rival. Conceivably that infatuation may flicker out and she decide that the nicest friend she ever had is a better bet for matrimony than a hurricane guy who blew in and swept her off her feet.

So long as you are a little bit independent and keep your self-respect, you aren't a sucker, but the minute you begin to beg for dates which you can't get and make yourself a doormat for her fair feet to tread on as she goes out for a fling with the other fellow, that minute you become a sucker and forfeit your chance to win the race, to boot.

Asking me, I'll say modern youths are pretty arrogant and autocratic. Lo! the poor gals have to fight for their freedom. There's no good reason why a young miss should confine herself to dates with one lad and miss the fun and the flattery of having a mess of scalps attached to her belt. The long date can wait, at least until boy and girl are sure it's the right one.

Furthermore, it's not fair for a lad to croon in his girl's ear "I can't give you anything but love, baby, and then expect baby to dedicate her beau-catching days to him in return for that tune. When, as and if he's in position to make parley and she's in a mood to parley with him there's time enough for them to have it out on the subject of "All rights reserved."

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Dear Miss Chatfield: This may sound like a simple problem but it's far from simple. I am truly in love with a girl and she's in love with me, but she despises smoking (so does her family), and she tells me I have got to take my choice between her and my smokes. I don't want to give her up and I don't want to give up my comfortable habit and I don't know how to handle the situation. PETER D.

Answer: Well, Peter, when you are dealing with a dictator, male or female, you have to make up your mind to do as you're told or check out. Your light-o-love is a dictator and she knows nothing about human nature and she's tactless and she can't be handled unless she's getting her way. She might have wooed you out of your smokes and made you like it, thereby winning a victory that was sweet to her taste. But she preferred to dictate. And so she always will. Leaving out the question of smoking, which is something for you to decide, there's deep significance in her ultimatum. It's her first step toward getting her foot on your neck. If you don't want to be "trowned," you'd better make your get-away.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

(Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution.)

Home Institute

YOU'D LIKE TO BE ENTERTAINING? LEARN WAYS TO TELL FORTUNES

"LET THE BRAIN SPEAK!"

SHALL I WISH FOR MONEY, LOVE, OR LUCK?

READ THE CARDS AND MAKE FRIENDS.

"LET THE HEART DECIDE!"

MAY MY WISH BRING HAPPINESS!

Fun to gather around the fortune teller at a party. But much more fun to be the fascinating fortune teller yourself. Suppose Marilyn wants to know if her dearest wish will come true. Look thoughtfully at her—mystery and ritual help, you know!—and select her name card according to her coloring. As she's a brown-haired girl, she's a queen of clubs. She makes her wish, then holds the cards first to her brow, then to her heart, saying, "Let the brain speak. Let the heart decide." Next she shuffles and cuts the cards. Does the 9 of hearts turn up in the cut? The fates smile on her wish. But to make sure she'll have her wish, deal the cards in three piles. If the nine of hearts and her name card appear in the same pile, her wish certainly will come true. The other cards? Each has a meaning—easy to remember and spin into a thrilling tale. The ace

Send 15c for our booklet, LET ME TELL YOUR FORTUNE, to Home Institute, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. Write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Beauty According To You

(Posed by Margaret Sullivan.)

A Facial Cleansing Is Incomplete Unless Followed by Stimulating Tonic

By LILLIAN MAE.

Would you be willing for your lingerie to be laundered and left in an unclean condition? Certainly not, but what about your face? Do you use your cleansing cream, and then fail to remove the surface residue and what remains in your pores?

That is one of the best methods I know to encourage enlarged pores and blackheads. No facial is complete without the use of a tonic before make-up is applied. One of the better-known Fifth Avenue salons makes quite a point in all facials of using one of their two clarifying and stimulating lotions—the one used, of course, depending on the type of skin being treated. Both these lotions may be used in your own home, and incidentally, are being offered this week at practically half the usual price.

The first one, recommended for thin, sensitive, dry skin, is wonderful for stimulating, clearing, brightening, toning and firming of skin, keeping it fresh, glowing and fine-grained. For dry skin, it is a good idea to saturate your cotton pad with this lotion, dip it into your cleansing cream, and apply with firm, upward strokes from base of your throat to your hairline. After removing all surface cream, use lotion on a fresh pad to clear your pores. Incidentally, a bottle of this tonic kept in refrigerator, is pleasant applied to temples when suffering from headache.

This New York beauty salon uses their other tonic—called a texture lotion—for removing dirt, refreshing and brightening dull, sallow skin where pores are coarse or conspicuous, or where there is a stubborn case of blackheads. Used in the same manner as described above, it relaxes the skin and makes it glow in preparation for make-up. And another thing, try it on pads of cotton over your closed eyelids to relieve fatigue. You'll find it very worth-while, for this use alone.

If you will take advantage of the manufacturer's very generous trial offer this week you'll see what a really great difference there is in your complexion when thoroughly cleansed, refined, relaxed and stimulated. It takes such a small amount of time and does so much for you, that you'll no doubt buy more of it while the price is reduced.

Phone me at my office in The Constitution building for the names of these two tonic lotions, and the stores at which they may be purchased in Atlanta. If you do not live in the city, write, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

Your Waistline, Sir!

By IDA JEAN KAIN.

REDUCE WEIGHT TO LOWER BLOOD PRESSURE.

Ten years ago life insurance companies paid little attention to blood pressure, but now they regard it as one of the most significant factors in life expectancy. With a blood pressure of 100 or more it is practically impossible to get insurance.

Excess weight, so often associated with high blood pressure, is also an increasingly important consideration in estimating life expectancy. It is not unusual for the excessively overweight man of 35 to be rated at 45. According to statistics on the relation of weight to mortality, the increase in mortality appears to be greater when weight exceeds the normal by more than 20 per cent.

Not only do high blood pressure and overweight seem to go together, but the most effective way of lowering the blood pressure is by a decrease in weight. In a medical survey of 1,000 cases of overweight, in every case over 20 years of age, the blood pressure was above normal. Without exception, a weight loss was followed by a reduction in blood pressure. As small a weight loss as ten pounds has been found to lower the blood pressure by 14 points.

Reduction of weight has brought a blood pressure of 200 down to 150, and a blood pressure of 150 down to 130 and even to 120. Such a reduction of the blood pressure was effected in numerous cases which were the subject of dietary experiments. The success of these experiments would seem to indicate that, through weight reduction, both the diastolic and the systolic blood pressure can be reduced by 50 per cent of the amount by which they exceed the accepted normal.

A study of the cases shows a marked parallel between the rise in weight and the rise in blood pressure. In one case the blood pressure rose from 145 to 205 during a weight increase. With the loss of only seven pounds the blood pressure dropped to 175.

A period of overeating with a subsequent weight gain usually causes the blood pressure to shoot right back up again. It has been found very easy to maintain the lowered blood pressure, however, when the diet is such that no weight gain is made.

Except with kidney complications, the dietary for overweight and high blood pressure is a normal reducing diet. Seventy-five to 100 grams of protein daily is not excessive except in cases of nephritis. This amount of protein is furnished in one-half pound of lean meat, one to two eggs, one to two glasses of skim milk or buttermilk and three slices of bread. To assure adequate vitamins and proteins the diet must also include daily two or more cooked vegetables, raw vegetables and fresh fruits.

Overweight, when it causes high blood pressure, makes you a bad insurance risk.

Aside from the fact that they are low in calories the "Man Size Reducing Menu" are adequate in every respect, and they will help you to reduce your weight to normal and, consequently, to lower your blood pressure. If you are 15 or more pounds above the weight that is normal for your structure, ask your doctor's advice about reducing.

It pays to keep your weight in the neighborhood of normal. All too often when a man achieves the earning power that makes adequate insurance possible he is a poor risk because of overweight and high blood pressure.

Your dietitian, IDA JEAN KAIN.

There are two leaflets that will help the businessman to successfully combat overweight—"The Man Size Reducing Menu" and the normal and "Waistlines and Belts." Send today for these leaflets, writing to Miss Kain, care The Atlanta Constitution.

(Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution.)

Tea at Castle.

Among informal events of the week end was the tea given yesterday at "The Castle," on Fifteenth street, by the Theater Guild of Atlanta for Charles Stevens, guest director of the theater.

Mrs. LaFayette Butler and Edwin Haa, were fiscal hosts. Pouring tea were Misses Ann Skidmore, Fern Moar, Nancy Downing and Yolande Gwin.

HEALTH TALKS

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

BIGGER BRADY BETTER BABY BOOK.

The Brady Baby Book has now gone through three editions. First edition was issued 'way back when. Second edition, revised and enlarged, appeared in 1936, under the title, The Brady Better Baby Book, in lemon yellow cover.

Today we are happy to announce The Bigger Brady Better Baby Book, just issued, still in lemon yellow cover, again revised and enlarged, and we are offering the first printing of 10,000 copies FREE. There's just one catch in this offer, and that is, you had better mind it or you will be disappointed. The one thing you must do to get a copy of this brand new, up-to-snuff counsellor and guide for dabbles in the baby business is this: You must ask for it in your words (not in a clipping from my column) and you must inclose with your request a stamped envelope bearing your address. Of course, you may say whatever else you wish to say in your letter, but do not ask me to include anything else than the Bigger Brady Better Baby Book in the answer. By complying with these terms, you can save yourself postage—a one-cent stamp will be sufficient of the envelope which is to bring the Bigger Brady Better Baby Book to you.

Indeed They Are People.

Nowadays babies are people, important people. Today more than ever it takes a baby to make a home. With the spread of the "birth control" idea the home as an institution has lost some of its wholesome influence on American life. Right now the country should hail the movement to have at least one baby in every home, and the best way to achieve that national recovery spirit is to provide as a patriotic duty an adequate care for the mother before, during and after the birth of her baby and a minimum monthly payment to her for a year after the birth of her baby—so that every mother and every baby in the country might be assured as good care as a mother and a baby should have.

A fundamental reform sorely needed in the public school system of America is a course in the care of the baby in the grade school and the high school, and every boy and every girl should be compelled to take such instruction in school. The ignorance of young parents about the most elementary care and feeding of infants is appalling, especially when we observe how much the young folk today know about sex matters and so-called "birth control." This ignorance, responsibility for which rests squarely on the shoulders of the educational authorities, unnecessarily handicaps the early growth and development of infants and children and sometimes seriously threatens or at least shortens life. Children past six years of age seldom believe in Santa Claus, fables of the sort nowdays. Would it not be well if the instruction of the children were carried on by the common school from the time when the children cease believing myths?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cocoa.

Is cocoa healthful to use daily as a beverage? (M. H.) Answer—Yes, for adults. Children under 16 should have milk as a beverage—flavored with cocoa, chocolate or caramel, if they will not take straight milk. Cocoa is a kidney stimulant, and therefore not good for children. It gives a false sense of satisfaction and so takes away appetite for more essential food.

Vitamin B for Deafness. Can you tell me whether vitamin B has any effect on chronic catarrhal deafness? I have heard that it may help the deafness in some cases. (F. B. H.)

Answer—I don't know. It can do no harm, may improve general health, to try it. Simplest way is to eat three or four ounces of wheat germ daily—mixed with any cereal, stirred in any fruit juice or tomato juice, or incorporated in any recipe calling for flour—use half wheat germ meal and half flour. (Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution.)

Germany is building a plant for purifying helium gas, in readiness for use of helium in its airships.

PLEASANT HOMES

By ELIZABETH M'RAE BOYKIN

TO AT.

As proud as a princess in a made-over suit.

We're feeling pretty elegant these spring days in a made-over suit. And as proud as a princess for rejuvenating it. 'Twas quite a nice suit in the first place, but alas and alack it went out of style before it wore out. So we devised a scheme for shortening the coat, squaring off the sloping shoulders, taking off the collar and turning back the front Tuxedo fashion. We weren't up to the tailoring that a job of sewing like this demanded but found a cute little old dressmaker who carried out our ideas to a T. Are we bragging!

If only we can do as well by Norah's bedroom. She's asked us to help her plan its doing over and we're in a brown study over it right now. To begin with, she has maple furniture—quite nice it is, too, but she'd like something different and rather smart by contrast with the pleasant early American effect she's had before. She can't spend much. In fact, her changes must be made mostly under her own steam. Anything we suggest that she can make without buying expensive material will be fine, because she's good at fixing and doing over.

A Fine Indigo Blue.

Let's see—what has she got that could be kept? Those oval braded rugs maybe? Because of their fine indigo blue colorings ranging from light to deep, but with a brilliant effect. Then we'll not paint the walls in that deep blue... which would be grand with maple and awfully new. Woodwork, we'll keep white. And for the curtains and bedspreads we'll have yards and yards of white muslin with seven-inch ruffles of pink and white checked gingham. The pink and white check would do nicely for a slip cover on the boudoir chair, too. And for lamp shades, too. Norah could make them herself.

How does that sound? We like the idea—it would be fresh and different, yet very harmonious with maple. It wouldn't cost much, since Norah could do all the work and the materials are all inexpensive cottons.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Boykin, care The Atlanta Constitution, for our bulletin, "A Bouquet of Beautiful Beds," which gives ideas and directions for interesting spreads. Another bulletin might be helpful in doing this room over; it's called "Making Your Own Lamp Shades," which is also available on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

(Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution.)

Harriett Garmon Feted on Birthday.

Mrs. Harry H. Garmon entertained recently at a St. Patrick's Day party at her home on Melrose drive, honoring her daughter, Harriett, on her tenth birthday. Mrs. George D. Carter and Mrs. C. W. Garmon assisted in entertaining. The birthday cake was placed in the center of the table and surrounded by lighted tapers in shamrock holders.

Games and contests were played by the guests, who included Gene Aerial, Gene Beverly, Mary and Martha Dean, George Carter Jr., Neal Browning, William Brown, Yvonne Brown, Loretta Turner, Elizabeth Luce, Elizabeth Barrow, Frances Bradford, Barbara Sheats, Perry Ginn and Nancy Reed.

Bunco-Bridge Party.

Mrs. Amanda Vaughn and Mrs. Claude Allen will be hostesses to the benefit bunco and bridge party for the Dora Alexander Talley Girls of Maple Grove No. 86, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, Tuesday evening from 7 to 10 o'clock, at 1054 Beecher street, West End. Bingo and other games will be played with prizes awarded for all games. Information may be obtained by calling Raymond 0251 or Raymond 7752.

Lovely to Live With

PATTERN 5975

Pattern 5975. These accessories that match in fluted crocheted add a decorative note to a room. Effective in string! Pattern 5975 contains instructions and charts for making the set and pillow; illustrations of stitches; materials needed.

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Pillow an Easy-to-Make "Match" for Chair Set

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

Pattern 4739 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 4 yards 39-inch fabric.

Send 15 cents in coins for this Lillian Mae pattern. Do not send stamps. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Here's your chance to have a smart spring wardrobe—send for the new Lillian Mae pattern book at once! See its great variety of bright fashions for miss, matron, kiddie and junior! Up-to-the-minute frocks and outfits for every age and type... for busy mornings, leisure afternoons, or festive evenings. Practical and thrilling suggestions for the bride... the graduate—all interpreted in simple-to-use patterns! Price of book 15 cents.

Send your order to Lillian Mae Pattern Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

BRIDGE LITE

By Harold Sharpsteen

Suit MIAMI, Fla., March 20. Blind adherence to the generally accepted theory of opening the highest card held in partner's bid suit, when defending against a suit contract, is often a losing lead. Under certain conditions it is misleading.

Opening one's own suit first or leading a low card in partner's bid suit, is many times preferable.

A simple outline of basic lead: against a suit contract, when partner has named a suit, follow:

(1) Open King: From own A K x x suit, before leading partner's suit.

(2) Lead high: Holding an honor and one, or an honor and two small in partner's suit.

A x K x Q x J x
A x x K x Q x x J x x
(3) Lead low: Holding four or more to an honor in partner's bid suit.

K x x x Q x x x J x x x
Exception: Lead Ace from A x x x.

(4) Lead high: Holding two small in partner's suit.

(5) Lead middle card: From three small... Play the remaining higher card on the second round, retaining the lowest card of the three held originally, with which to echo out in the suit.

6 4 3

Your Table Manners: Kibitzers should be seen and not heard...

Faux Pas: Peeking at the bottom card, when dealing.

Til tomorrow...

(Copyright, 1938.)

Honors Grandchildren.

C. A. Puckett was most recently to the fourth, fifth and seventh-grade children of the Hammond school, in honor of his grandchildren, Martha, Charles and Lewis Lummus.

Games were played, after which the young guests roasted wiener and toasted marshmallows over a bonfire.

Lillian Mae Styles

DAINTY FROCK WITH SWING-SKIRT IDEAL FOR EVERY OCCASION.

Pattern 4739.

Simple—and simply delightful. Is this frock that's as bright as the sunniest summer afternoon? You'll want Pattern 4739 to wear to teas, to parties—and for your entertaining, too. Can't you picture the soft, youthful collar, dainty bodice, puffed or flared sleeves, and 12-gore skirt interpreted in a colorful silk or cotton sheer, or printed or plain synthetic? 'Twill look even daintier with a bit of net or lace trailing on the collar! You'll find this dress easy as can be to make, so why not run up several versions to see you through the summer? Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Pattern 4739 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 4 yards 39-inch fabric.

Send 15 cents in coins for this Lillian Mae pattern. Do not send stamps. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Here's your chance to have a smart spring wardrobe—send for the new Lillian Mae pattern book at once! See its great variety of bright fashions for miss, matron, kiddie and junior! Up-to-the-minute frocks and outfits for every age and type... for busy mornings, leisure afternoons, or festive evenings. Practical and thrilling suggestions for the bride... the graduate—all interpreted in simple-to-use patterns! Price of book 15 cents.

Send your order to Lillian Mae Pattern Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Suhr To Erect Home On Campbell Hill in Marietta

By Sally Forth.

CAMPBELL HILL, in Marietta, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Suhr, for the site of their handsome colonial home. As the former Lucille Morris, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Newt Morris, Mrs. Suhr was reared in Marietta, the attractive little city that nestles at the foot of Civil War-famous Kennesaw mountain. The elevated lot on which they will erect their house comprises four acres, and the location is noted for the commanding view of the surrounding country. The present brick structure will be used as the main body of Mrs. Suhr's new home which will have additional wings to each side. The original structure which stayed in the hands of the Campbell family for more than a hundred years, is said to have been used as a strategic point overlooking the battlefield of Kennesaw mountain, first as headquarters for General Joseph E. Johnston and later by General Sherman during the federal occupancy of Marietta.

The construction of the white stucco residence will require six months, and Mr. and Mrs. Suhr will in all probability occupy their new home in September. Mr. and Mrs. Suhr have been residing in Cleveland, Ohio, where headquarters for Mr. Suhr's business interests are located, but on the completion of their Marietta home, they expect to spend as much time here as his business will permit.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM B. TATE are remodeling their white stone country home which stands at the foot of Kennesaw mountain in Marietta on the Rome highway. The view is perfectly marvelous and the house was built 50 years ago by Lawrence Hunt, as the summer abode for his family.

Herein his daughters, Mesdames William Vance and Bolan Brumby, and Ed Hunt, his son, entertained lots of summer visitors and the romance of Mr. and Mrs. Wilder Glover had its inception in this house, when as Almie La Roche Dunwoody of Macon, she met her future husband.

Charming Mrs. Tate, the former Dorothy Brooks, is a splendid equestrienne, and the property affords ample space for big stables and a ring in which to exercise her mounts. Hundreds of spring flowers are blooming in the garden and the pear tree branches are white with blossoms. Mature grapevines and fig trees will bear luscious fruits this season, and the landscaping is in progress on the grounds surrounding the farm house.

RUMOR has it that a five-year romance will be culminated this summer when a pretty blond treads the orange-blossom trail with her handsome and brunet groom-elect.

She never has made her formal debut, but has been acknowledged belle since early high school days.

Any more information would make it too easy. Can you guess?

RADIO EXECUTIVE DIES. NEW YORK, March 20.—(AP)—Arthur H. Samuels, 49, radio executive and former editor of the New Yorker magazine, Harper's Bazaar and House Beautiful, died today. He was executive producer of radio station WOR, Mutual Broadcasting System.

VACCINATION IMMUNITY

By Miner & Carter DRUGGISTS

Speaking of infantile paralysis vaccine, Dr. William H. Park says: "We have something to look forward to with this vaccine. We feel it is going to be a wise thing to do because we have a vaccine which, if given two or three times a year, offers definite protection."

Dr. John A. Kolmer, of Temple University, who underwent the experience of first trying the vaccine on himself, then tried the vaccine on his own two sons, in addition to a group of children. He found the vaccine set up in the body the protective forces needed to combat the disease.

He is wise who recognizes that preventive measures maintain health. Have a physician inoculate your children, thereby immunizing them from infantile paralysis.

This is the ninth of a series of Editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each Monday. (c. 1938.)—adv.

ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

PRESENTATION COUPON

For WEBSTER'S Universal UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY

This is one of a series of 24 coupons to be used in obtaining your dictionary. Clip and save these coupons until you have the full number of 24. Then present them to the nearest participating bookseller.

99c

COUPON No. 255 & 256

2 VOLUME DICTIONARY

MAIL ORDER COUPON

IF YOU ORDER BY MAIL ENCLOSE $1.15

To Dictionary Presentation Dept., 1220 Peachtree Street, N.E., Atlanta, Ga. 30309. Please send me the dictionary for which I have enclosed this coupon and $1.15 for postage and handling. I understand that the additional $1.15 is to cover cost of mailing and handling up to 100 miles. (For greater distance consult your post office for postage rate on 8 pounds weight.)

Signed _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____

Use Pencil-Ink Blurs

Please state if volume No. 1 or 2 desired.

National D.A.R. Treasurer General Will Attend State Conference

MRS. HENRY M. ROBERT JR., OF ANNAPOLIS, MD.

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 20.—Mrs. Henry M. Robert Jr., of Annapolis, Md., treasurer general of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be among the distinguished guests attending the fortieth annual conference of the Georgia D. A. R., which opens this evening in Columbus, Ga. Mrs. Robert is a candidate for the office of president general of the National D. A. R., the election to take place at the conference in Washington next month.

Governor E. D. Rivers will speak at the opening session on the subject of "National Defense." Mrs. Rivers is invited to attend the conference as a guest of the Georgia D. A. R.

The assembly call will be sounded by a trumpet from Fort Benning and the processional will enter the Presbyterian church to the strains of the Processional by Teilmann-Eddy, with Mrs. Rolla Brown at the organ and Mrs. Kendrick Kierce at the piano. Mrs. John M. Slaton will carry the national flag, Miss Constance Gatewood, a page, will carry the Georgia flag and Mrs. J. S. Tomlinson, another page, will bear the D. A. R. banner. Mrs. John S. Adams will make her regent's address and distinguished guests will be presented. Mrs. H. Fay Gaffney, Mayor L. C. Wilson and General Singleton will make addresses of welcome.

A memorial service to be conducted by Miss Annie Crawford, Athens, state chaplain, tribute will be paid to the late Mrs. Herbert Franklin, of Tennille. Candles will be lighted by Mrs. Norman Wilson and Mrs. Charles Harris, of Columbus.

On Tuesday evening a buffet supper will be given at the Harmony Club, at which the three Columbus chapters will entertain. On Monday evening, following the program, the visitors will be honored with a reception at the Ralston hotel by the City Federation of Women's Clubs, the Colonial Dames, the American Legion Auxiliary and the U. D. C.

The State D. A. R. convened in Columbus in 1908, 1916 and 1926. In 1906, Mrs. James Rounsaville, of Rome, was the regent, and was followed by the late Miss Anna Caroline Benning, of Columbus, a charter member of the Oglethorpe Chapter of Columbus and a vice president general of the National Society D. A. R. In 1916, Mrs. Howard McCull, of Atlanta, was elected state regent in Columbus, and the late Mrs. R. P. Spencer Sr., of Columbus, was her second vice regent. At the 1926 conference, Mrs. Julius Y. Talmadge, of Athens, was the presiding officer.

Mrs. John S. Adams, state regent, will preside over the 1938 conference, assisted by the three local regents. Election of new officers and installation will mark the closing session on Wednesday morning.

The presentation of the recently organized "Lucy Spell Chapter" of the Children of the American Revolution, will be made. The chapter was organized by Mrs. H. Fay Gaffney, of Columbus, honorary state regent, and ex-vice president general, Mrs. Mark Smith, of Columbus, is state chairman of C. A. R.

Ralston hotel will be headquarters where the executive board meets and where the officers' club breakfast will be given. The program has been prepared by Mrs. Peterkin.

She knows the value of a full life for farm women, too, Mrs. Wood declared. The authoress gives herself a "more abundant life" with hobbies. She rides, hunts, swims, raises Llewellyn setters, white Holland turkeys, roses and exotic plants and flowers.

The South Carolinian will discuss improvements which can be made in the lives of rural people when she faces the several thousand women who will attend the rural-urban conference here.

Chajage's
EST. 1918 220 PEACHTREE
Cleaning and repairing at low cost while in storage
Certified
FOR YOUR PROTECTION

Girl Scout Training Course for Leadership To Begin Wednesday

Mrs. Charles V. Minor, chairman of the training and personnel committee of the Atlanta Girl Scouts, announces that the Brownie training course for leadership of girls between the ages of 7 to 10 begins on Wednesday. This course includes training in group technique for leaders of girls of the Brownie age in the field of dramatics, singing, craft and similar studies.

Other courses offered this spring in the schedule of the work of the year include a three-day course in dramatics on April 11, 13 and 15 at the Peachtree Christian church. This series gives instruction in puppets, shadow-graphing and all phases of dramatics. The outdoor training course takes place on April 19 and 21 from 10 to 12 o'clock at the Peachtree Christian church; on April 26 and 28 at Woods Ho Day Camp, and on April 30 and May 1 at Camp Civitania. This course emphasizes outdoor cooking, day camp programs, nature, hiking and an overnight hike.

On April 25 and 27 the arts and craft course will be given at Camp Civitania from 10 to 12 o'clock. Group leadership training course for new leaders takes place beginning on May 2 and continuing through May 25 on each Monday and Wednesday from 10 to 12 o'clock at the Peachtree Christian church. Day camp instruction will be given May 31, June 2 and June 3 from 10 to 12 o'clock at Woods Ho Day Camp. Mrs. William E. Mitchell, field captain, and Miss Lucille Cannon, director, are in charge.

Members of the training and personnel committee are: Mrs. C. V. Minor, chairman; Mrs. George Noble, co-chairman; Mesdames Samuel Inman Cooper, C. M. Broom, Theo Cox, Albert Lewis and Guy C. Penner.

NO QUESTIONS ASKED. Farmer Thomas A. Virta, of Gardner, Mass., rushed to the police station to report his automobile stolen from a friend's farm, where he had been visiting. Police found it parked in front of their station.

ed with a handsome diamond ring. Mrs. Little is the former Miss Grace Davis.

Invited were W. H. Little, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Grimes, Grover Barfield and Ober Warthen; state treasurer of Vidalia, will be in the lobby of the Ralston hotel from 10:30 a. m. till 5:30 p. m. on Monday. The United Garden Clubs will assist with flowers and other decorations.

Mrs. Little Given Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis entertained at a birthday dinnerance at their home on Stewart avenue recently in honor of their daughter, Mrs. W. H. Little, Mrs. Davis was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Mrs. E. D. Saye, and Mrs. Joe M. Lannom.

The table was centered with a beautifully embossed birthday cake. After dinner a treasure hunt was held. Mrs. Little was presented with a handsome diamond ring.

Country women are to be the guests of Atlanta women Tuesday night, March 29, Mrs. Wood said. Mrs. A. Long, chairman of the housing committee, and the P. T. A. and women's division of the Chamber of Commerce are aiding in arranging details for housing.

SCULPTRESS TO MAKE IRENE MOUND MODEL SAVANNAH, March 20.—The making of a clay model of the Irene Indian mound and plans for an analysis of the "water laid" sand found at the mound were announced by Dr. Vladimir J. Fewkes, archaeologist in charge.

Dr. Fewkes made the announcement as he lay on a work bench in his laboratory-office, suffering from a dislocated tendon in his right knee, wrenched during his work at the mound.

Mrs. Ripley P. Bullen, architect and sculptress, of Worcester, Mass., is making the clay model of the mound, which, when completed, will be placed on display here. It will be about five feet in width, giving a panoramic view of the mound, the river bluff and the approaches, a depth of about three feet and will be about one foot high.

Yankee G. S. W. C. Girl Covets Southern Draw VALDOSTA, March 20.—(AP)—A New York state girl who expects "to have the best southern draw north of the Mason-Dixon line" when she returns home after graduation is the 1938-39 editor of the student newspaper of the Georgia State Woman's College here.

She is Miss Catherine J. Morris, of New Rochelle, N. Y., who was named as next year's editor of the Campus Canopy. Her business manager will be Miss Curtis Whitley, of McRae.

Miss Morris said she came to G. S. W. C. to "acquire the southern accent and charm."

Of the accent, she said it was developing "fine—you should see my friends gather around me when I go home."

Of the charm, she declined to speak for publication.

The new editor is vice president of the Georgia Collegiate Press Association, and is a member of the state governor, Mrs. Rees.

Attractive Bride of March

Mrs. Abe Levine, of Savannah, the former Miss Eva Kaplan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaplan, of Atlanta. The former's marriage took place yesterday at the residence of the bride's parents at 981 Washington street.

Fifth District Clubs Will Compete For Attendance Prize on Thursday

Clubs in the Fifth District of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs will compete for the attractive attendance prize which will be awarded the club having the largest representation at the spring convention of the district to be held Thursday morning, beginning at 9:30 o'clock at the Covenant Presbyterian church on Peachtree street at Terrace drive, N. E.

Mrs. John D. Evans is district president, and to be eligible for the prize, reservations must be made by March 22, with Mrs. James T. McGee, Calhoun 3643; R. E. Flournoy, Cherokee 9713, or Mrs. Charlie Stegall, Cherokee 1015.

An interesting program has been planned by the program committee and members of the executive committee. This will mark the

Mrs. Page Rees Re-elected Leader Of Sons and Daughters of Pilgrims

Mrs. S. M. Page Rees was re-elected state governor of Sons and Daughters of the Pilgrims, and Miss Annie Laurie Hill made deputy governor-general, at the recent annual state meeting of the society at the Atlanta Woman's Club.

Other officers elected were Mrs. James H. Downey, of Gainesville, deputy state governor; Miss Leonora F. Gordon, of Rome, elder; Miss Annis Jones Humphries, recording secretary; Miss Lois Biles of Marietta, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Byrd Blankenship, treasurer; Mrs. David L. O'Neal, of Decatur, registrar; Mrs. Nathaniel A. Jelks, of Hawkinsville, historian; Mrs. Erwin N. Kinne, of Macon, captain; Mrs. A. Homer Carmichael, custodian.

Nominating committee presenting the ticket included Mrs. Hayden C. Shover, chairman; Mesdames Gertrude C. Kauffman; J. Floyd Carmichael, Edgar Gunn, and Miss Byrd Blankenship. Mrs. C. D. Tebo was made honorary deputy governor-general for two years, having filled the active office during the past term.

State governor, Mrs. Rees, appointed Judge John D. Humphries as parliamentarian. New officers were installed by Mrs. Tebo, with the ceremonies prescribed by the national society.

Inspiring music was rendered by Miss Lois Biles, and the United States flag was borne by Mrs. Clinton McCord, and Georgia flag was carried by Miss Frances Rowland. Dr. Elam F. Dempsey gave the invocation and led the society ritual.

Mrs. Rees stated that the Sons and Daughters of the Pilgrims was the first patriotic organization in Georgia to endorse the Roosevelt road beautification project, in which 50 patriotic and civic organizations are working as a committee, with Mrs. Rees as general chairman, and as a part of the Constitution sesqui-centennial celebration. Regrading and widening of the Roswell road and elimination of its dangerous curves is being done by the county, and the planting of the flowering trees and shrubs on either side of the highway will begin in the fall. When completed, this historic 13-mile highway, each mile representing one of the 13 colonies, will be an honor to Georgia.

The bride wore a costume suit of rose wool crepe, trimmed in navy blue. She wore navy accessories and a cluster of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Shuford left for a wedding trip, after which they will reside in Macon.

Having a Bridge Luncheon? When you entertain your bridge club, may we have the pleasure of furnishing bridge tables and chairs without cost to you? Telephone WAInut 6358. Harry G. Poole.

Miss Edna Printup Marries Mr. Nelms

An event of yesterday afternoon was the marriage of Miss Edna May Printup to Charles Z. Nelms, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Atlanta, at the Gordon Street Presbyterian church. Rev. Harold Shields officiated. Miss Virginia Morris, organist, and Miss Ruth Addison, soloist, presented the musical program.

The altar was banked with palms and seven-branched candelabra held lighted tapers. Baskets filled with white gladioli flanked each side of the altar. Cecil F. Printup gave his daughter in marriage and Virgil H. Cooper was best man. Ushers included Victor M. Smith, Fred I. Sale and Alla Watkins.

Mrs. Allan Watkins, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a powder-blue suit with navy blue accessories. Her flowers were orchids and lilies of the valley.

The lovely bride was becomingly dressed in a powder-blue traveling suit. Her hat was powder-blue with a navy blue veil. Her other accessories were navy blue. Her flowers were orchids with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Cecil F. Printup, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue frock with navy blue and white accessories. Her flowers were gardenias.

Miss Edna C. Nelms, sister of the groom, wore a blue frock with blue accessories. Her flowers were gardenias.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents honoring the bridal party and guests included close friends of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelms will reside at the home of the bride's parents, 1097 Arlington avenue.

Women's Meetings

MONDAY, MARCH 21.

Fine Arts Division of the Decatur Woman's Club will present a book review at 10:30 o'clock at the clubhouse.

Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae Association of Atlanta meets at the home of Mrs. E. F. Swingle, 890 Adair avenue, at 8 o'clock this evening.

Business and Professional Woman's Group, Peachtree Christian church, meets at Foremost Dairies, Inc., 125 Ellis street, N. E., this evening at 6:15 o'clock.

Mary E. LaRocca Grove, of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, meets this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the hall in East Point.

W. M. S. of Grace M. E. church meets at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlor.

St. Paul Methodist W. M. S. meets at 3 o'clock in the educational building at the church.

Business and Professional Group of Senior Hadassah, meets at the Ansley hotel at 8 o'clock.

Atlanta Girl Scout Leaders' Association meets at 6 o'clock at the Peachtree Christian church.

W. M. S. of St. Mark Methodist church meets at 12 o'clock at the church. Executive board meets at the church at 10:30 o'clock.

S. R. Young P. T. A. executive board and room representatives meet at 1:30 o'clock in the school library.

George F. Longino P. T. A. meets at 2:15 o'clock at the school.

The Baptist Tabernacle W. M. S. meets at the church at 10 o'clock.

West End Baptist W. M. S. meets at 2:30 o'clock. Sunbeams and Junior R. A. S. meet at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Oakland City W. M. S. will meet at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Council of the East Point Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

RICH'S BASEMENT

Birthday Sale SPECIALS!

SHOE REPAIR!

Women and Girls!

Sole and Heels	75c
Regularly 85c.
Sole and Heels	85c
Regularly 1.00.
Sole and Heels	1.00
Regularly 1.20.
For Men and Boys:
Sole and Heels	1.00
Regularly 1.15.
Sole and Heels	1.25
Regularly 1.40.
Sole and Heels	1.50
Regularly 1.75.
Whole Sole, Heel	2.50
Regularly 3.00.

Shoes Dyed Any Color! We Call For and Deliver!

USE YOUR CHARGE ACCOUNT!

Crackers Turn on Savannah To Even Series With 10-2 Win

BASEBALL SOFT LIFE, DECLARES GRID TRAINER

Lotshaw Says Pro Footballers Work Much Harder, Get Less Pay.

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—(UP)—Andy Lotshaw, who has trained the Chicago Cubs and Chicago Bears for 16 years, announced emphatically Saturday that professional football players absorb twice the work and punishment in two months as baseball men do in a year.

His statement precipitated a near riot in the Cub dressing room.

Ignoring the unanimous and vigorous dissent of his charges, Andy took two more slaps at Clay Bryant's chest as the young pitcher lay on a training table, and explained what he meant.

"Baseball players," he said, "couldn't and wouldn't stand up under the beating a lineman or fullback takes as a matter of course in a single game. Football and baseball require different types of bodies, and a baseball player is too smart and too well paid."

"A football player works a short season, but a hard one. He is out of training three-fourths of the year; his muscles must be hard; his energy must come in spurts. A baseball player's year extends seven months. His muscles must be loose and timed perfectly. He is looking for at least a 15-year career and he takes better care of himself."

"Few football players last more than five years, and they aren't as well paid."

He points to Bronko Nagurski, now a wrestler, and Keith Moseworth, now assistant coach at Navy, as football players who took the most punishment. Gabby Hartnett, the Cub catcher, is his pick among baseball players. But both types of players, he says, must be honored in much the same way, and that is the hardest problem of a trainer.

LeRoy Childs Takes Gun Shoot

The second half of the March "double decker" skeet shooting tournament was fired Sunday on the fields of the West End Gun Club, following the first half which was held Saturday at the Capitol Gun Club. This novel shoot, sponsored jointly by the two clubs, was the first event of the kind ever staged in Atlanta, and drew a large attendance of well-known shooters, as well as a number of novices participating in their first registered tournament.

First honors on the combined two-day scores went to Dr. LeRoy Childs, with the fine score of 191x 200. He was closely pressed by Jack Tway, who finished with 190. In Class B, A. J. Orme was high gun, with 182, while runner-up place was taken by Mrs. J. C. Ellis with 170. Mrs. Ellis also won the special ladies' trophy. Class C was won by Bennett Hutchison, with a score of 159, and second place went to Bill McBride, who broke 149. The novice class was won by Dr. Jesse York, with the creditable score of 148. Bill Ward, another new shooter, came in second with 144. Professional honors were captured by Buddy Jones after a shoot-off with J. L. Franklin. Both of these experts had scores of 191, and Jones won the tie-breaking even 25 to 23.

In the special 50-target event sponsored by the General Wildlife Federation, the following were winners: Class A, "Cooza Joe" Daniels, after a coin toss to decide a tie with Dr. Childs; Class B, Mrs. J. C. Ellis; Class C, J. W. Cooper Jr.; Class D, Dr. Jesse York.

Following are complete scores in Sunday's shooting:

Amateurs—Dr. LeRoy Childs, 92; Jack Tway, 92; Clyde King Jr., 82; Benson Freeman, 80; A. J. Orme, 79; J. C. Ellis, 78; E. D. Smith Sr., 87; Ralph Mince, 85; Bennett Hutchison, 85; H. L. White, 85; Mrs. Mary Baldwin, 83; Bob Autrey, 82; Dr. Mason Baird, 81; Bill McBride, 78; Professional—Buddy Jones, 191; Cecil Cowan, 88; Braxton Blacklock, 85; Omar Elder Jr., 84; John Candler, 81; Professional—Buddy Jones, 191; J. L. Franklin, 95; Lon Davis, 87; H. C. Moore, 87, and, Dr. G. G. Gull, 87.

Farr Will Marry Former Showgirl

CHICAGO, March 20.—(UP)—Tommy Farr, British heavyweight prize fighter, and Ellen Wenzel, former showgirl, tonight announced plans to be married "within the next few months."

The announcement was made as the couple changed airplanes at municipal airport, en route from New York to Los Angeles.

Miss Wenzel said the marriage was set tentatively for November or December.

"We might make it sooner, though," she said.

Nils Granlund, brother-in-law of Miss Wenzel and master of ceremonies in a Chicago night club, said the couple met while en route to the United States on the steamship Normandie recently.

The comely Miss Wenzel won a $40,774 damage suit from Louis J. Ehret Jr., brewer here, two years ago after a four-year legal battle in which she charged her beauty was marred by an automobile accident while riding with Ehret.

(Editor's Note: Break o' Day is written today by Jack Troy, acting sports editor of The Constitution, pinch-hitting for Ralph McGill.)

SAVANNAH, March 20.—One of the real advantages of being manager of the Crackers for a day lies in being able to utilize the playing skill of the regular manager.

When Paul Richards, who is sports editor of a small Texas daily during the winter, consented to let the three Atlanta baseball writers run the Crackers Wednesday against the Savannah Indians, who will be directed by Savannah baseball writers, he had an idea he would sit back in the stands and watch the ignominious experience.

But that's now how it is going to be, by any means. It so happens that this writer is to be the manager for the first three innings.

Which means, as far as Manager Richards' playing is concerned, that he probably will catch, play first and possibly third base, too, before the three innings are up.

Richards has tried everybody else at first, but the thought never seemed to occur to him to try the position himself. We're going to find out how he can go at the initial sack.

Another fine advantage is being able to name your own batting order. And as far as this writer is concerned, Emil Mailho is going to move up a bit from the second slot.

Mailho's a fine bunter and all that, but there is a chance to utilize some of his batting ability to get runners across. So Jack Bolling, who can punt, will hit second, instead.

Here's the batting order for Wednesday—Marshall Mauldin, Bolling, Al Rubeling, Eddie Rose, Mailho, Johnny Hill, Buster Chatham and the pitcher. It will be Mister Moon even if it calls for pulling a few strings.

Jimmy Burns will have the club for the middle three innings and Guy Butler will pilot the boys in the last three. The writers must be on the coaching lines relaying signals, etc., when they aren't managing or, perhaps, mismanaging.

CHANCE FOR TRICKERY.

The first manager, if he is of a mind to do it, could use up all the pinch-hitters and the best pitchers. But, of course, no one would think of doing such a thing as that.

That would put the succeeding managers under a handicap.

Sports writers have been accused for years of trying to run baseball clubs, but this is the first time they actually have been designated to do so for a day.

And, believe me, a day will be enough.

MANN TO REPORT GAME.

President Earl Mann will turn writer for day. A lot of ambitions are being realized in this camp.

Mann will cover the game and keep the box score. And, of course, he can be as critical of the managing as he sees fit in his story.

"That's one of the greatest things that has ever happened to me," Mann said today. "There better not be any managerial mistakes."

CAN CHANGE UMPIRE.

On possible questionable decisions by the umpires, it may be necessary for one of the three managers to charge out and demand to know the reason.

And there is, of course, the bare possibility that one of the managers might be tossed right out of the park. They grow umpires pretty large down here.

A request that Guy Green be allowed to act as one of the umpires has been flatly turned down by W. D. McMillan and Walter Campbell, the Savannah managers for a day.

They suspect collusion, which, of course, hurts one deeply.

POLICE PROTECTION.

The writer-managers haven't overlooked many angles. In fact, they already have arranged for police protection.

Jumbo Barrett, the old Memphis catcher who is on the Savannah force, will act as a personal bodyguard.

If his legs were in shape, we might even consider using him as a pinch-hitter. But he has flat feet from walking a beat and he will be more valuable, anyway, wearing that blue uniform with the badge.

IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE.

There is one angle the writer-managers can't determine in advance. And that's the small matter of winning and losing.

It would be terrific to get beat by the Indians because, sooner or later, all three of us will have to go back to Atlanta. Before it's all over we may know just how Custer felt.

EDDIE ROSE'S PIGEON.

The pigeon Eddie Rose killed with a batted ball at Birmingham in 1935 has been stuffed and stands on a pedestal in the New Orleans baseball office. Rose and Chick Autry were discussing the incident the other day.

It wasn't a sharply hit ball, but a high fly just out of the infield. The shortstop and second baseman were

Continued in Second Sports Page.

Kirby Qualifies Today With Bauer, Dettweiler

By Dorothy Kirby.

FOREST HILLS, AUGUSTA, Ga., March 20.—Everything was rather quiet today, perhaps it was the lull before the storm. I practiced a little this morning and played this afternoon so I suppose I am as ready as I'll be for the qualifying round.

I qualify with Jean Bauer and Helen Dettweiler about 10 o'clock. Jean didn't play last week at Aiken so she drove in last night from Belleair, Fla. She has been playing well lately and is one of the favorites to win this tournament.

It looked as if it might rain today but the sun finally came through. Every year for some reason or other it seems to rain.

I hear Bob Jones got in this morning for the Masters' tournament. I am surprised to see how many people have already arrived to watch the Masters'.

Atlanta has four entries in the tournament this week. The representatives are Dorothy Sanford, Mrs. Brown, Mamma Keeler, and yours truly.

DOROTHY KIRBY.

QUALIFYING PLAY TO START TODAY IN AUGUSTA MEET

Dot Kirby Practices; McClosky Has One Under 78.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 20.—(P) Katherine McClosky, of Pittsburgh, bettered the card by 1 stroke today as the select field assembled by the eighth Augusta women's open golf tournament took a final tuneup preparatory to launching competition with an 18-hole qualifying round tomorrow.

Miss McClosky carded a 1-under 78 on the sun-drenched Forest Hills course to turn in the lowest score of the practice rounds. Dorothy Kirby, of Atlanta, southern titleholder, played nine holes but did not turn in her score.

Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd Howe, of Philadelphia, twice national champion and a former British titleholder, turned in an 84 to equal the figure she carded 11 years ago when she participated in the Forest Hills dedicatory match.

Club Professional Micky Gallagher said tonight many of his stars were unreported. Among the absentees was Mildred (Babe) Didrikson, of Beaumont, Texas, the only professional entered in the eighth renewal of the match play event, won last year by Marion Miley, of Lexington, Ky. Miss Miley did not enter this year due to an ankle injury she received in a fall during the Aiken tourney last week.

The field will play 18 holes daily through Friday, when the new champion will be determined.

Bobby Jones Cards 69 at Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 20.—(P) Bobby Jones, retired world champion, came to Augusta today to duplicate the subpar round he played Saturday at Atlanta's East Lake course.

Playing in a foursome with L. M. Maytag, of Springfield, Mass.; D. M. Tweedie, Chicago, and Milton Reach Jr., of Springfield, Jones carded rounds of 34-35 to shave 3 strokes off standard figures for the Augusta national layout.

His 68 for the East Lake course also represented a 3-under performance.

The Georgian will leave here tomorrow for Pinehurst, N. C., to be in attendance at the annual north and south open. He will return to Augusta Thursday.

Professional Willie MacFarlane, of Tuckahoe, N. Y., who defeated Jones in a playoff for the 1925 national open title, and Freddie Corcoran, P. G. A., tournament manager, both of whom arrived Saturday, left today for Pinehurst.

WRESTLERS DON GLOVES TONIGHT

Tiger Joe Feron and Sammy Miller, who have been feuding in local wrestling rings for the past few weeks, will resort to boxing gloves to settle their dispute tonight at the Spring Street arena.

Boxing isn't altogether new to them, for wrestling fans have seen these boys put over many a telling, albeit illegal punch in the course of a bout when the referee was not watching. Last week, however, these two boxed without gloves after their match had been declared a draw. No decision was reached. Therefore the challenge to a bout with boxing gloves. This innovation should provide no end of excitement for fans.

Seemingly Feron has the better of the situation, for he gained a fair reputation as a boxer before turning grappler. There will be no time limit to the bout with no time out between rounds. A kayo will be the only ending.

Larry Schaff, a newcomer from Idaho, will take on Red Dugan, Chattanooga terror, in the semi-final match. Chippewa Charlie, Indian grappler, encounters Dr. Ralph Smith, Jackson (Tenn.) bone specialist, in the opening one-fall match.

McPherson Pinmen Trounce McClellan

Fort McPherson defeated Fort McClellan at the Aniston temple tonight Saturday night, 4-13 to 3-84. The McPherson keggers won four of five games.

The best individual scores was a 226 by Kelly, of Fort McPherson.

There will be a return match in Aniston Saturday night.

Fort McPherson pinmen are seeking opponents in this vicinity.

Lodge To Honor Trammell Scott

Appreciation night for Major Trammell Scott, newly elected president of the Southern league, will be observed at 7:30 o'clock tonight by members of the Malta Lodge No. 641, F. & A. M., and their friends.

Tubby Walton, popular Atlanta sportsman, a nd Madison Vann, 12-year-old tenor, will take part in the program.

Oby Brewer, one of the Crackers' No. 1 fans, will be in charge of the program and has invited all Atlanta's baseball fans to be present.

SPORTS

Ralph McGill, Sports Editor
Jack Troy—Grantland Rice—Melvin Pazol—Roy White—Thad Holt—Kenneth Gregory

PAGE TWELVE THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., MONDAY, MARCH 21, 1938.

Horses Cost the Rajah $400,000--Has No Regrets

Called the greatest right-handed hitter of all time, Rogers Hornsby, former manager of the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Browns, is seeking a job, reportedly broke after 24 brilliant years in baseball. The Rajah, now 42, was a $400,000-per-year player for the Cubs, that being the highest figure ever paid a National leaguer. Fondness for playing the horses has cost him an estimated $400,000, in addition to jobs as pilots with the Browns and Cubs. He insists he has no regrets. Hornsby won the National league batting title seven times—six in succession. He never drank nor smoked and is in good playing condition today. Below is an interview with Hornsby.

Rogers Hornsby Still Seeking Baseball Job

Adrift After 24 Years in Game, Rajah Has No Regrets; Thinks Terry Best Manager.

By JACK CUDDY.

NEW YORK, March 20.—(UP)—The "Rajah" suffers no remorse. He imagined that Rogers Hornsby would be the saddest man in all baseball as the clubs buckled down to spring training without him. And he realized with poignant nostalgia that he was adrift, indeed, after 24 years in the organized game.

His position seemed particularly pathetic because of the contributions he had made to baseball as the game's greatest right-hand hitter and as a manager and because of the possibilities that he might have extended his managerial career in brilliant fashion.

Moreover, it was rumored about the circuit that the great Rajah, who once received $400,000 a season from the Cubs—largest player salary in National league history—was broke and seeking any kind of a connection with a club in any part of a league—that he had been seeking such a job since last June 22 when he was dismissed as manager of the St. Louis Browns.

FONDNESS FOR HORSES. Remember that dismissal? Hornsby admitted afterward that he had been fired from the Browns because of his fondness for playing the horses. That fondness had contributed to his previous dismissal as manager of the Cubs, and friends estimate that his penchant for the "gee-gees" caused him to fritter away at least $400,000 that he made out of baseball.

So I phoned Hornsby at Hot Springs, Ark., where he is chief instructor at Ray Don's school for youthful baseball aspirants. I asked Rogers if he were looking for a job with a ball club.

"Yes," he replied. "Certainly I'm looking for a job—but not with just any club. I'd like to get connected with a major league club, or with a minor club that had some chance of finishing in first division."

I wouldn't take a job with a minor club like Shreveport in the Texas league, for example, because I don't think I would be worth the investment to such a club. It wouldn't be doing justice to that kind of a club for me to take a job there. But I could help first division clubs a lot and they would get their money's worth out of me."

WOULD LIKE IT. I told Rogers I had heard reports that he might connect with the Minneapolis Millers of the American Association. "I haven't talked with Mike Kelley, who owns the Millers, since last fall," when Don Barnes asked him if he replied, "Sure, I'd like to join Minneapolis. I'd like to work with Kelley and Manager Donie Bush. Oh, I could fill in at any infield post."

"I'm in fine physical condition, now, after working with these boys here since February 23. I weigh about 195 pounds, and seem to be hitting well, too. Maybe I'm not as fast as I used to be, but you've got to expect that as you grow older. But I can still play good enough to help a lot of major outfits and most minor clubs."

What about the horses? Does the Rajah still play them, after all the trouble the bang-tails caused him?

"Yes, I admit I play the horses now and then. Why not? Is there any law against a ball player betting on the races? If there is, then about 95 per cent of the ball players are breaking the law. I bet on the races because I get a kick out of it. It's my only recreation, my only hobby or weakness. I never drank nor smoked. That's why I'm in such good condition today, approaching 42."

TERRY IS TOPS. Answering questions, Hornsby said he thought Bill Terry was the best all-around manager in the game today, and that ancient Connie Mack was the greatest man in the game. Also that Pete Alexander was the greatest pitcher he ever saw.

But the Rajah had no regrets as he went looking for a job, after losing a fortune on the horses—after winning the National league batting championship seven times, six in succession—after winning a pennant and World Series as pilot of the Cardinals. He suffered no remorse. And when Hornsby said it, I knew he was telling the truth. Because he was one man who never lied to anyone, not even when Don Barnes asked him if he still bet on the horses.

JOHN PEZZULLO ALLOWS INDIANS 1 HIT IN 4 FRAMES

Jim Trexler Pinch Hits for Evans in Eighth, Socks Homer.

By JACK TROY.

SAVANNAH, March 20.—The Crackers were on their best Sunday behavior today and all but chased the Savannah Indians into their tepees.

Opening up with a three-run attack against Siragusa in the first, the Crackers kept up the good work and touched two other Savannah hurlers, Walle and Rambert, for a total of 10 runs and 12 hits. The score today was Atlanta 10, Savannah 2. And the Crackers looked like somebody in the bargain.

John Pezzullo, the home-town idol, allowed his mates only one hit in four innings. Breezy Dean, who played third a bit for New Orleans last season, got the lone hit in the fourth.

Then Art Evans, arch enemy of Savannah fans, entered the game and was in fine form in all except the seventh inning. Nick Eiten and Hal Reitz bombarded him for successive home runs in the rightfield stands to give the Indians their only runs.

ANOTHER IN SEVENTH.

There was another hit, a single by Dace Davis, in the seventh, but Evans tightened down and retired the side.

There was a home run on the Cracker side. Jim Trexler, a left-handed batter, hit for Evans in the eighth and parked a long homer in the left field stands.

Bill Beckman finished the game for the Crackers, allowing two hits and no runs in the one inning he worked.

The three Cracker hurlers allowed only seven hits between them.

The play of the Crackers was sparkling today. It didn't matter what combinations Manager Richards used or outfield, the boys had the old pep and fire.

BOLLING STARS.

Jack Bolling, playing his first full game at first base, looked great. He makes tough chances look easy. Bolling handled 15 chances like a master.

Al Rubeling played splendidly at second and short and Warren Huston was a standout at second. He started one peach of a double play, the Crackers' first of the season.

Another nice thing about Bolling is that he can stretch out and take throws. Maybe he doesn't look as impressive as Hooks, but he is a dogged sight better fielder.

There was some very nice clutch hitting in the first and second innings. In the first, Rubeling socked a single to score Buster Chatham and Eddie Rose. And in the second, Buster doubled to send Bolling and Mailho chasing each other across the plate.

TWO HITS EACH. Chatham, Johnny Hill and Ross

Continued in Second Sports Page.

Cracker Box

ATLANTA—	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.
Rucker, cf	2	0	1	1	0
Mauldin, cf	2	1	1	2	0
Maitlio, rf	4	1	1	2	0
Huston, cf	3	1	1	2	0
Chatham, ss	3	1	2	0	3
Rose, 1b	4	2	1	2	0
Hill, 3b	4	2	2	0	1
Rubeling, 2b-ss	4	2	2	0	1
VanAntwerp, c	2	0	2	2	0
Richards, c	2	0	0	2	1
Bolling, 1b	2	2	0	1	0
Pezullo, p	1	0	0	0	1
Evans, p	1	0	0	0	3
Beckman, p	1	0	0	0	0
xxBenton	1	0	0	0	0
xxTrexler	1	1	1	0	0
Totals	35	10	12	27	14
xxBatted for Pezullo xBatted for Pezzullo in fourth.

xxBatted for Evans in eighth.

	A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M	N	O	P	Q
--	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

Yanks 1-to-2 Shots To Repeat---Doyle

UBS AND GIANTS AVORED AT 3-2 N SENIOR LOOP

etting Commissioner Thinks McCarthy's
Team Unbeatable.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 20. (P)—Jack Doyle, gray-haired and of Broadway betting commission, made a quick mental survey of latest reports from 16 American and National league training camps and issued "semi-final" odds for the coming season.

The New York Yankees, said Doyle who has been picking sports winners for 40 years, will be 1-to-2 odds to continue their American league supremacy and are the surest any club in baseball history ever has come to being a "ring."

In the senior circuit, Doyle saw the Yankees in the thick of the fight, but gave his cautious approval to Bill Terry's Giants and Chicago Cubs, which he figures will start the season at about 2 to 1.

Doyle said in his opinion the Yankees would win in a romp, won last year playing most of the season with 50 per cent of full strength, he pointed out, I should be unbeatable, and especially with Pitcher Charles Ruffing on hand to start the campaign.

NOT SO SERIOUS.
The minimized seriousness of Tony Lazzeri from the in, and said the Yankees have high reserve material to draw in to come up with a capable line.

The biggest battle in the American league, Doyle said, would be second place with the Yankees, Cleveland and the Chicago White Sox as the contenders for the runner-up position at 5 to 1.

In the second division, he figured the Boston Red Sox, with a lot of new talent, at 15 to 20, Connie Mack's Athletics and the Washington at 50 to 1, and the St. Louis Browns, probable cellar occupants, at 100 to 1.

The Giants, with Carl Hubbell, Cliff Melton to carry the load, Terry's mound corps, and the Yankees looked to Doyle like the team that would be battling for World Series call in the National league.

"DIZ" RIGHT ARM.
In the "dark horse" in the race said, will be St. Louis, whose past hopes will rest chiefly on right arm of Dizzy Dean.

And I have a feeling he is going to be all right; I think the season he had last year was what he needed," Doyle said. He rated the Cardinals and Brooklyn, "which will always be ends as long as the Waners around," tentatively at 4 to 1, and only other team he figured a chance of breaking into the division, if one of the first fitters, was Boston which he rated about 10 to 1. He set odds for Cincinnati and Brooklyn at 40 to 1 and for Philadelphia 60 to 1.

However, Doyle, who has been in a heart condition under Florida sun for the past three years, said he would have to wait until April 1, "because nothing can happen in baseball" before he makes final odds for two big league races.

Commercial League Will Meet Tonight

Atlanta Commercial league members will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight at 7:30 o'clock to plan for the coming baseball season.

In the absence of Dixieland, the league may have to wait until the Steelmen have enrolled. It is now enrolled are of equal strength but a few more are needed for the league can be closed. Interested teams are invited to attend.

ROME NINE DRILLS

ROME, Ga., March 20.—About 21 candidates for the Rome High school baseball team are scheduled to report Monday afternoon for their first practice session, Coach Quigg Tucker announced.

FLOR DE MELBA THE CIGAR SUPREME

5¢

Choose Your Style

No matter which you choose, you're getting double your money's worth. Flor de Melba and LONG IMPORTED tobacco—no matter which you choose, they'll be your choice every day.

SELECTO PANETELA BLUNT

4 Holes-in-One Sunk In Two Days Here

B. R. Headrich and George Sherrill Drop Tee Shots Yesterday; Probably Is Record.

Atlanta golfers probably set a record Saturday and Sunday when they carded four holes-in-one in the two days.

Yesterday afternoon B. R. Headrich and George Sherrill became members of the Dodo Club, which initiated Charlie Shropshire and L. S. Good Saturday.

Headrich sank his tee shot on the eighth hole of the No. 2 course at East Lake. The hole is 173 yards. He used a No. 3 wood in accomplishing the feat. His foursome included C. W. Lawson, Harry Paschal and J. S. Kemp.

Sherrill's hole-in-one came on the 11th hole at the Capital City course. He used a No. 7 iron to drop the ball into the 178-yard hole. He was playing in a foursome which included Mrs. Guy Carpenter.

Shropshire got an ace Saturday, his second, on the 18th hole at Capital City. Good's came on the 170-yard No. 3 hole at Forrest Hills.

Aiken and Johansen Tie at Forrest Hills
Two players tied for first place in the blind bogey tourney yesterday afternoon at Forrest Hills. They were E. D. Aiken and C. F. Johansen. They had a score of 71. Bill Pelot was second with a 78. Alf Branch was third with a 73.

Ed Reddy is leading the early qualifiers in the spring tournament with a score of 75. Alf Branch is next with a score of 77.

Five Share Prize in Ansley Bogey
Seventy-six was the lucky number in the Ansley Park blind bogey Sunday afternoon, and five hit it. They were R. F. Anderson, Horace Beck, W. N. Kennen, E. B. Taylor and Frank R. Beall.

Four Share Prize at Capital City
Four shared first place in the Capital City blind bogey Sunday afternoon with 71s. They were A. H. Sturges, P. G. Sanford, Dr. J. L. Pittman and John Westmoreland.

In second place with 72s were J. M. Calloway, W. D. Paulman, Dr. Fred Minnich, and Russell Bridges Sr., and Georgia Danour, with 70s.

250 Golfers Play East Lake Courses
Two hundred and fifty golfers turned out and played during the day at East Lake. Twenty-two foursomes participated in the weekly dogfight tournament. The winning foursome had a score of 123. They were Dr. A. O. Linch, J. P. Pullins, W. F. Turner and Joe Linch.

Three foursomes tied for second place with a score of 125. They were Harold Sargent, Hugh Burgess, Robert Ingram, Dr. T. E. McGeachy, P. G. Lombard, E. L. Thompson, J. J. McConnehey, J. P. Wilhoite, George Fogg, F. B. Quillian, W. H. Calhoun and Sam Thompson.

Four foursomes had a score of 126. They were Dan Yates, J. J. Nicholson, Carl Dinkler, Dan Johnson; Pete Barnes, George Elliott, L. W. Masten, M. S. Pixon; R. H. Hunter, R. P. Frazier, S. W. Rade, C. W. Carver; Billy Calley, A. P. McElroy, Chess Lagomarsino and C. H. Williams.

The next foursome had a score of 128. They were B. F. Guy, R. L. Williamson, W. C. Hill and Perry Jones.

Two foursomes had a score of 129. They were Dr. L. H. Kelly, Dr. H. P. McDonald, Dr. H. W. Ridley, J. S. Black; George Sargent, B. Barrett, Dr. J. R. Mitchell and George Bradford.

ROME NINE DRILLS
ROME, Ga., March 20.—About 21 candidates for the Rome High school baseball team are scheduled to report Monday afternoon for their first practice session, Coach Quigg Tucker announced.

The next foursome had a score of 128. They were B. F. Guy, R. L. Williamson, W. C. Hill and Perry Jones.

Two foursomes had a score of 129. They were Dr. L. H. Kelly, Dr. H. P. McDonald, Dr. H. W. Ridley, J. S. Black; George Sargent, B. Barrett, Dr. J. R. Mitchell and George Bradford.

ROME NINE DRILLS
ROME, Ga., March 20.—About 21 candidates for the Rome High school baseball team are scheduled to report Monday afternoon for their first practice session, Coach Quigg Tucker announced.

The next foursome had a score of 128. They were B. F. Guy, R. L. Williamson, W. C. Hill and Perry Jones.

Two foursomes had a score of 129. They were Dr. L. H. Kelly, Dr. H. P. McDonald, Dr. H. W. Ridley, J. S. Black; George Sargent, B. Barrett, Dr. J. R. Mitchell and George Bradford.

ROME NINE DRILLS
ROME, Ga., March 20.—About 21 candidates for the Rome High school baseball team are scheduled to report Monday afternoon for their first practice session, Coach Quigg Tucker announced.

The next foursome had a score of 128. They were B. F. Guy, R. L. Williamson, W. C. Hill and Perry Jones.

Two foursomes had a score of 129. They were Dr. L. H. Kelly, Dr. H. P. McDonald, Dr. H. W. Ridley, J. S. Black; George Sargent, B. Barrett, Dr. J. R. Mitchell and George Bradford.

Time Out! By Chet Smith

"Speaking of divots, this is the gentleman who uncovered the dinosaur at the Wideview Golf Course!"

In Big League Camps

FELLER BEATS HUBBELL.
NEW ORLEANS, March 20.—A rousing single from the out of Johnny McCarthy gave the New York Giants an 8-to-7 triumph over the Cleveland Indians before today.

McCarthy's single which scored Hank Lader was the final touch of a strenuous game. Bob Feller, the Tribe's mound ace, hooked up in a four-inning hurling duel with Carl Hubbell in the first four innings. He came out well ahead. The score was 4 to 0 in favor of the Indians when he left the game, after allowing two hits.

PHILLIES BEAT A's.
LAKE CHARLES, La., March 20.—The Phillies handed their Philadelphia City rivals, the Athletics, an 11-to-5 defeat today to even their exhibition series at one-all.

First baseman Earle Browne clouted a home run and Emmett Mueller, rookie second baseman, had three hits for the Phillies. Lou Finney rapped out four hits for the Athletics.

DOLPH CAMILLI REPORTS.
CLEARWATER, Fla., March 20.—Dolph Camilli, the Brooklyn Dodgers' new and expensive left-handed pitcher, reported today that he was in good shape.

Camilli, who was traded from the Philadelphia Phillies to the Brooklyn Dodgers, said he was in good shape and ready to start the season.

ENGEL ISSUES GILL ULTIMATUM.
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 20.—Joe Engel, the Chattanooga Lookouts' pitcher, issued an ultimatum today to the Braves, who were in the city for a game.

Engel, who was traded from the Chattanooga Lookouts to the Braves, said he was in good shape and ready to start the season.

KNOXVILLE IN LIGHT DRILL.
PALATKA, Fla., March 20.—Manager Neil Caldwell had his Knoxville Smokies out for less than 30 minutes today for a light drill.

Caldwell, who was traded from the Knoxville Smokies to the Cardinals, said he was in good shape and ready to start the season.

ORIOLES BEAT VOLS AGAIN.
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., March 20.—The Baltimore Orioles made it two straight over the Nashville Vols today, score 6 to 0, with the Tennessee club able to get only one hit.

Young Johnny Whitting and the veteran Sid Cohen led the Vols at the mercy through the nine innings. "Pepper" Dew, Nashville catcher, led the assault for his club with a pair of doubles.

GRISOM IN FINE FORM.
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., March 20.—The Cincinnati Reds' star pitcher, Lefty Grissom, pitched a fine game today, winning 6 to 0 over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Grissom, who was traded from the Cincinnati Reds to the Cardinals, said he was in good shape and ready to start the season.

ST. PETERSBURG IN FINE FORM.
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20.—Behind the brilliant pitching of Lefty Grissom and Charlie (Red) Ruffing, the New York Yankees defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 1 to 0, before 2,000 fans today in the exhibition series at two victories each.

The Yankees allowed only three hits. Grissom pitched a fine game, winning 6 to 0 over the Cardinals.

WORK, GREENBERG HOMER.
LAKELAND, Fla., March 20.—Rudy York and Hank Greenberg each drove the ball over the left field wall at the Detroit Tigers' exhibition game today, score 1 to 0.

The Senators got only one man past second base. Vern Kennedy, pitching the first time for the Tigers, allowed two hits in his three-inning workout.

BREAK O' DAY

Continued From First Sports Page.

going after the fly when it disappeared in a flock of pigeons and broke one of the bird's neck.

The second baseman almost caught the bird as it fell. The ball fell safely for a hit.

And as Rose reached first, Ray Clancy said, "You lucky so-and-so." They were talking about the incident and got so interested that Rose missed a hit-and-run sign from Autry, who was next up.

Autry hit a sharp grounder to the right of second and Rose was out because he hadn't started with the pitch.

"Can you imagine that silly Rose standing over there on first base counting his birds." Autry raved.

FEWER PLAYERS FOR JAX.
Bob Smith has taken only three instead of seven Cracker rookies for the Jacksonville team. Crowther Boyd, business manager, thought three would be enough at present.

The three are Jim Marsh, a right-hander; Darwin Cobb, Atlanta, a left-hander, and Ed Black, outfielder. Lowell Hammon, LaGrange right-hander, has been returned to the Newbern, N. C., club, which owns him.

The Jacksonville Tars get first call on all Atlanta players that are sent out, but Cordele and Gadsden will wind up with most of them. The Crackers have a lot of nice looking young players who need experience in Class D baseball.

RADIO PROGRAMS

Today's Hour by Hour Calendar

WGST, 890 Kc. WSB, 740 Kc. WAGA, 1450 Kc. WATL, 1376 Kc.

5:45 A. M.
WSB—Another Day; 5:50 Morning Merry-Go-Round.

6 A. M.
WGST—The Golden Star Boys; 6:15 Farm Market Review; 6:25 ATLANTA AND THE WORLD—NEWS BY WBS.

6:30 A. M.
WGST—Musical Sundial; 6:45 Musical Sundial; 6:55 Musical Sundial; 7:05 Musical Sundial.

7 A. M.
WGST—Musical Sundial; 7:15 Musical Sundial; 7:25 Musical Sundial; 7:35 Musical Sundial.

7:30 A. M.
WGST—Musical Sundial; 7:45 Musical Sundial; 7:55 Musical Sundial; 8:05 Musical Sundial.

8 A. M.
WGST—Musical Sundial; 8:10 ATLANTA AND THE WORLD—NEWS BY WBS.

8:30 A. M.
WGST—Musical Sundial; 8:45 Musical Sundial; 8:55 Musical Sundial; 9:05 Musical Sundial.

9 A. M.
WGST—Musical Sundial; 9:10 ATLANTA AND THE WORLD—NEWS BY WBS.

9:30 A. M.
WGST—Musical Sundial; 9:45 Musical Sundial; 9:55 Musical Sundial; 10:05 Musical Sundial.

10 A. M.
WGST—Musical Sundial; 10:10 ATLANTA AND THE WORLD—NEWS BY WBS.

10:30 A. M.
WGST—Musical Sundial; 10:45 Musical Sundial; 10:55 Musical Sundial; 11:05 Musical Sundial.

11 A. M.
WGST—Musical Sundial; 11:10 ATLANTA AND THE WORLD—NEWS BY WBS.

11:30 A. M.
WGST—Musical Sundial; 11:45 Musical Sundial; 11:55 Musical Sundial; 12:05 Musical Sundial.

12 NOON.
WGST—ATLANTA AND THE WORLD—NEWS BY WBS.

12:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 12:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

1 P. M.
WGST—News Thru a Woman's Eyes; 1:15 The Chuck Wagon.

1:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 1:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

2 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 2:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

2:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 2:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

3 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 3:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

3:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 3:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

3:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 3:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

4 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 4:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

4:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 4:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

4:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 4:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

4:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 4:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

5 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 5:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

5:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 5:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

5:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 5:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

5:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 5:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

6 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 6:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

6:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 6:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

6:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 6:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

6:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 6:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

7 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 7:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

7:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 7:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

7:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 7:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

7:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 7:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

8 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 8:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

8:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 8:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

8:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 8:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

8:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 8:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

9 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 9:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

9:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 9:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

9:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 9:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

9:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 9:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

10 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 10:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

10:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 10:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

10:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 10:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

10:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 10:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

11 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 11:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

11:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 11:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

11:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 11:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

11:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 11:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

12 M. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 12:05 The Sidewalk Snappers.

12:05 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 12:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

12:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 12:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

12:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 12:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

12:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 12:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

1 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 1:05 The Sidewalk Snappers.

1:05 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 1:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

1:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 1:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

1:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 1:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

1:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 1:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

2 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 2:05 The Sidewalk Snappers.

2:05 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 2:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

2:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 2:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

2:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 2:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

2:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 2:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

2:55 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 3:05 The Sidewalk Snappers.

3 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 3:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

3:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 3:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

3:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 3:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

3:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 3:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

3:55 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 4:05 The Sidewalk Snappers.

4 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 4:15 The Sidewalk Snappers.

4:15 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 4:25 The Sidewalk Snappers.

4:30 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 4:45 The Sidewalk Snappers.

4:45 P. M.
WGST—The Chuck Wagon; 4:55 The Sidewalk Snappers.

THE GUMPS—ANDY GETS OFF ON THE WRONG FOOT

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—FIGHTING WORD

MOON MULLINS—WILLIE'S HAT'S OFF TO MAMIE

DICK TRACY—SEA BATTLE

JANE ARDEN—The Bird Has Flown

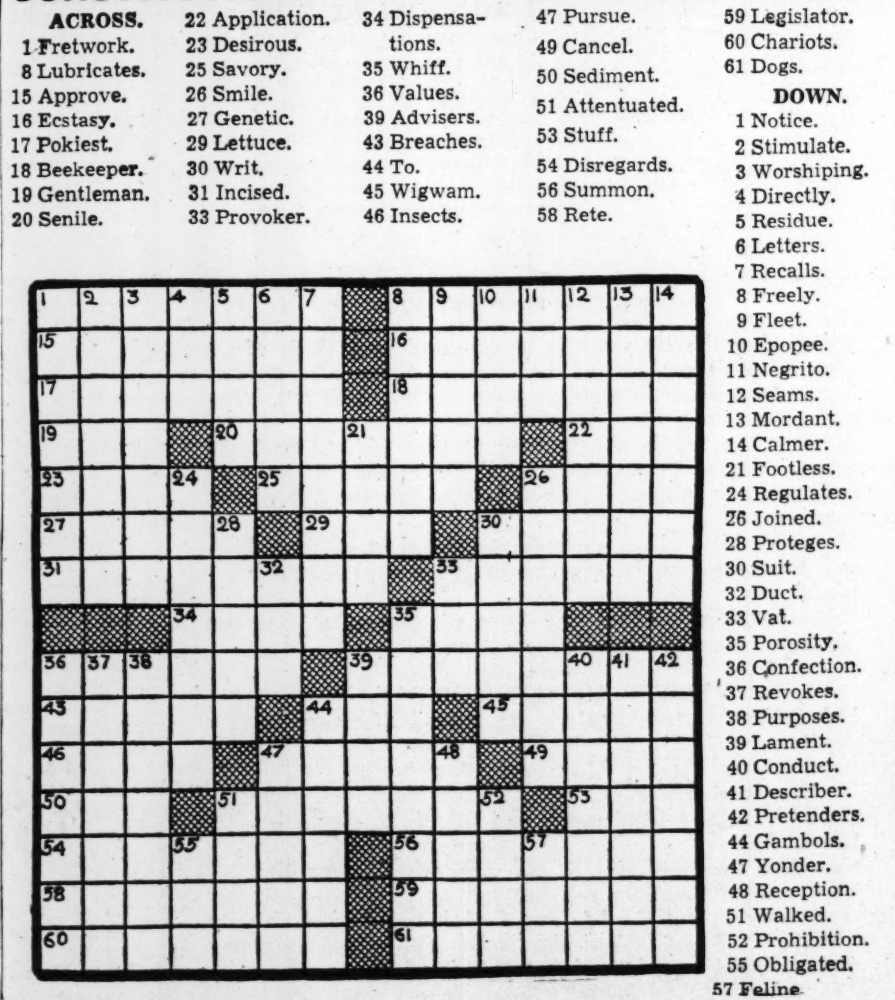

By Monte Barrett and Russell Ross

SMITTY—HE'S RIDING HIGH

CONSTITUTION'S DAILY CROSS WORD PUZZLE

THE GROOM WAS SHY

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY

INSTALLMENT I.

Marlborough Jones stood in front of the radio doing his morning setting up exercises. No one watching him would have said his heart was in his work. But his mother, bustling in from the kitchen where she had been pressing a dress, paused to remark wondrously:

"Marlborough, don't overdo it now. Exercise is all right, but it must be taken lightly. You don't want to get an athletic heart. Easy now, dear."

"Okay, mom," Marlborough promptly gave it up and sat down in the big easy chair.

Mama Jones shook her head. "You're a dear boy, junior, and a great comfort to your mother. But don't you think we'd better say 'All right, mother,' next time?"

"Sure! I guess I'm just a rough-neck, mother."

"Don't say that about yourself, even in jest," Mrs. Jones reproved him seriously. "You are the most perfect gentleman in this town, Marlie, and I don't care who hears me say it. What other mother do you know who could go away for a week and trust her 18-year-old son alone in the house and just KNOW he is obeying her every wish as though she were there?"

"But, mother," Marlborough reminded her, "you've never left me alone before. Don't be so sure the old cat's away, the mice play."

Mrs. Jones patted him affectionately. "Don't tease your mother now, Marlborough. You might get me all worried. Then I'm sure I shouldn't be able to make a proper speech at the convention. Dear me, I must hurry! The train is due in an hour. Come up and help me close my bag, darling."

Marlie rose and stifled a yawn. His mother bustled ahead of him, talking over her shoulder.

"Remember now, Marlborough, not to go to bed without your tepid bath, but don't get it too warm. It's weakening and hard on the nervous system. And please be very sure the water in the lake is warm enough if you go in swimming. Don't go in after a big meal or you might get cramps. Dear me, I am going to worry about you, lamblie. You've always had your mother to do everything for you. How are you going to manage?"

"I can remember," Marlie gave her a reassuring pat. "It isn't as though I hadn't done the same things every day for 18 years. They're habit, now, mother. I'd just do them automatically, like a robot."

Mrs. Jones had to stand on tip-toe to kiss her only offspring. She did so, tearfully.

"I know, my precious. But I'm going to ask Judy to run in every day and straighten up a little bit for you; make your bed and dust. I'm sure she'd be glad to do it."

Marlie showed his first sign of disapproval.

"Oh, mother, don't bother Judy. I can do it myself. I'll be all right."

"Well, Judy can come over and sort of inspect for you then. You've never made a bed in your life, Junior. She smiled with affectionate amusement. 'I'd just like to see the house after you'd taken care of it for a week!'

From long force of habit, Marlborough let the matter drop, with an inward sigh. But he didn't like to have Judy Miller coming in and cleaning up the house for him when she had to work in her father's drug store all day and evening. She had enough to do.

Marlie sat on the suitcase and his mother snapped the lock. Mrs. Jones put on her hat, a worried frown between her eyes.

"AUNT HET"

By ROBERT QUILLIN.

"Now, Gram, Judy said soothly. 'Marlie isn't a nitwit, even if his mother does seem to give that impression. I'm sure he'll get through the week without wearing us out.'

"Us! The grandmother sniffed. "Don't include me on his nursing staff. He can starve for all I care. The big ninny!"

"He isn't a ninny," Judy de-

UNCLE RAY'S

+ Corner +

FACTS ABOUT THE PACIFIC.

When I left Yokohama, I started upon a non-stop voyage across the north Pacific. The trip to British Columbia is about 4,300 miles long, and usually takes from nine to 12 days.

Many liners go by a southward route in order to call at Hawaii. I wanted to visit Hawaii, but gave up the plan to save time. With a stop at Hawaii, a trip to North America takes several days longer.

Among the interesting animals of the Pacific are flying fish. A view of one of them, from above, is shown.

Hawaii is famous for two active volcanoes—Mauna Loa and Kilauea. These volcanoes have poured forth thousands of tons of lava, and have helped build up the island, which is one of a dozen islands in the Hawaiian group.

Like some other islands of the Pacific, Hawaii arose from the bottom of the sea. Lava broke forth at the sea bottom, and became hard rock. Later eruptions built up a mighty cone, and in the course of the ages it rose above the water surface.

The eruptions kept on happening, and today a mountain Hawaii rises more than two and a half miles above sea level. The height of this volcanic mountain from the sea bottom to the top of the highest peak, is close to six miles.

There are so many other islands, and island groups, in the Pacific that it would take hundreds of words just to give names. The East Indies, New Zealand, the Philippines and the lands of Japan are the best known.

Near the island of Mindanao (the Philippine group) is what is called "the deepest spot in the world." The water there is more than six and a half miles deep. It is about half a mile deeper than the extremely deep part of the main island of Japan. The bottom of the Pacific rolls very much like dry land. There are places in mid-ocean where under-water mountains nearly to the surface.

The depth of the Pacific ocean if we take a general average about two and a half miles. It is half a mile deeper than average depth of the Atlantic.

(For Travel Section of scrapbook.)

The leaflet "Famous Cities of Europe" may be had by sending a 3c stamped, return envelope in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Tomorrow—Magellan's Voyage.

(Copyright, 1938, for The Constitution.)

THE CONSTITUTION

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Information

CLOSING HOURS

Want Ads are accepted up to 9 p. m. for publication the next day. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

LOCAL CLASSIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:

One time	27 cents
Three times	20 cents
Seven times	18 cents
Thirty times	14 cents

10% Discount for Cash

Minimum: 2 lines (11 words).

In estimating the space to an ad figure 5 average words for first line and 6 average words for each additional line.

Ads ordered for three or seven days and stopped before expiration will only be charged for the number of times they appeared and adjustments made at the rate named.

Errors in advertisements should be reported immediately. The Constitution will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.

All want ads are restricted to their proper classification and the advertiser is responsible for right to revise or reject any advertisement.

Ads ordered by telephone are accepted on personal list. The advertiser or city directory on memorandum charge must return for this courtesy the advertiser is expected to return promptly.

To Phone An Ad

Call Walnut 6565

Ask for an Ad-Taker

Railroad Schedules

Schedule Published as Information

(Central Standard Time)

TERMINAL STATION

Yes—A. & W. P. R. R.—Leaves

pm Montgomery-Selma 6:20 am

pm Montgomery-Selma 7:50 am

pm Montgomery-Selma 9:00 am

pm Montgomery-Selma 1:00 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 2:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 4:00 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 5:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 7:00 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 8:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 10:00 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 11:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 12:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 1:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 2:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 3:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 4:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 5:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 6:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 7:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 8:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 9:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 10:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 11:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 12:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 1:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 2:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 3:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 4:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 5:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 6:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 7:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 8:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 9:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 10:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 11:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 12:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 1:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 2:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 3:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 4:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 5:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 6:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 7:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 8:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 9:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 10:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 11:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 12:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 1:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 2:30 pm

pm Montgomery-Selma 3:30 pm

TARZAN THE FEARLESS

No. 49

When Tarzan heard those excited shouts, he knew that something was amiss in the Zambesi village. Perhaps the brutal tribesmen had chosen this dark hour to kill the white captives whom he sought to aid. This possibility stimulated him to a fresh burst of speed...

But long before Tarzan reached the village, Jeff Biggers was embarking on the sinister scheme which he hoped would bring death to Tarzan, Dr. Brooks and Bob Mason, and thus leave him free to win Mary and the fabulous emeralds. Boldly he left the prison hut.

He had nothing to fear, for his "escape" with Mary had been arranged with Kagundo and his warriors. He gave a signal to the guards before the prison huts. They feigned sleep. Jeff entered Mary's hut quietly. "Quick," he breathed, "the guards sleep. Let's go!"

With exaggerated caution Jeff led the girl out into the still air. So far all was well. Then a horrible thought assailed him. Suppose Kagundo were tricking him, playing with him as a cat plays with a mouse! Suppose the warriors should spring up and seize them!

BUSINESS SERVICE

Need a Specialist?

Advertisers in this classification are capable of furnishing almost any specialized service required in business or the home—consult with them when in need of expert craftsmen.

Bed Renovating

YOUR old mattress will make you pay for a new one. Call Mr. Melvin J. A. 2067.

ATLANTA'S OLDEST RENOVATORS

TRIUMPH TRUSS CO., MA. 2983.

SUPERIOR Mattress Co., Inner-spring mattresses, day service. HE. 9274.

Carpentering, Brick Work

A-1 CARPENTERING, brick and cement work, 50c per hour. Mason, HE. 7334.

Cleaning, Calcimining, Plastering

ROOMS tinted, $3. Materials furnished. Low prices, guaranteed work. Bass Furniture Co., WA. 5123.

Cleaning, Tinting, Plastering

ROOMS tinted, $1.50; paper, $2; paper hanging, $1.50. Enoch, RA. 1004.

Electric Wiring

C. A. PUCKETT—PROMPT, RELIABLE SERVICE. 18 ROSWELL RD., CH. 3622.

Floors

OLD floors made new with elastic sanding milk; paper, paint, repairs. JA. 2217.

Furniture Repairing.

REPAIRING, refinishing, upholstering. Low prices, guaranteed work. Bass Furniture Co., WA. 5123.

Furniture Upholstering

3-Pc. living rm. suite, $15; money-back guarantee. Charles Bagley, Chas. Cobb Furniture Co., JA. 1136 and 9078.

General Repairing

ROOFING, painting, papering, general repairing at low cost. Estimates free. Terms arranged. W. S. Stroud, RA. 1005.

Lawn Mowers Sharpened

LAWN MOWERS, hand saws, cross-cut saws and all wood saws and knives sharpened and repaired.

Locksmith and Keys

LAWN mowers, saws and saws, cutters sharpened and repaired.

ATLANTA KEY SHOP

11-A FORSYTH ST., N. W.

Mail us your locks and keys. Safe, gun and locksmith, bank and factory work. Ref. JA. 3177.

Painting, Tinting and Papering

RMS tinted, $1.50; paper, $2; cleaning, $1.50; painting, A. Brown, RA. 8433.

Pen and Pencil Service

PEN AND PENCIL SHOP. S. M. Stewart, 106 P'tree-115 Arcade.

Piano Tuning

Expert and Reliable Piano Tuning. Jesse French Co., 106 in Atlanta.

Plumbing Supplies

WHOLESALE, retail, buy direct. 197 Central S. W. Pickett Plumb. Dist. Co.

Printing

Business Printing to Order. Matthews Ptg. Co., 305 Marietta, JA. 1050.

Radio Repairs

JAMES, INC., WA. 5775. Repairs to all makes radios and Victorias. MA. 5400.

Roofing

CHAS. N. WALKER ROOFING CO. "We top em all" 141 Houston, WA. 5747.

Roofing, Painting, Papering

SPECIAL price. Work guaranteed. 30 years exp. W. S. Stroud, RA. 1292.

Roofing and Repairing

WE STOP LEAKS. PAY AFTER RAIN ONLY. Smith Roof Repair Co., MA. 2648.

Rug Cleaning

Better Rug Cleaning and Repairing. SHARON RUG CLEANERS, DE. 5190.

Wall Papering and Painting

WALLPAPERING, $3 room up, painting, $1.50. Call Davonport, RA. 4879.

Window and House Cleaning

Nat. Window Cln. Co., Inc. Floors waxed. Walls, woodwork cleaned. JA. 2100.

Water Pumps

ELECTRIC pumps. Rams, Light pumps. Sales and service. R. H. 3537.

EDUCATIONAL

Coaching

Hurst Dancing School. SAMPLE lesson free. Regular dance Wed. Sat. P'tree at North Ave. HE. 9226.

Instructions

COACHING English, math, Latin, A. F. Nace, WA. 4449.

EMPLOYMENT

Help Wanted—Female 30

4 CULTURED ladies of excellent appearance, between 20 and 40, only with some resident schooling experience for local crew. Transportation furnished and surprising earnings assured. 42 Rhodes Building.

STUDY BUSINESS

Greenleaf School of Business, MA. 7800.

Help Wanted—Male 31

LARGE concern can use several neat young men for jobs made vacant through promotion. Exp. unnecessary. Good pay. Chance to travel. Apply before 9:30 a. m., 204 Bona Allen Bldg.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578.

WANTED—A-1 retail baker. Good salary. State age, present salary and experience. Write Goodie's Bakery, 1617 Main St., Jacksonville, Fla. 2578

